Berrien Marriage Licenses Hit 17-Year Low

By JIM DeLAND
Assistant City Editor

Are the traditional concepts of getting married and raising a family going out of style in Berrien county?

That conclusion is suggested by a continuing decline in the number of marriages and legitimate births and a corresponding increase in the number of divorces and illegitimate births.

The number of marriage licenses issued by Berrien County Clerk Forrest H. Kesterke in 1975 is the lowest in 17 years, while the number of legitimate births recorded last year is the smallest since the end of World War II.

In the past five years alone, the number of marriage licenses issued in Berrien county has declined 29.3 per cent and the number of legitimate births has dropped 28.2 per cent.

During the same period, the number of divorces granted in Berrien Circuit court has increased more than 30 per cent and the number of illegitimate births recorded in the county has risen some 25 per cent.

According to provisional statistics from the Michigan Department of Public Health, one of every four children born in Berrien county last year was illegitimate.

Kesterke says the decline in marriage licenses can be traced to several factors, but that "a change in moral thinking certainly has contributed."

"Marriage is getting a little bit out of date with some segments of the population."

Kesterke adds that there has been a marked decline in the number of marriage licenses issued to out-of-staters in recent years, and suggests several contributing factors:

— Surrounding states have revised their laws to permit males to marry at the age of 18 without parental consent, as is the case in Michigan.

— The Michigan legislature several years ago hiked the cost of marriage licenses for out-of-state applicants from $3 to $15 while raising in-state fees only from $3 to $5.

— Higher gas prices and a resulting reduction in travel.

"We still get a lot of out-of-state applicants," Kesterke says, "but they aren't flocking in here the way they used to."

Whatever the reasons, the total of 1,779 marriage licenses issued in Berrien county last year is the lowest since 1958, when 1,504 were issued, and almost 38 per cent below the all-time record of 2,889 established in 1972.

The total of 2,889 legitimate births recorded in 1975 is the lowest since 1945, when only 2,085 were recorded, and is almost 37 per cent below the record of 3,758 in 1957.

Illegitimate births, recorded by the Michigan Department of Public Health in Lansing, rose in Berrien county from 494 in 1970 to 620 in 1974 — a jump of 25.5 per cent.

Final figures are not yet available for 1975, but a nine-month tally of 466 illegitimate births indicates that the 12-month total will be similar to the previous year.

Divorces, which account for 37 per cent of the Circuit court caseload in Berrien county, have been rising steadily and took a substantial jump in 1972 after the "no-fault" divorce law went into effect, according to presiding Circuit Judge Julian H. Hughes.

Courts Administrator William Evans says the number of divorce cases disposed of in Berrien county rose from 892 in 1970 to 1,177 last year — a jump of almost 32 per cent.

A study conducted by Deputy Court Clerk Mary Jo Burns indicates that divorce decrees actually were granted in 85 per cent of the cases filed.

Judge Hughes also says that the number of divorce suits going to trial, has increased sharply and that the distribution of property is the "real issue" in most of these trials.

"Under no-fault, divorce is almost automatic," Hughes says, "and this encourages the parties involved to be unreasonable about property matters."

Throughout recent years, only death had remained fairly constant among vital statistics in Berrien county.

The 1975 total of 1,455 deaths represents a drop of only 3.9 per cent in the past five years and is only 13.9 per cent under the all-time high of 1,591 recorded in 1968.

Milliken Asks Property Tax Sharing

State Message Proposal Would Give Aid To Detroit

By MALCOLM JOHNSON

Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken proposed today a regional program in southeastern Michigan which would channel tax money from growing communities to Detroit and other stagnating cities.

The "tax base sharing" proposal was the highlight of Milliken's State of the State message which bore a tone of frugality and sacrifice in state government and Michigan itself.

But Milliken described the state of Michigan as "basically good, and getting better," despite his theme of austerity.

"We are going to need restraints the likes of which you and I have not seen in this capitol," Milliken told the state legislature. "But I want to emphasize that constraints on spending need not mean constraints on creativity."

Clearly, the tax base sharing concept was the main item of "creativity" in Milliken's message. It is used only one other place in the nation — Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The proposal is an attempt to shore up the declining tax base of Detroit and curb "white flight" to the suburbs. It would force all communities in the seven-county area to share the growth of the tax base in expanding municipalities.

Tax money would be funneled from a growing community to one which had ceased to grow in attempts to equalize tax bases, help provide better services and attract industry back to stagnating areas.

The proposal is expected to become one of the hardest-fought and most controversial pieces of legislation of the year, with opposition expected from growing, well-to-do communities.

Among other specific proposals, the governor called for approval of a "total transportation fund" to revise financing of transportation. It would be based on several sources of funding, rather than "user" fees such as gas and weight taxes, and would guarantee funding for all levels of government.

Milliken wants the entire nine-cent-per-gallon gasoline tax plus other currently earmarked funds, such as on diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees, to go into a single general transportation fund. The governor and legislature would determine how much of the money would be spent on highways, rail lines, airport modernization, harbor enlargement, and mass transit.

Two years ago Milliken was successful in getting one-half cent of the gas tax diverted to mass transit, but only after a severe legislative fight. Milliken aides now think mass transit and diversion of highway funds are more acceptable, because outstate opposition of two years ago is interested in saving rail lines. The governor also called for minimum mandatory sentences for those convicted of violent crimes or for illegal possession of concealed weapons. And he said he would submit proposals to adopt a uniform sentencing provision requiring such minimum prison terms.

Penalties for marijuana possession should be reduced so "we might be able to devote a greater share of our limited crime resources to the fight against hard drugs and other crimes," Milliken said. He added he still opposes legalization of marijuana "until substantive medical fact can be ascertained concerning its safety."

While Milliken had other proposals for new programs, the tone of his message was austerity and financial restraint. "We are entering a year not only of hard decisions — but also of real sacrifices," he said.

He called for reduced government costs and a tighter definition of what is essential as a way of living within Michigan's means. As promised, he said he would not propose any new tax increases.

"Now is no time to add to the burdens of individual taxpayers," he told lawmakers. "Now is no time to add to the tax burdens of business. The condition of Michigan's economy, rebounding as it is from the most serious downturn since the depression, is so

Patty Says Psychiatrist 'Bullied' Her

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst, taking the witness stand 12 days before her trial for bank robbery, has accused a government psychiatrist of bullying her to a point of tears with pointed questions about the holdup and her terrorist companions.

"He asked me if I felt proud about robbing a bank and I said 'no.' Everything was like an accusation," the newspaper heiress said in a clear but soft voice. "He didn't care what I said or didn't say."

The special pretrial hearing was called Wednesday to determine whether the psychiatrist, Dr. Harry Kozol of Boston, would be permitted to continue his examination of Miss Hearst.

One of Miss Hearst's attorneys, Al Johnson, characterized Kozol as an "FBI interrogator." He said he ended the jail examination after Kozol's questions forced Miss Hearst to leave the room in tears.

"I said he was an interrogator, and that the FBI had enough interrogators," Johnson related.

Kozol was scheduled to take the stand for continuation of the hearing today. He declined comment after Wednesday's hearing when asked about Miss Hearst's allegations.

Kozol is one of several psychiatrists for both sides who have examined the heiress in preparation for her Jan. 26 trial on federal bank robbery charges.

Since her arrest four months ago, the 21-year-old Miss Hearst had made no public statements prior to Wednesday's hearing. A murmur of surprise rolled through the nearly filled courtroom when chief defense attorney F. Lee Bailey called her to the witness stand.

The sometimes tense three-hour hearing saw Miss Hearst recount in detail an examination

How 'Share Wealth' Plan Would Work

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has dropped a "share the wealth" program on the legislature that promises to lighten stagnant cities and scare wealthy ones.

Milliken's "tax base sharing" idea should be every bit as controversial as his Single Business Tax was last year. And it is likely to generate as much criticism and opposition in the legislature.

Gerald Miller, its author and director of the Department of Management and Budget, called it a "sound, responsible program to deal with local problems."

He said it has "nothing to do with regional government," stressed it would not diminish legal powers of local governments, and declined to say it is intended to curb "white flight" from Detroit to the suburbs.

The program, if passed by the legislature, would affect communities in Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Monroe, Livingston, Washtenaw and St. Clair counties. It would be mandatory for that area, although other metropolitan regions in the state might be encouraged to adopt the same scheme.

Under the program, the communities within the region would share the increase in the tax base in the growing communities. The tax base at issue would be made up of commercial and industrial growth, not including residential growth.

For example, a city whose tax base grew 10 per cent in one year would be able to tax about half that growth. The other half would be put in the regional pot, and the pot would be divided by formula, with more going to poorer cities and less to wealthier ones.

The city which had not grown — or had in fact seen its tax base shrink — would be able to levy its tax not only on its own base but on part of its growing neighbor's.

The result, Miller says, would be more money for the stagnant city and, in time, incentive for it to lower its tax rate. That, in turn, would encourage industry to move back in as tax rates equalized throughout the area.

He said the scheme would not help just Detroit but suburban communities which had nearly reached their limit of growth — such as Ferndale, Royal Oak and Berkley.

Its proponents hope it will end one community's success in attracting business with low taxes — at the expense of its neighbors, which provide services for employees of the business.

Miller said the project would involve more than $1 billion in tax base, with more than $100 million in tax money put in the pot to share.

But can such a proposal win legislative approval?

"I don't want to minimize that it would be a tough bill to pass," said Patrick Babcock, Milliken's legislative lobbyist. "But I think a coalition can be put together."

Miller said the bill has the support of Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, the extremely influential ex-speaker who specializes in urban legislation.

Byrns commented from the bench: "In the some 140 years in the history of Berrien county some horrible crimes have been committed."

"Your double, first-degree murders however, will go down in the books as the most brutal, planned, heartless and savage killings in our county's history."

"The cold-blooded, deliberate slaughter, first of a young mother and then of her terrified little son, and leaving their bodies to decay in a ditch on a lonely country road shows a viciousness, a wickedness and an evilness of mind and heart that demands you never be free again in any society as long as you live."

If At First You Don't Score, Try Another Lawyer

Many clients look upon their attorneys through the same spectacles as patients frequently estimate their doctors.

If the professional does not tell the customer what he wants to hear, then the latter switches lawyers or medics. Charles Freeman Joseph, Benton Harbor's mayor, is doing just that.

His hand-picked city attorney, Yvonne Hughes, has declared a move to pay His Honor $25,000 a year, plus some travel, insurance and expense fringes, and to raise the city commissioners' weekly stipend from $5 to $40 is out of bounds so far as the city charter goes.

It takes courage on her part to level the legal ball bat at the mayor's financial aspirations because Atty. Hughes holds her job as a political appointee and Joseph controls a majority on the commission. Occupationally speaking, she is an endangered species.

It also requires some incisive research and thinking on her part since there is a fairly recent state statute indicating that under certain circumstances municipal charter limitations may not apply.

Banking heavily on that grey area in the law, Joseph persuaded the city fathers on Monday night to seek the views of a private lawyer practicing in Benton Harbor and those of the Michigan attorney general.

While it is speculating as to whether Frank Kelley's office at Lansing will intervene in what basically is a locally circumscribed disagreement on the law and if so, how quickly, it is a safe bet the private report will come on fast and in contravention of what Atty. Hughes says is the right of things.

Besides this interpretive argument with His Honor which she expects to lose, Atty. Hughes has a more active legal formation trooping up to the battle line.

Yesterday her counsel filed a demand on Joseph to retract a statement made at a recent commission meeting strongly implying she had collected an unauthorized $500 expense account voucher.

The demand for a retraction under Michigan law is preliminary to suing in slander for punitive as well as actual damages to the claimant's reputation. Unless withdrawn, the original statement can serve as the basis for a money award higher than that given for actual loss.

His Honor in all probability is on sounder footing here than with his salary desires. He aired the charge before an official meeting of the commission, and the courts pretty uniformly hold this is privileged behavior in the course of conducting public affairs.

Entertaining as the legal posturing may be, it totally obscures the more basic premise of elected officials maneuvering to sweeten their pocketbooks from a threadbare city treasury.

If state and federal funding were deleted from the municipal budget, Benton Harbor would be stone broke.

Without even debating the value of a mayor's services, the propriety of inflating it from $5 a week for each commission meeting attended to $25,000 a year, plus fringes, is out of the question in light of Benton Harbor's financial circumstances.

The only justification is the wobbly proposition that, as a full time mayor, Joseph can fill the function of the city manager cut loose from the payroll on December 31st and therefore is simply transferring that salary to his pocketbook.

He has tried twice unsuccessfully to legalize that ratiocination through amending the charter which says the mayor's function is to preside at commission meetings and a city manager is to be hired to run the day to day affairs.

That's the way the charter has read and been construed, but then as His Honor snorted at Atty. Hughes' conclusions on the pay increases, "Every attorney you talk to will give you a different opinion on some things. We have to find out."

Sellers Abuse Food Stamps

As if food stamp scandals at the users end have not been serious enough, the first serious audit of food stamp sellers have revealed shortcomings at that end as well. Of 14,000 authorized food stamp outlets in the country, only 18 audit results have been released.

These 18 locations together accounted for $8.8 million in improper or illegal procedures in handling of the funds collected. In some instances the infraction was a relatively minor one not adhering to the rule to deposit receipts of $1,000 or more in banks within 24 hours of collection.

Other irregularities are more serious. Some of the sellers have used food stamp income to underwrite their business operating expenses; in other cases, the funds simply disappeared.

What is most disturbing is the size of the fund irregularities in only 18 of 14,000 outlets audited. If that average follows through on the rest of the audit, a new outcry over food stamp abuses is assured.

Boston School Panel Will Appeal To Supreme Court

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston School Committee says it will ask the U.S. Supreme Court to reverse a lower court ruling upholding the court-ordered plan for integration of the city's public schools.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, accusing committee members of "resistance, defiance and delay," upheld every aspect of the busing program ordered last May by U.S. District Court Judge W. Arthur Garrity.

School Committee Chairman John J. McDonough said he was "extremely disappointed" with the decision of the three-judge panel and said he would petition the high court within the next 90 days to hear an appeal.

"It was our feeling Judge Garrity had overstepped his bounds in the remedies he prescribed," McDonough said.

He said he thought the judge had involved himself improperly in purely educational issues that went beyond the desegregation plan.

"I feel the court of appeals walked right up to the question, looked it right in the eye and walked away," he added.

In its 51-page decision, the appeals court said, "The overriding fact of the matter is that the district court in this case had to deal with an intransigent and obstructionist school committee majority. These elected officials engaged in a pattern of resistance, defiance and delay."

McDonough countered, "This has not been an obstructionist school committee in that we followed Judge Garrity's order. But he wanted us to go beyond that. No other city has been asked to do that."

The second year's integration plan, which called for the busing of 21,000 of the system's 80,000 pupils, has been the subject of pupil boycotts and occasional violence, usually in white neighborhoods.

Chief Judge Frank M. Coffin, who wrote the court's opinion, praised Garrity for his "care and imagination" in drawing up "a diversified educational system offering superior opportunities for children, both white and black."

"The plan is not a mechanical device to ensure that the races share equally, but serves its constitutional goals within a framework offering educational hope for the children of the city."

The court rejected the argument that Garrity should have taken the threat of "white flight" into consideration before ordering cross-city busing.

The court responded that when the Constitution demands that violated rights be enforced, it can create social problems.

"It inconveniences, sometimes substantially, law enforcement officers, prison wardens, university administrators and government bureaucrats," the court said.

U.S. Extends Label Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department officially announced today that consumers will continue to see labels claiming that meat products such as sausage and ham are "pure" for another six months, despite a Jan. 1 deadline for removing them from retail shelves.

Department officials disclosed on Dec. 31 that the deadline would be extended to allow processors more time to use up old labels. The new label rule was adopted by the department on Dec. 5, 1974.

Ford's Cronies Next To Go

WASHINGTON — Now that the furor over his Cabinet shake-up has quieted, President Ford is planning to use his broom on his own White House staff.

The President appears to be trying to streamline his operation to face the Reagan threat by clearing out some of the old cronies he brought to the White House, more for their loyalty than their expertise. Nearly a year and a half after his swearing-in, the President remains surrounded by men he knew when he was House minority leader and by former Nixon appointees.

The current effort to revamp his staff seems to be belated recognition of criticism from moderate GOP politicians that he needs to expand his circle of advisers.

The most obvious gesture in that direction will be the selection of a resident political coordinator, expected to be former Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, a prominent member of the party's liberal wing. There is now no policymaker inside the White House who has had an important practical experience in a national presidential campaign (including the President himself).

The principal target for removal is the White House speechwriting section, directed by former newspaperman Robert Hartmann. The President's speeches, in the eyes of many White House correspondents, are consistently dull and poorly researched.

The President has never been an inspired phrasemaker, as anyone who ever watched the old "Ev and Jerry Show" can attest. He has been accustomed to short, intensive campaign appearances in which repetition is not a handicap. Sustaining an impressive level of communication over a nine-month campaign, however, is quite a different problem.

Hartmann is a tough-minded conservative with a reputation for a nasty personality and little imagination. In the recent book, "A Ford, not a Lincoln," author Richard Reeves describes Hartmann as "the dark side of sunny Gerald Ford," and contends that the White House staff attitude toward Hartmann ranges from "controlled dislike to hatred."

Hartmann is apparently to be downgraded. His executive assistant, John Calkins, and his chief speechwriting assistant, Paul Theris, are expected to leave shortly. Others will also be replaced.

The White House press office, which also recently underwent several staff changes, is unusually sensitive to the changing winds inside the White House. Brand-new deputy press secretary John Carlson, asked about the changes, snapped that he didn't know anything about them. Moreover, he flatly refused to inquire further. "I'm not going to get involved in personnel-type things," he said. "I won't know anything until it happens."

The White House reshuffling may extend beyond the speech section to include the handling of political appointments. Republican moderates have complained that it is politically inept for Ford to remind the country in a campaign year of his Nixon origins by repeatedly naming Nixonites to high posts.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Industry Approaches Recovery Cautiously

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If prospects are so improved this year, as many a businessman has told us, why isn't industry willing to back that view with good hard cash?

Capital spending plans — that is, plans for new production machinery, larger plants and the like — remain pessimistic, according to the latest survey by the Commerce Department. In fact, the survey suggests no increase at all.

No analysis is required to determine that some of the same executives who have been talking publicly about improved sales and prospects seem to have private thoughts and plans that conflict with such statements.

This wouldn't be the first time that businessmen have told different stories to different audiences. To stockholders, for example, they tend to emphasize how high are profits. To the union, they talk of depressed earnings.

But this might not be the situation at all in regard to capital spending plans. There are indications that the survey, when taken, accurately reflected their views. But views change, and so do plans.

Investment analysts are inclined to believe that if the survey, taken in late November and early December, were repeated today it would tell a different, much more positive and encouraging story.

Businessmen are like most human beings in that, when times are bleak, they tend to project the future through a grey lens. A lot has happened in the past four or five weeks to bring a little color into the picture.

Retail sales picked up strength, for one thing. Inflation receded a bit. Interest rates fell. And in general, business activity began to gain strength. All this has undoubtedly lifted the hopes of businessmen.

Argus Research Corp., a major supplier of research to investment houses, summarized it with the comment that businessmen's behavior will be determined by the growing prosperity of their own business organizations.

"Capital spending plans," it observes, "must be clearly separated from actual appropriations, especially when these plans are made at an early stage of a recovery or downturn."

Business plans typically are too optimistic when the economy is turning down and too pessimistic when the economy is turning up, says Argus. No different, in other words, than householders or any other category.

But, while the suggestion exists that businessmen will spend more freely than is indicated by the Commerce Department survey, it is imprudent to ignore the evidence of caution.

Businessmen might have hoped and believed that their sales would improve, but they didn't put their money on it. They waited for a signal from the consumer; they didn't dare make any assumptions about his behavior.

Now that some signals have been received, it is likely that the 1976 projection of $119.68 billion in capital spending will be exceeded. But more good news must continue to pour forth if it is to be exceeded by much.

Large as it is, this economy of ours is a fragile and sensitive mechanism. No gear moves independently of any other. No defect in one gear can be isolated from the others. It is all one mechanism.

If the consumer doesn't join with the producer, neither can operate effectively. If the consumer doesn't have a job, he can't buy what is produced and the producer can't expand his plant to make jobs available.

A little momentum has been built up, and that's why capital spending plans today are probably a bit better than they were a month ago. The gears of the economy are beginning to mesh and do their job, but the whole piece of machinery still needs a lot of tuning.

If At First You Don't Score, Try Another Lawyer

Many clients look upon their attorneys through the same spectacles as patients frequently estimate their doctors.

If the professional does not tell the customer what he wants to hear, then the latter switches lawyers or medics.

Charles Freeman Joseph, Benton Harbor's mayor, is doing just that.

His hand-picked city attorney, Yvonne Hughes, has declared a move to pay His Honor $25,000 a year, plus some travel, insurance and expense fringes, and to raise the city commissioners' weekly stipend from $5 to $40 is out of bounds so far as the city charter goes.

It takes courage on her part to level the legal ball bat at the mayor's financial aspirations because Atty. Hughes holds her job as a political appointee and Joseph controls a majority on the commission. Occupationally speaking, she is an endangered species.

It also requires some incisive research and thinking on her part since there is a fairly recent state statute indicating that under certain circumstances municipal charter limitations may not apply.

Banking heavily on that grey area in the law, Joseph persuaded the city fathers on Monday night to seek the views of a private lawyer practicing in Benton Harbor and those of the Michigan attorney general.

While it is speculating as to whether Frank Kelley's office at Lansing will intervene in what basically is a locally circumscribed disagreement on the law and if so, how quickly, it is a safe bet the private report will come on fast and in contravention of what Atty. Hughes says is the right of things.

Besides this interpretive argument with His Honor which she expects to lose, Atty. Hughes has a more active legal formation trooping up to the battle line.

Yesterday her counsel filed a demand on Joseph to retract a statement made at a recent commission meeting strongly implying she had collected an unauthorized $500 expense account voucher.

The demand for a retraction under Michigan law is preliminary to suing in slander for punitive as well as actual damages to the claimant's reputation. Unless withdrawn, the original statement can serve as the basis for a money award higher than that given for actual loss.

Ben Did It Systematically

In all the notice that will be given, on the 270th anniversary of his birth on January 17, to Benjamin Franklin's virtues as statesman, diplomat, scientist, inventor and philosopher, sight should not be lost of one contribution he made to human happiness that could have been made by no other man.

Other men might have been as successful in persuading the French to come to the aid of the colonies, or in capturing lightning, or in inventing the stove, but it required Franklin's peculiar combination of piety and wit to produce the most pleasant and effective system of private reform ever given to the world.

In his "Autobiography" Franklin explains that he devised this system when he found himself beset by a multitude of faults and weaknesses. Instead of attacking them wholesale, he set aside stated periods, during which each vice was to be singled out for a war of attrition. During the time in which intemperance, say, was to be overcome, all Franklin's powers were directed against this one temptation.

The man who planned such a campaign against his own frailties knew not only his own nature but that of mankind. He knew that men were strong enough to rid themselves of one weakness at a time, but not all at once. He knew that intensive campaigns against a man's whole train of follies such as are sometimes begun on Jan. 1 lead to failure.

Perhaps he also knew that nothing gives a man so much courage in getting rid of one bad habit as the presence at his right hand of a dozen others.

Lincoln Votes Approval Of Ambulance

Lincoln township board last night, for the second time in the past two months, approved joining the Community Emergency Service organization to maintain ambulance service in the township.

Originally, the organization was formed by seven Twin Cities area units of government in an effort to keep an ambulance service operating within the municipalities.

However, since that time, Benton Harbor and Benton township have dropped out, leaving St. Joseph city and the townships of Lincoln, Sodus, Royalton and St. Joseph, to form a new authority to subsidize the service. The change triggered the board's action last night. Thus far, St. Joseph city and Lincoln township have approved the new set up.

Action ambulance service, under contract with the authority, would receive a subsidy of $36,090 for the first year, to maintain service in the five, with each of the municipalities paying a prorated share based on 1973 revenue sharing census figures. Action ambulance, which has been providing service in the municipalities under other financial arrangements, was selected by the authority to continue service.

Under the new set up, annual subsidies of the five governmental units involved would be Lincoln, $10,883; St. Joseph city, $10,574; St. Joseph township, $9,889; and Royalton and Sodus townships, $2,382 each.

Under the original plan, which included Benton Harbor and Benton township, the total yearly subsidy would have been $53,061, with Lincoln township's share at $8,282.

Ernest Hauch, supervisor, said the authority's board made up of representatives from all participating units, will have the authority to set rates in both subsidy supporting and non-supporting units. Action would still be allowed to answer calls in other areas, but units providing subsidies would be given first priority. Hauch said rates for non-supporting units would undoubtedly be much higher.

Under terms of the contract, Hauch said Action ambulance would have one ambulance on call 24 hours a day and another on call 12 hours a day.

In other areas, the board under requirements contained in the township's new zoning ordinance which goes into effect Jan. 24, appointed S.F. Kietzer, township building inspector, as the township zoning enforcement officer.

The board also appointed five members to the township zoning board of appeals. Appointed were John Milrine, planning commission chairman; Donald Chapman, township trustee; and residents William Ott, Otto Smikle and Jerry Kelley. Under the old ordinance the zoning appeals board had three members.

The following fees and charges were also approved in accordance with the new zoning ordinance: No fee will be charged to applicants to be heard at regular zoning board of appeals meetings to be held quarterly; $50 fee to applicants requiring a special zoning board of appeals meeting; and $30 fee to cover application costs for rezoning.

The board instructed Mrs. Bernice Tretheway, clerk, to poll residents of Cedar Hedge subdivision concerning an alternate proposal for installation of street lights in the subdivision. If a majority of the residents agree with the proposal, then they will be required to seek a public hearing on the matter.

The board said it had no objections to a request for a take-out liquor license transfer at the Party Store, 1119 John Beers road, from Floyd Myers to Bernard Meyers of 3852 Windermere.

Donations of $50 each were approved by the board to Blossomtime Inc., and the Stevensville Blossom Queen pageant.

The board accepted the low bid of Evans Agricultural Services, Hinchman, of $1,100 including trade-in, for a new riding tractor-type lawnmower for township cemetery maintenance.

A resolution was also passed by the board in honor of the late Harry Nye, Berrien county drain commissioner and area grower, who was killed in an accident at his farm, Jan. 1.

School To Commemorate Birthday Of Dr. King

The students and staff of Benton Harbor Martin Luther King Jr. elementary school will present a program commemorating Dr. King at 3 p.m., Sunday, in the Benton Harbor high school Performing Arts center.

Principal Greta Hines said the program will feature performances by members of the King school band and choir, as well as featured selections from Community Youth choirs. Creative writings and speeches will be on display by the students, she said, and former students and parents who have contributed to the King school over the last five years will be recognized.

Mrs. Hines said tributes will be paid to the slain civil rights leader by both students and citizens. Benton Harbor Mayor Charles Joseph has proclaimed today as a special day of observance in honor of Dr. King's birthday. Dr. King, born Jan. 15, 1929, was assassinated in Memphis April 4, 1968.

The public is invited to attend the program honoring King, according to Mrs. Hines. There will be no admission charge for the program, she said, but a donation will be requested to purchase a portrait of Dr. King to be placed in the school's hall.

Mayor Joseph Claims 'Conspiracy' Behind Retraction Demand

Benton Harbor Mayor Charles Joseph said yesterday that he views a move by City Atty. Yvonne Hughes charging slander against the mayor as a "conspiracy."

Atty. Hughes has charged Joseph with slander and threatened to take legal action if she does not receive a retraction of a statement Joseph made earlier this month about expenses by the city's law department. She has retained St. Joseph Atty. Donald Bleich as her private counsel.

In an interview yesterday with Jack Kelly, WHJB newscaster, Joseph said that he was observing "an apparent move, as far as I'm concerned, to carry on what I see as a conspiracy by some to discredit the administration and the city for their own benefit."

"And I'm speaking in terms of this law firm receiving $189,000 through the county to represent indigent people," Joseph said, "who at the same time ... this attorney has been involved in many other things. And of course, I've watched this ... my observations ... in terms of the people who are represented from the City of Benton Harbor."

The law firm of Bleich & Peterson holds a contract with Berrien county to defend indigents in the juvenile, district and circuit courts of the county.

In a letter to Joseph from Atty. Bleich, Atty. Hughes demands a retraction of the statement "Are you aware that the Law Department spent over $510.00 which has never been accounted for?"

The letter charges that Joseph made the statement at the Jan. 5 city commission meeting with more than 100 people in attendance and that it was published in The Herald-Palladium the following day.

The letter to Joseph says that Atty. Hughes was authorized to spend $510 to attend the National Bar association's annual convention under her contract with Benton Harbor signed by the mayor.

It also says the expenditure was approved on a city travel expense form and a city expense account form.

Joseph also said in the interview that he had not had an opportunity to discuss the slander charges with other city commissioners and would make a comment on the charges at a later time.

BH Police To Arrest Suspect In Slaying

Benton Harbor police said an arrest was expected to be made today on an open murder charge in connection with the slaying death Tuesday of a Benton Harbor man.

A warrant was authorized Wednesday against Sammy Gaudin, 42, Elgin, Ill., in the death of Tolley Jones, Jr., 28, of 141 Oden street. Det. Sgt. Sam Watson said Gaudin was to turn himself in to police this morning.

Jones was stabbed five times with what police believe was a screwdriver. He was found unconscious on the front porch of his home about 6:35 p.m. by police investigating a report of unknown trouble at another home on Oden. No weapon was found, police indicated.

Dowagiac Youths Get Prison Terms

CASSOPOLIS — Two Dowagiac youths charged with the October holdup of a Dowagiac neighborhood grocery store were handed prison terms when they appeared for sentencing in Cass circuit court yesterday.

Circuit Court Judge James E. Hoff handed down prison terms of three to 15 years each to Jerry Glenn Jones, 19, 327 Pokagon street, and Willie James Jackson, 17, 214 Andrews street.

Both had pleaded guilty to charges of unarmed robbery in connection with the Oct. 24 hold-up of Leitke's Grocery store at 309 Jefferson street.

More than $1,000 was reported taken in the holdup.

Handguns and the loot were recovered shortly after the holdup and the arrests were made later after police received several anonymous tips.

A juvenile boy also taken into custody in connection with the robbery has been petitioned into Cass probate court but final disposition of his case has not been made yet, county officials said.

Camera Taking Audience To Hong Kong

STREETS OF HONG KONG: Modern businessman rides in rickshaw mode of travel that dates back centuries but is still common in Hong Kong, island of many contrasts.

Hong Kong, an island of mystery and intrigue that stands as the gateway to Red China, can be viewed via film beginning Sunday as the fourth presentation of the Twin City Camera Club this year.

Willis Butler will narrate the film titled "Hong Kong" which can be seen Sunday at 2:30 p.m. and Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. All three shows will be at the St. Joseph public high school auditorium.

Butler, who is familiar to local camera club fans through past performances, has been showing travelogue films for over the past 20 years.

"Hong Kong" is one of six travelogue films he has made and he has appeared before over 400 audiences.

Butler's experience in radio and television is extensive. He has produced 15 radio shorts in Ireland for NBC-radio in Chicago, 10 short TV films in Africa for NBC-TV, and, in addition to others, a 30-minute color production in the Orient for Northwest Orient Airlines.

Butler holds B.S. and M.A. degrees from Northwestern university.

Lincoln Votes Approval Of Ambulance

Lincoln township board last night, for the second time in the past two months, approved joining the Community Emergency Service organization to maintain ambulance service in the township.

Originally, the organization was formed by seven Twin Cities area units of government in an effort to keep an ambulance service operating within the municipalities.

However, since that time, Benton Harbor and Benton township have dropped out, leaving St. Joseph city and the townships of Lincoln, Sodus, Royalton and St. Joseph, to form a new authority to subsidize the service. The change triggered the board's action last night. Thus far, St. Joseph city and Lincoln township have approved the new set up.

Action ambulance service, under contract with the authority, would receive a subsidy of $36,090 for the first year, to maintain service in the five, with each of the municipalities paying a prorated share based on 1973 revenue sharing census figures. Action ambulance, which has been providing service in the municipalities under other financial arrangements, was selected by the authority to continue service.

Under the new set up, annual subsidies of the five governmental units involved would be Lincoln, $10,863; St. Joseph city, $10,574; St. Joseph township, $9,889; and Royalton and Sodus townships, $2,382 each.

Under the original plan, which included Benton Harbor and Benton township, the total yearly subsidy would have been $53,081, with Lincoln township's share at $8,282.

Ernest Hauch, supervisor, said the authority's board made up of representatives from all participating units, will have the authority to set rates in both subsidy supporting and non-supporting units. Action would still be allowed to answer calls in other areas, but units providing subsidies would be given first priority. Hauch said rates for non-supporting units would undoubtedly be much higher.

Under terms of the contract, Hauch said Action ambulance would have one ambulance on call 24 hours a day and another on call 12 hours a day.

In other areas, the board under requirements contained in the township's new zoning ordinance which goes into effect Jan. 24, appointed S.F. Kietzer, township building inspector, as the township zoning enforcement officer.

The board also appointed five members to the township zoning board of appeals. Appointed were John Milmine, planning commission chairman; Donald Chapman, township trustee; and residents William Ott, Otto Smikle and Jerry Kelley. Under the old ordinance the zoning appeals board had three members.

The following fees and charges were also approved in accordance with the new zoning ordinance: No fee will be charged to applicants to be heard at regular zoning board of appeals meetings to be held quarterly; $50 fee to applicants requiring a special zoning board of appeals meeting; and $30 fee to cover application costs for rezoning.

The board instructed Mrs. Bernice Tretheway, clerk, to poll residents of Cedar Hedge subdivision concerning an alternate proposal for installation of street lights in the subdivision. If a majority of the residents agree with the proposal, then they will be required to seek a public hearing on the matter.

The board said it had no objections to a request for a take-out liquor license transfer at the Party Store, 1119 John Beers road, from Floyd Myers to Bernard Meyers of 3852 Windermere.

St. Joseph Girl To Sing
At Super Bowl Half-Time

'Up With People' Performer

Although just about everyone's television sets will be tuned in to Super Bowl X Sunday, the K.M. (Butch) Zerbel family of St. Joseph will be especially attentive, at least to half-time activities.

Amy Zerbel, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zerbel, is a member of the well-known singing and dancing group Up With People, which will perform at half-time.

Two hundred twenty-four members of the group will perform across the entire field while 36 will perform on microphones in the same area where a 15 member band will be placed. Amy's father says she'll be in the group at the microphone.

Up With People's performance will last approximately 11 minutes and will consist of a fast-paced medley of American songs, ending in a finale commemorating the Bicentennial.

Up With People was organized 10 years ago in Tucson, Ariz., as an independent, nonprofit education program with the aim of developing leadership, responsibility and understanding among races, classes and cultures.

The group annually attracts thousands of applicants, with only one in 18 finally selected. Students usually remain in the group only one year, with the exception of a few who stay a second year as staff members to help instruct the next year's members.

In November of 1974, a sub-cast of the group performed at St. Joseph high school. After the program, the group announced they would interview anyone interested in joining, which is customary. Amy applied, and about 60 days later she was notified of her acceptance. A 1975 graduate of St. Joseph high school, Amy is a lead singer and dancer for Up With People, which involves solo performances.

She is now a freshman at University of Arizona in Tucson, which approximately 80 of the group's members attend. Traveling professors from the university accompany the students on the road, so they can complete their courses on schedule.

The group usually spends two to three months traveling in Europe, but this year, in honor of the nation's Bicentennial, all but a cast of about 40 will remain in this country. The group usually numbers about 250, but this year there are three casts within the group numbering 150 each. With more members in the group, Up With People will be able to perform in more areas of the country during the Bicentennial year.

They perform a wide variety of dance numbers and songs, designed to entertain and to improve communications between people, according to Amy's father. They announce only the first song in a program, and then the numbers run continuously, he says.

A public relations group travels ahead of Up With People, and arranges for the group's members to stay in private homes. When they appeared in St. Joseph in 1974, the Zerbels were hosts to two girls.

A former St. Joseph resident, Miss Shawn Snelgrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Snelgrove, now of Bear Lake, Minn., has been accepted into Up With People for next year, according to Zerbel.

FIVE YEAR PROJECT: It took Mrs. Allen Lincoln of Berrien Springs five years to build this sofa. The project was started initially to rebuild an old sofa but ended as almost an entirely new piece of work.

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Mrs. Allen (Mooney) Lincoln built her own sofa and she says it is no more difficult than any other hobby.

She says when she began the project, she was only going to repair a sofa that had been given to her.

Five years and she isn't sure how many hours later, Mrs. Lincoln said, "There probably aren't more than three of the original boards left."

Mrs. Lincoln works part-time for Parris upholstery in Berrien Springs. She also helps her husband who is assistant pastor at two churches in Eau Claire and Coloma.

Lincoln says his wife's project saved the family several hundreds of dollars.

Human Life Symposium
Scheduled For Jan. 24

A symposium on the value of human life in today's society will be held Saturday, Jan. 24, from 8 to 10 p.m. at the YWCA, St. Joseph.

The public is invited free of charge. The event is sponsored by Berrien County Right to Life as a public service during Respect Human Life Week, Jan. 18-24.

Moderator for the panel will be Kenneth Riley, MA, BD, BS, director of the Institute for Professional and Para-professional Studies at Lake Michigan college.

Panelists will include Herald A. Habenicht, MD, FAAP and Seventh-day Adventist minister; Atty. David A. Swanson, Benton Harbor; Elizabeth G. Bell, MA, psychologist and director of the pre-school program at Riverwood Community Mental Health Center, and Patricia Hohnstein, project manager for the Southwestern Michigan Regional Commission on Aging.

Discussion for the first hour will center around the shifting values in America.

Panelists will also consider what effect the Jan. 22, 1973, Supreme Court decisions allowing abortion have had on the value of human life in the United States.

Two panelists, Dr. Habenicht

and Mrs. Hohnstein, support the decision, and two panelists, Atty. Swanson and Mrs. Bell, disagree with the court's philosophy.

Panelists will receive questions for discussion from the audience.

Fashionable Eyewear

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — There is a new trend among purchasers of eyewear.

More and more fashion-conscious consumers are now not only buying eyeglasses for functional purposes, but also as a complement to their wardrobe, according to Eugene Adams • Keeney, executive director of the Optical Manufacturers Association.

Keeney, returning from a recent convention of the optical manufacturers in Bermuda, said that many of the manufacturers reported a strong surge in the sales of their more fashionable and stylish eyewear in the past six months.

Keeney said that an important part of the increase was due to a surprising new interest by men in eyewear fashions. "The interest men have evidenced in fashion and toiletries in recent years is apparently reaching the eyewear field," he said.

The optical manufacturers also noted that more women are purchasing several pairs of eyeglasses at the same time — some with new blendable fashion-hued plastic frames, to coordinate with daytime outfits — and dressier ones with bits of glitter on them for evening wear.

If you have some extra wallpaper left after redoing a room, consider giving your closets the glamor treatment. First, wash them down and then paper them. Choose closet accessories such as garment and shoe bags in a harmonizing shade, and trim the closet shelf in a zippy little pattern for a finishing touch. An all-important closet worthy of the most dramatic treatment is the front hall guest closet. For it, pick a striking wallpaper pattern, decorate the inside of the door with, say, a gilt mirror, and just listen to the attractive comments from friends!

St. Joseph Girl To Sing At Super Bowl Half-Time

'Up With People' Performer

Although just about everyone's television sets will be tuned in to Super Bowl X Sunday, the K.M. (Butch) Zerbel family of St. Joseph will be especially attentive, at least to half-time activities.

Amy Zerbel, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zerbel, is a member of the well-known singing and dancing group Up With People, which will perform at half-time.

Two hundred twenty four members of the group will perform across the entire field while 36 will perform on microphones in the same area where a 15 member band will be placed. Amy's father says she'll be in the group at the microphone.

Up With People's performance will last approximately 11 minutes and will consist of a fast-paced medley of American songs, ending in a finale commemorating the Bicentennial.

Up With People was organized 10 years ago in Tucson, Ariz., as an independent, nonprofit education program with the aim of developing leadership, responsibility and understanding among races, classes and cultures.

The group annually attracts thousands of applicants, with only one in 18 finally selected. Students usually remain in the group only one year, with the exception of a few who stay a second year as staff members to help instruct the next year's members.

In November of 1974, a sub-cast of the group performed at St. Joseph high school. After the program, the group announced they would interview anyone interested in joining, which is customary. Amy applied, and about 60 days later she was notified of her acceptance. A 1975 graduate of St. Joseph high school, Amy is a lead singer and dancer for Up With People, which involves solo performances.

She is now a freshman at University of Arizona in Tucson, which approximately 80 of the group's members attend. Traveling professors from the university accompany the students on the road, so they can complete their courses on schedule.

The group usually spends two to three months traveling in Europe, but this year, in honor of the nation's Bicentennial, all but a cast of about 40 will remain in this country. The group usually numbers about 250, but this year there are three casts within the group numbering 150 each. With more members in the group, Up With People will be able to perform in more areas of the country during the Bicentennial year.

They perform a wide variety of dance numbers and songs, designed to entertain and to improve communications between people, according to Amy's father. They announce only the first song in a program, and then the numbers run continuously, he says.

A public relations group travels ahead of Up With People, and arranges for the group's members to stay in private homes. When they appeared in St. Joseph in 1974, the Zerbels were hosts to two girls.

A former St. Joseph resident, Miss Shawn Snelgrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Snelgrove, now of Bear Lake, Minn., has been accepted into Up With People for next year, according to Zerbel.

Human Life Symposium Scheduled For Jan. 24

A symposium on the value of human life in today's society will be held Saturday, Jan. 24, from 8 to 10 p.m. at the YWCA, St. Joseph.

The public is invited free of charge. The event is sponsored by Berrien County Right to Life as a public service during Respect Human Life Week, Jan. 18-24.

Moderator for the panel will be Kenneth Riley, MA, BD, BS, director of the Institute for Professional and Para-professional Studies at Lake Michigan college.

Panelists will include Herald A. Habenicht, MD, FAAP and Seventh-day Adventist minister; Atty. David A. Swanson, Benton Harbor; Elizabeth G. Bell, MA, psychologist and director of the pre-school program at Riverwood Community Mental Health Center, and Patricia Hohnstein, project manager for the Southwestern Michigan Regional Commission on Aging. Discussion for the first hour will center around the shifting values in America.

Panelists will also consider what effect the Jan. 22, 1973, Supreme Court decisions allowing abortion have had on the value of human life in the United States.

Two panelists, Dr. Habenicht

and Mrs. Hohnstein, support the decision, and two panelists, Atty. Swanson and Mrs. Bell, disagree with the court's philosophy.

Panelists will receive questions for discussion from the audience.

Fashionable Eyewear

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — There is a new trend among purchasers of eyewear.

More and more fashion-conscious consumers are now not only buying eyeglasses for functional purposes, but also as a complement to their wardrobe, according to Eugene Adams • Keeney, executive director of the Optical Manufacturers Association.

Keeney, returning from a recent convention of the optical manufacturers in Bermuda, said that many of the manufacturers reported a strong surge in the sales of their more fashionable and stylish eyewear in the past six months.

Keeney said that an important part of the increase was due to a surprising new interest by men in eyewear fashions. "The interest men have evidenced in fashion and toiletries in recent years is apparently reaching the eyewear field," he said.

The optical manufacturers also noted that more women are purchasing several pairs of eyeglasses at the same time — some with new blendable fashion-hued plastic frames, to coordinate with daytime outfits — and dressier ones with bits of glitter on them for evening wear.

Design & DECOR

by Bobbi & Ron Guertel

If you have some extra wallpaper left after redoing a room, consider giving your closets the glamor treatment. First, wash them down and then paper them. Choose closet accessories such as garment and shoe bags in a harmonizing shade, and trim the closet shelf in a zippy little pattern for a finishing touch. An all-important closet worthy of the most dramatic treatment is the front hall guest closet. For it, pick a striking wallpaper pattern, decorate the inside of the door with, say, a gilt mirror, and just listen to the attractive comments from friends!

Program Helps Patients Regain Self-Sufficiency

BERRIEN CENTER — A new therapeutic program at Berrien General hospital is helping many long-term care patients in the skilled nursing care facility regain their self-sufficiency.

Titled Reality Orientation, the program is designed to overcome mental and emotional problems that sometimes accompany an extended physical illness or old age.

"A patient's mental and emotional needs are sometimes neglected in institutions," according to Sharon Warren, RN, director of the program and assistant director of nursing for the hospital. "Through the Reality Orientation program, patients regain a sense of what is real. Their dignity and self-respect are restored."

Mrs. Warren says the program's philosophy is one of hope and caring.

"It was once thought that these patients could not be successfully treated, but we believe many patients can be helped."

Reality Orientation is a 24-hour care effort for all long-term care patients as part of the hospital's basic patient care program. All employees, from housekeeping to nursing, and the medical staff receive training in Reality Orientation methods.

"The staff's attitude is vital to the success of the program," Mrs. Warren says. "The patient is treated like an adult, encouraged to become more self-sufficient and, if confused, is constantly re-oriented to reality by every hospital staff member with whom he or she comes into contact."

Basic information patterns such as the patients' names, where they are and what day it is are constantly repeated by the staff to orient the patients. Easy-to-read bulletin boards are also used.

It is the hospital's goal to prepare the patient to return home if at all possible, Mrs. Warren says. Because family members often play an instrumental role in the patient's continuing improvement once he has returned home, the hospital also offers Reality Orientation training to members of the patient's family, she adds.

"Reality Orientation benefits the hospital too. Each patient's progress is a boost to hospital staff morale," Mrs. Warren says.

"As simple in concept as Reality Orientation's personal care may seem, it is somewhat revolutionary," Mrs. Warren says. "The program doesn't cost any more, doesn't take any more staff or equipment — just more heart and more understanding from the entire hospital staff."

A pilot Reality Orientation program was begun 18 months ago to find out if it could work at Berrien General hospital. The present program grew out of its successes.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

There's Hope For Impotent

Dear Ann Landers: Millions more people read your column than read the news stories. Will you please do a tremendous favor for the men in this country who would like to enjoy sexual intercourse but are impotent?

Two Chicago hospitals have developed totally different techniques for these unfortunate males and they both work. The surgery permits men to have erections despite physical and emotional difficulties, which previously had made sex impossible. One of the fantastic aspects of these two surgical procedures is that the female partner does not know that any...

There are no tell-tale signs. One of the patients described his cure as "so amazing; it changed my entire outlook on life." He was a victim of hardening of the arteries. For ten years his affliction had deprived him of his ability to function sexually. Another patient suffered from diabetes.

Hospital stays for either of these operations are brief. The cost for the simpler surgery is only $150. The more complicated operation costs approximately $1500.

Please, Ann, tell your readers which two hospitals to call. And since the names of the doctors were published in the paper it would be ethical if you identified them in your column. Thank you in behalf of — Those Who Need But Can't!

Dear Friend: I am aware of the hospitals, the names of the physicians and also the techniques developed to make intercourse possible for formerly impotent males. I feel it would be most inappropriate, however, to give such specific information in this column for a variety of reasons — not the least of which is that the hospital switchboards would light up like Christmas trees and the two physicians would be inundated with requests.

I shall print your letter and leave it to the readers who are interested to contact their own physicians and ask how to go about getting on the list. In advance, I request that my readers NOT query me further as I shall give no additional information on this subject.

Get Used To It

Dear Ann Landers: Our youngest son married an adorable girl three months ago. We met her for the first time last New Year's Eve when he invited her here to be his date. (She lived in a distant city.)

Shortly after they were married, she called me "Mrs. X." I asked her not to be so formal. She misunderstood and said, "I'd love to call you Alice." That same evening she

Dogs Get Tangles Too

"If you own a long-haired dog, you have a special problem when it comes to shampooing your pet — tangles," says a New York dog groomer.

"Start by removing all matted hair tangles before you begin shampooing," says Robert Gorman, who grooms some of Greenwich Village's best-looking dogs. "This is vital for long-haired breeds such as collies, sheepdogs and Lhasa Apso's."

Gorman recommends spraying matted areas with a children's creme rinse. "Using a large comb," "instructs Gorman, "gently comb out the mats, discarding loose hair in a paper bag. The sprayed-on creme rinse will help make child's play out of a difficult job."

He suggests talking in low, soothing tones during the process. "Dogs respond to gentleness and affection — and especially if it's your dog's first shampoo, it is important for your pet to know that, while you are in control of the situation, you will not hurt or frighten him," he says.

"It is also important for your dog to know you are in control — you must communicate confidence. That is why I suggest shampooing in the bathtub — it's a far easier place to control your pet," he adds.

If any matted hair remains after the shampoo, re-spray with the children's creme rinse to remove stubborn tangles. Gorman says, "In addition, the conditioner in the creme rinse will help keep your dog's coat looking shiny and bright."

Gorman says, "Rinse your dog twice even before beginning to wash the head area. When a dog's face gets wet, he will immediately begin shaking the water off his whole body — usually whether it is wet or not. By leaving the dog's face dry until the very last step, you will have a far less messy bathroom."

When you use the Jacoby transfer bid you don't have any normal use for responses of three diamonds, hearts or spades to a notrump opening. We recommend that the three-heart and spade response show good hands with bad suits, but where you don't mind being declarer.

South had a perfect hand for a three-spade response, North raised to four spades and South took over with Blackwood. When North showed all four kings by his six-club call (the bid shows zero or four and there was no way for North to have 16 high card points without at least one king). South bid the grand slam in spades. He might just as well have bid seven notrump for the extra 10 points since he could count to 13 tricks if the spade suit ran.

Suppose North had held just three spades to the ace-king. He might not have raised to four spades, but if he did have that holding, the queen of spades would still be likely to drop.

Ask the Jacobys

A Vermont reader asks if one-bid hands should be conceded and not played.

The answer is that some rubber bridge players in order to save time concede undoubted one-level contracts but this is their own procedure. It has nothing to do with the laws of bridge which provide that all contracts must be played.

Group Tours America

NEW YORK (AP) — The Freiburg Baroque Soloists began a five-week United States tour with a concert at Hunter College, which was the group's American debut.

Founded in Germany in the early 1960s at the height of the Baroque revival, the Freiburg Baroque Soloists have recently devoted much of their time to the music of Bach and his sons. They have released 10 recordings of this music, much of it little known. In all, they have made more than two dozen recordings and have toured in France, Italy, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland and the Benelux countries as well as in Germany.

The group performs exclusively the music of the high baroque and early classical periods.

Dr. Lester Coleman

What is the meaning of a "lazy eye"? Can it be corrected with glasses or is an operation necessary?

Mrs. D.E., N.M.

Dear Mrs. E.: Amblyopia is sometimes referred to as a "lazy eye." It is not a rare condition. It is readily detected in young children who seem to have poor vision.

In some cases, the eyes may be crossed. Older children may complain that letters or pictures are not distinct and run together. Occasionally, there may be unusual sensitivity to light. Some children may be distressed by looking at television.

Eye specialists, with their remarkable new instruments, can readily come to the conclusion as to the best form of treatment.

These ophthalmologists can correct, without surgery in many instances, the "lazy eye." Corrective glasses and eye exercises are very effective.

As the day progresses my feet become more and more swollen. The swelling is gone when I get up in the morning. At night I can push my finger deep into the swelling.

Mr. T.V.E., Penn.

Dear Mr. E.: "Pitting edema," of swelling of the legs and feet, can be caused by a variety of conditions. Some are simple. Others are more complicated.

Each should be carefully studied to determine the exact cause. Marked obesity and varicose veins, especially in people who stand on their feet all day, can produce such swelling. Women in the premenstrual phase sometimes develop temporary accumulation and retention of fluid in their body tissues.

There are other more complicated reasons for persistent, swelling of the legs and feet. I do not mean to frighten you by telling you and my readers that people with chronic heart disease, kidney disease and lung conditions or severe liver disorders may also have such swelling.

I mention these so that you can recognize the need for a thorough examination in order to pinpoint the exact cause. It is very likely that your problem is not a serious one. Nevertheless, you would be doing yourself a great injustice if you did not check the cause of the swelling with your physician.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "Alcoholism — A Family Disease." It probes this grave problem and offers hopeful advice. For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D., (Alcoholism booklet), P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. Please mention the booklet by title.

Dear Ann Landers: Millions more people read your column than read the news stories. Will you please do a tremendous favor for the men in this country who would like to enjoy sexual intercourse but are impotent?

Two Chicago hospitals have developed totally different techniques for these unfortunate males and they both work. The surgery permits men to have erections despite physical and emotional difficulties which previously had made sex impossible. One of the fantastic aspects of these two surgical procedures is that the female partner does not know that anything was done to the male.

For Friday, Jan. 16, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) An awkward situation may pit you with outsiders against your loved ones. Don't forget: what happens today is fleeting. Your family is with you always.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your strong opinion may reflect the minority viewpoint today. The problem is temporary. Don't aggravate friends by arguing.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) This is not a good time to assume cumbersome obligations. Weigh your wants against your means.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your desires and aims today are likely to conflict with those whose support is essential. Some tactful maneuvering is necessary.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's wonderful to help others to lighten their burdens, but be careful not to add too greatly to your own load.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Someone you know is a super salesman, but he has a poor track record in the quality of the things he promotes. Don't let him sell you a pig in a poke today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Normally you're willing to weigh another's point of view. Today, you'll be a bit too insistent that things be done your way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be wary today: Don't try to sell something of which you have very little knowledge to one who's an expert.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're still on very shaky ground businesswise. Don't make any substantial commitments you haven't really checked out.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Dealings with close associates may be sensitive today. Don't impose your opinion. At least listen to the other guy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Guard against overindulgence today, whether it be in eating, drinking, working or just having fun.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You may find you have some very extravagant whims to wrestle with today. For future peace of mind, pin them to the mat.

Friends may bring you a great number of propositions this coming year. There may be some gold nuggets in all that sand, but they must be sifted carefully.

began to call my husband "Philip."

I would like for her to call me "Mother" the same as my other daughter-in-law. My husband says he doesn't care what she calls him, but it irritates me terribly when she addresses me by my first name.

Should I mention this to my son or should I speak to his wife about it? — Advice Wanted

Dear A.W.: Don't mention it to her OR to him. Let her call you "Alice" and get used to it.

I loved my mother-in-law dearly but I could never call her "Mother" because that name was reserved for my own mother. Perhaps your daughter-in-law feels the same way.

You'd be happy to settle for "Alice" if you knew what some girls call their mothers-in-law.

Are you, or is someone you care about messing around with drugs — or considering it? Are all drugs bad? What about pot — in moderation? Ann Landers' new booklet, "Straight Dope on Drugs," separates the facts from the fiction. For each booklet ordered, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (26 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Power Company Rebates Sought

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley will go to court seeking some $12 million in rebates to Consumers Power Co. customers, a Kelley aide said Wednesday.

The order will be sought in Ingham County Circuit Court as part of a suit filed last August against the state Public Service Commission (PSC) which regulated utilities, said Roderick Coy, an assistant attorney general.

The suit will charge the PSC is improperly allowing Consumers to charge customers without prior PSC approval for ready-made energy it buys from other utilities.

All parties acknowledge this is happening through a loophole in the legislative approved fuel adjustment clause. But the PSC and the Jackson-based utility claim Consumers is not making more money than it should, because purchased power costs more than self-generated power.

Any rebates would go to persons using Consumers' electricity from August 1973 to September 1974, Coy said. The practice has continued since then but involves an unknown amount of money, he said.

Kelley's rebate demand is one of several recent charges that utility customers have paid more than they should have for gas and electric power.

Kelley's request comes as the PSC tries to smooth out some wrinkles in utilities' fuel adjustment clauses. One wrinkle lets big power purchasers recoup part of their expenses, though they have not in fact bought any fuel.

Originally, when approved in 1972 by the legislature, the clauses allowed utilities to charge customers automatically only for rising costs of fuel.

Consumers bought much of its power in 1974 from Detroit Edison and municipal utilities when its Palisades plant was not operating.

PSC sources acknowledge the commission knew of such dealings in 1974 before it approved a $68.2 million electric rate increase for Consumers.

Rate cases for Consumers power and Detroit Edison which the commission is expected to decide in two months will try to erase problems with the fuel clause, though Kelley's office has indicated it is not happy with the solutions the PSC is considering.

Officials Pick Up Trail Of Payroll Firm Executive

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Authorities pursued a new lead Wednesday in the nationwide search for a missing payroll firm executive, but they were on a trail more than a week old.

A patrolling Wayne County deputy sheriff found a car leased to James Robert Redican, 37, of Holland, in a parking lot at Detroit Metropolitan Airport on Tuesday.

The late model, bronze-topped Thunderbird had been sought since Redican vanished after thousands of checks drawn on his firm, Computer Payroll & Accounting Services, began bouncing.

Meanwhile, authorities in Kentwood, where the firm had its headquarters, said they have evidence Redican and his wife, Gail, had written nearly $90,000 worth of checks on the company's account for their personal use.

Sgt. Donald Yerrick of the Kentwood police said investigators sifting through the firm's office found about 120 check stubs.

"We've located 66 of the canceled checks that go with those 120 stubs. When we totaled up those 66 canceled checks we found that Redican and his wife had written some $80,000 in checks to themselves in 1975 alone — apparently using the money for furniture, pets, boats — you name it," Yerrick reported.

Finding the car confirmed a week-old report that a former crewman on the Redican yacht spotted the couple at the airport early last Tuesday.

Yerrick said the car contained a parking ticket showing it was abandoned a week before it was discovered.

Yerrick said investigators found nearly $300,000 in Computer Payroll bank accounts. But he said that is far less than losses apparently suffered by the firm's hundreds of customers.

"It looks now like somewhere between $1 million and $1.5 million in payroll withholdings were never paid by Computer Payroll."

Three Are Sentenced

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — The last of three men charged in last June's slaying of Adrian patrolman Bobby Williams was given a life sentence Wednesday. Lenawee County Circuit Court Judge Rex Martin ordered the sentence for Gerald Deaton, 31, of Marion, Ohio, following his conviction on first-degree murder charges. Williams, 28, was shot several times June 30 after stopping a car suspected of being involved in an armed robbery in Tecumseh, authorities said.

Storm Death Toll Is Raised To Five

By Associated Press

A man who died while shoveling snow from his front walk and a University of Michigan professor who died after he walked home when his car became stuck have raised the death toll from a Tuesday snowstorm to five.

In Ann Arbor, officials said Dr. Walter H. Swartz, 53, a UM professor of dentistry, apparently suffered a heart attack after he struggled unsuccessfully to free his car from a snowdrift and then walked home.

Swartz, who had been on the U-M faculty for more than 20 years, was a widely-known dental researcher and was one of the few Americans invited to London last March to address an international conference.

In Rochester, Isaac C.

Denison, 75, was reported dead on arrival at Crittenton Hospital in Avon Township after he collapsed while shoveling snow.

The snowstorm swept across southern Lower Michigan, leaving up to 10 inches of snow on the ground. Three other persons died in traffic mishaps, which State Police said were caused by the snow.

Soviets Flex Naval Muscle Near Angola

WASHINGTON (AP) — Based on recent movements by Russian warships, U.S. intelligence sources say the Soviet Union may be preparing a further buildup of its naval strength off the West African coast within cruising distance of Angola.

The concern of U.S. analysts is sharpened by the reported presence of four Russian naval tankers, which U.S. experts say could enable the Soviet navy to sustain a larger force than is now located within a few days' cruising distance from Angola.

Meanwhile, U.S. intelligence has been tracking a 19,000-ton Sverdlov class cruiser, which has moved through the western Mediterranean toward Gibraltar in recent days, and a 5,200-ton Kashin class guided-missile destroyer which has been spotted southeast of Portugal.

The destination of these warships still is uncertain, but intelligence reports reaching the Pentagon suggest they may be sent to reinforce other Russian naval vessels already off West Africa.

The White House has expressed dismay at the growth of Soviet naval power in the area at a time when the United States is pushing for an end to outside intervention in Angola's civil war.

Within the past two weeks, Russia has sent a 7,500-ton Kresta II class guided-missile cruiser and a 3,900-ton Kotlin class guided-missile destroyer into West African waters. Previously, the Soviet Navy had positioned an amphibious ship off Angola.

None of these ships now is close to the Angolan coast, but their presence in the West African area is regarded by U.S. officials as a display of Soviet military muscle designed by Moscow to influence the outcome of the Angolan civil war in favor of the pro-Communist Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola (MPLA).

Despite persistent rumors to the contrary, the Pentagon insists that U.S. naval forces are thousands of miles away from Angola.

The U.S. aircraft carrier Saratoga and the amphibious assault ship Guadalcanal have sailed from the United States for the Mediterranean. The Pentagon says this is a routine deployment to replace other ships returning home and is unrelated to the Angola problem.

The Russians have denied any of their warships are in the West African area, but Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said on Wednesday that there is "no question" the Russian navy is present.

At the same time, Kissinger said Russia has shipped about $200 million in military equipment and weapons to the MPLA in the past nine months, more than seven times the amount of aid U.S. officials have acknowledged providing to anti-Soviet factions in Angola.

Kissinger said that fighting in the northern sector of Angola "is being conducted almost entirely by Cuban forces without even the pretense of participation" by the MPLA.

Kissinger used an estimate of 5,000 to 7,000 men as the strength of Cuban forces fighting for the MPLA. His estimate is conservative, intelligence officials said. They place Cuban strength at up to 8,500 men and said the Cuban military airlift is continuing.

Kissinger warned that hopes for a new U.S.-Soviet arms pact could be clouded by prolonged Soviet support for the Cuban force. But he said a nuclear agreement is a paramount concern for the long-term future.

1876 Bicentennial Plan About To Unfold

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders next week will begin carrying out the plans Mrs. Charles F. Dehm made more than 100 years ago for linking the Centennial and Bicentennial of U.S. independence.

Mrs. Dehm, a New York City publisher described in the archives as a dedicated patriot and a Civil War widow, was an enthusiastic supporter of the 1876 Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia.

She conceived the idea of collecting mementos of that celebration and memorabilia of the period and locking them in an ornate safe not to be opened until July 4, 1876, and then only by "the Chief Magistrate," presumably the president.

The safe, which has had a checkered history, will go on formal public exhibit in the Capitol Monday when its outer doors will be opened to the accompaniment of speeches by House Speaker Carl Albert and others.

Plans are still being made for the July 4 opening of its inner strongbox, which contains the mementos.

Correspondence of Mrs. Dehm and others, however, gives some idea of the contents: autographs and photographs of political figures, poems, short stories, a book containing 800,000 names of government employees, autographs of orators, clergymen, poets, scientists, historians and merchants, a silver inkstand and two gold and pearl pens.

The autographs to a great extent were gathered by Mrs. Dehm herself. She toured the country armed with a letter of introduction from President Rutherford B. Hayes and other high officials.

Her plans included other exhibits in addition to the safe: three Russian leather albums enclosed in rosewood and ebony cases to contain pictures and autographs of U.S. leaders, updated every two years.

However, the albums and cases disappeared long ago, along with the key to the safe. The safe itself vanished from sight and was almost forgotten.

STRONG STATEMENT: Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, in a Washington news conference Wednesday, made one of his strongest statements concerning the Russian role in Angola. In spite of the continued Soviet intervention Kissinger said he will go to Moscow next week to seek a nuclear arms agreement. (AP Wirephoto)

Rate Cut For Some Demanded

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A state consumers group is asking the Public Service Commission to force Michigan's biggest electric companies to reduce rates for low-volume residential customers.

Groups like poor, elderly and conservationists should be rewarded for using little electricity, the Public Interest Research Group in Michigan (PIRGIM) said Wednesday in a brief to the PSC.

PIRGIM asked the regulatory agency to adopt a "lifeline" rate structure for Detroit Edison Co. and Consumers Power Co.

The utilities are seeking a total $296 million rate increase, which the commission is expected to act on within two months.

"Without utility rate reform, the energy crisis will continue until it destroys us," said

Richard Conlin, director of PIRGIM's Energy Policy Project.

The lifeline system would benefit any residential customer who uses less than 1,200 kilowatt hours per month, PIRGIM said. The average electric customer, who uses about 500 kilowatt hours per month, would save $4 a month if a Consumers Power customer, and $2 a month if a Detroit Edison customers, PIRGIM said.

The group said high-volume residential users would pay a correspondingly higher rate.

The lifeline proposal is not new, say PSC officials, but has been rejected for various reasons in the past. They say it would, among other things, benefit the very wealthy who own summer homes or second homes that use little electricity.

Comic Strip Heroine Wed, And Bride Wore Cardboard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brenda Starr, cartoon heroine, was married in a tearless ceremony to Basil St. John, mysteryman of her dreams! The bride wore cardboard.

The 90-minute catered ceremony took place at a local television station Wednesday night. Columnist Ann Landers was there to offer advice. Priscilla of Boston, creator of Tricia Nixon's wedding attire, put on a fashion show. Ellen Proxmire, wife of Wisconsin Democratic Sen. William Proxmire, catered the affair.

At least 100 Washington socialites and reporters and gossip columnists served as guests. President and Mrs. Ford sent their regrets.

A half dozen models paraded around in wedding gowns designed by Priscilla. The bride and groom, characters from a long-running newspaper comic strip, stood as six-foot cardboard characters behind a real, four-tiered wedding cake. Champagne flowed while Brenda's creator, 68-year-old Dale Messick of Chicago, bubbled on about how hard it's been to get Brenda married.

"It took a long time for (her newspaper) syndicate to let her get married," Miss Messick said. "Only recently they've let her have a belly button."

Miss Messick, who dyed her bouffant hairdo red like Brenda's and wore a flowing paisley gown, said the couple did not live together before they were married.

"She's a virgin!" Miss Messick shouted to anyone within hearing distance.

The creator added that Brenda, a news reporter, would keep her maiden name professionally and that she would continue working — "She didn't marry a rich boy."

The bride has spent the last 32 years pursuing the handsome dark-haired groom. He wore his black eyepatch. She carried a black orchid corsage. St. John suffers from a mysterious ailment treatable only from serum extracted from black orchids.

The story goes that for years he was afraid to marry Brenda for fear he would go nuts; in front of her and pass the disease to their children. But now, a long-lived serum has been discovered and St. John no longer needs to reside in the Brazilian jungle growing black orchids. Professionally, St. John sells the serum to others suffering from this rare illness.

Asked what advice she would offer the couple, Miss Landers, draped in blue and white chiffon, just shrugged. Pressed why she attended the ceremony, she said between mouthfuls of cheese quiche, "I'd like to know myself."

One of the guests, Mrs. Jouett Shouse, founder of suburban Wolf Trap Farm Park for the Performing Arts, brought a wedding gift, a Spode china platter.

"I'm sure it won't match anything she has, but I hope they can use it," she said.

Sara Moore Faces Prison For Trying To Kill Ford

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sara Jane Moore, the onetime FBI informant with radical connections, could become the second woman within a month to be sentenced to life in prison for trying to kill President Ford.

U.S. District Court Judge Samuel Conti could impose today any sentence up to life imprisonment on the 45-year-old divorced mother under a special federal law covering attempted presidential assassination.

She was arrested Sept. 22, moments after she fired a pistol at Ford as he stepped from a downtown hotel here. The shot was deflected and the President escaped injury.

Miss Moore first pleaded innocent. But in a surprise move, she switched her plea to guilty on Dec. 16, declaring she had "willfully and knowingly" tried to kill Ford.

Reading from a written statement, she cited alleged U.S. involvement in assassination plots against foreign leaders and said, "When any government uses assassination ... to put down dissent ... it must expect that tool to be turned back against it."

Conti accepted the plea change but expressed concern about her refusal to say under oath whether anyone encouraged her or helped plan the attempt.

Although prosecutors said they had no evidence of conspiracy, Conti said he was "not completely satisfied" with Miss Moore's statements and urged her to give probation officers information on the possible involvement of others. He said such a disclosure "could assist in possible mitigation of sentence."

Miss Moore is the second person convicted under the special federal law passed by Congress in the aftermath of President John F. Kennedy's assassination in 1963. The first person, Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme, a member of the Charles Manson cult, was sentenced to life imprisonment on Dec. 17. A jury convicted her of trying to kill Ford when she pointed a gun at him Sept. 5 in Sacramento, Calif.

Miss Moore's attorney, Chief Public Defender James Hewitt, has contended that her change of plea should have been rejected and trial ordered. He said he would have provided her with a defense of insanity or diminished capacity.

In two psychiatric reports prepared for the court before her guilty plea, one doctor found her mental condition "had a pivotal effect on her actions of Sept. 22." The second concluded she suffers from "mental disease, a hysterical personality disorder," but declared her capable of "appreciating the wrongfulness of her behavior."

Miss Moore, a matronly bookkeeper and former suburban housewife with a 9-year-old son, passed the FBI information about radical acquaintances for about a year.

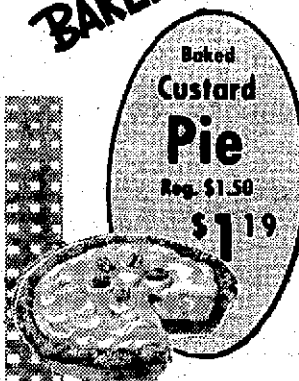

She functioned as a law enforcement informant up to the day before the assassination try. In fact, she introduced a federal firearms agent to the gun collector who sold her the .38-caliber revolver she fired at Ford outside the St. Francis Hotel after a Republican fundraising luncheon.

Catholic Church Eases Position On Homosexuals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — As saluting "the unbridled exaltation of sex," the Vatican today renewed the Roman Catholic Church's condemnation of sex outside marriage but broke new ground in its treatment of homosexuals.

While condemning homosexuality as "intrinsically wrong," the Vatican statement drew a distinction between "transitory" and "incurable" homosexuals. It said the latter should "be treated with understanding" and "their culpability judged with prudence."

The 6,000-word "Declaration on Certain Questions Concerning Sexual Ethics" was issued by the Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of Faith with the approval of Pope Paul VI.

Vatican experts said the document was aimed at those persons challenging the traditional sexual morals of the church, including some priests and theologians. Among the sexual acts condemned in the statement were premarital sex and masturbation.

The president of the United States Conference of Bishops, Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin of Cincinnati, called the document a "clear, pastoral and timely proclamation of values which are fundamental to the defense of human dignity."

The Vatican declaration asked parents and teachers to educate the young on sexual matters with prudence and with "information suited to their age." It said the mass media, the entertainment world and artists and writers "must show tact, discretion, moderation and a true sense of values" so as not to add to "the growing permissiveness of behavior."

"The corruption of morals has increased, and one of the most serious indications of this corruption is the unbridled exaltation of sex," the declaration said.

"The sexual function has its true meaning and moral rectitude only in true marriage."

It said masturbation is a "seriously disordered act," premarital sexual relations are "contrary to Christian doctrine," and "homosexual acts are intrinsically disordered and can in no case be approved of."

But it said a distinction is drawn, "and it seems with some reason, between homosexuals whose tendency comes from a false education, from a lack of normal sexual development, from habit, from bad example, or from other similar causes, and is transitory or at least not incurable; and homosexuals who are definitely such because of some kind of innate instinct or a pathological constitution judged to be incurable."

It said this latter category of homosexuals must be treated by the Church "with understanding and sustained in the hope of overcoming their personal difficulties and their inability to fit into society. Their culpability will be judged with prudence. But no pastoral method can be employed which would give moral justification to these actions on the grounds that they would be consonant with the condition of such people."

The declaration, which generally avoided discussion of sexual acts within marriage, called attention to Pope Paul's 1968 encyclical renewing the Church's condemnation of artificial methods of contraception.

Cass Snowmobile Crash Kills Man From Indiana

UNION — An Indiana man was killed south of here yesterday morning when the snowmobile he was riding flipped over and crushed him.

Cass county sheriff's deputies identified the victim as James L. Green, 47, of Bristol, Ind. Deputies said Green was found about 6 a.m. Wednesday by a passing motorist on Union road, about a mile south of US-12 in Porter township.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Robert M. Knox of Edwardsburg, the county medical examiner.

Green's death has been pronounced accidental and will not be counted as a traffic fatality, according to Under Sheriff David Morwin.

It was the second fatality on a snowmobile within a week in southwestern Michigan. Last Sunday, 15-year-old Matt Klezle of Watervliet died after the snowmobile he was riding leaped a snowbank and crashed into a garage in Watervliet township. That death was counted as a traffic fatality.

Cass deputies said that Green was traveling southbound on Union road sometime after midnight when he apparently lost control of the vehicle and flipped it. He was found pinned under the snowmobile.

Deputies said he may have been in the road several hours before being discovered.

Patty 'Bullied' By Psychiatrist

by Kozol at San Mateo County Jail on Jan. 7. Under questioning, she alleged that he:

—Tried to question her without her attorney in the building.

—Asked to see some leg scars from a tennis injury. "He picked up my leg and looked at it," she said. "When talking to me, he tapped at my hands."

—Implied she had herself kidnapped Feb. 4, 1974, by the Symbionese Liberation Army.

—Asked her whether the late black SLA leader Donald "Chique" DeFreeze "had any white in him," and whether she was attracted to DeFreeze.

—Asked whether she was congratulated by SLA members after the SLA's April 1974 robbery of the Hibernia Bank here. "I told him I didn't feel proud about it," she testified.

—Asked whether she was hostile towards her childhood nursemaid. "What's the matter? Was it because she couldn't break you?" Miss Hearst quoted him as saying.

—Asked whether Trish Tobin, a close childhood friend, was connected with the terrorist SLA or knew SLA member Emily Harris.

—Called her a "little girl" several times and made it sound "like I was stupid."

The defense attorney also testified that a jail matron told him that Kozol "appeared hard of hearing, incoherent and very confused." But the matron, Deputy Sheriff Celeste Guillory, testified later that she merely had asked Johnson whether the doctor was hard of hearing and was lost in the unfamiliar building.

She denied telling Johnson that the doctor was "incoherent" and admitted under cross-examination that the noise level in that jail area was high.

Miss Hearst testified the doctor "would kind of ramble."

She said he asked questions about her family history, then, "He said let's go to Feb. 4, 1974. You got yourself kidnapped."

Under cross-examination by U.S. Atty. James Browning Jr., she said she took offense because she felt the doctor's statement meant she had something to do with her own kidnapping.

Asked whether she felt hostility toward the doctor, Miss Hearst said, "I was upset and I wasn't fully well but not hostile."

Jail matron Isabella McKeever testified she told Johnson the day of the psychiatric interview that Miss Hearst "didn't feel too well. She didn't look too well and had been very quiet." But on cross-examination, the deputy admitted the health problem "was nothing terribly serious."

Meanwhile, Steven Soliah, the 27-year-old house painter arrested along with Miss Hearst Sept. 18, was released on $100,000 bail Wednesday in Sacramento, Calif., where he faces charges stemming from last April's $15,000 Carmichael, Calif., bank robbery in which a woman bystander was killed.

Soliah, believed to be Miss Hearst's lover, left the county jail with his parents and refused to discuss his relationship with her or the SLA. The FBI says Miss Hearst rented a garage used to store the getaway car in the Carmichael holdup.

Chairman Reelected

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Stanley G. Thayer of Ann Arbor has been re-elected chairman of the state Liquor Control Commission for a one-year term. By a unanimous vote of the five-member commission, Thayer was elected Wednesday to his 10th year as chairman, the longest time anyone has ever held the post in the commission's 42-year history.

Patman Stepping Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman of Texas, a self-styled populist Democrat who has served longer than any other person now in Congress, will retire this year. Patman, 82, will have served 48 years in Congress when his term ends. Patman announced his plans Wednesday not to run for re-election. Last January, Patman was one of three committee chairmen defeated by Democratic colleagues for re-election. Patman was accused of being too old, too autocratic in dealing with panel members and less than effective in guiding his committee's bills through the House.

"No man can forgive what you did. I pray, and I hope you do, that God will, before you face His eternal judgment find forgiveness for you."

The boy's alleged father, Johnny Dortch, is slated for trial later this month on two charges of first-degree murder in connection with the deaths of the Freeman's.

Fall Injures New Buffalo Police Chief

NEW BUFFALO — New Buffalo Police Chief Dale Siebenmark, injured in a fall at his home Tuesday, is expected to be back on duty in about a week, a spokesman for the department said today.

The spokesman said Siebenmark slipped on some icy steps. It is believed he broke three ribs, the spokesman said.

The chief is recovering at his home.

Two Fishing Tugs Freed From Ice

SAUGATUCK — Two fishing tugs trapped in Lake Michigan ice off Saugatuck harbor were freed yesterday by two Coast Guard icebreakers.

The tugs, trapped in four-foot thick ice since Tuesday, had eight people on board in all, according to a Coast Guard spokesman from Muskegon.

The cutters Raritan from Ludington and Westwind from Milwaukee worked nearly 24 hours freeing the tugs J.R. Chambers and the Shirley B. The Shirley B. became disabled when a clutch burned out while attempting to cut through the ice. The Chambers was disabled with the same problem while attempting to rescue the Shirley B. No injuries were reported.

Catholic Church Eases Position On Homosexuals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — As-sailing "the unbridled exaltation of sex," the Vatican today renewed the Roman Catholic Church's condemnation of sex outside marriage but broke new ground in its treatment of homosexuals.

The 6,000-word "Declaration on Certain Questions Concerning Sexual Ethics" was issued by the Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of Faith with the approval of Pope Paul VI.

Vatican experts said the document was aimed at those persons challenging the traditional sexual morals of the church, including some priests and theologians. Among the sexual acts condemned in the statement were premarital sex and masturbation.

The president of the United States Conference of Bishops, Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin of Cincinnati, called the document a "clear, pastoral and timely proclamation of values which are fundamental to the defense of human dignity."

The Vatican declaration asked parents and teachers to educate the young on sexual matters with prudence and with "information suited to their age." It said the mass media, the entertainment world and artists and writers "must show tact, discretion, moderation and a true sense of values" so as not to add to "the growing permissiveness of behavior."

"The corruption of morals has increased, and one of the most serious indications of this corruption is the unbridled exaltation of sex," the declaration said.

"The sexual function has its true meaning and moral rectitude only in true marriage." It said masturbation is a "seriously disordered act," premarital sexual relations are "contrary to Christian doctrine," and "homosexual acts are intrinsically disordered and can in no case be approved of."

But it said a distinction is drawn, "and it seems with some reason, between homosexuals whose tendency comes from a false education, from a lack of normal sexual development, from habit, from bad example, or from other similar causes, and is transitory or at least not incurable; and homosexuals who are definitely such because of some kind of innate instinct or a pathological constitution judged to be incurable."

It said this latter category of homosexuals must be treated by the Church "with understanding and sustained in the hope of overcoming their personal difficulties and their inability to fit into society. Their culpability will be judged with prudence. But no pastoral method can be employed which would give moral justification to these actions on the grounds that they would be consonant with the condition of such people."

The declaration, which generally avoided discussion of sexual acts within marriage, called attention to Pope Paul's 1968 encyclical renewing the Church's condemnation of artificial methods of contraception.

Fall Injures New Buffalo Police Chief

NEW BUFFALO — New Buffalo Police Chief Dale Siebenmark, injured in a fall at his home Tuesday, is expected to be back on duty in about a week, a spokesman for the department said today.

The spokesman said Siebenmark slipped on some icy steps. It is believed he broke three ribs, the spokesman said.

The chief is recovering at his home.

Two Fishing Tugs Freed From Ice

SAUGATUCK — Two fishing tugs trapped in Lake Michigan ice off Saugatuck harbor were freed yesterday by two Coast Guard icebreakers.

The tugs, trapped in four-foot thick ice since Tuesday, had eight people on board in all, according to a Coast Guard spokesman from Muskegon.

The cutters Raritan from Ludington and Westwind from Milwaukee worked nearly 24 hours freeing the tugs J.R. Chambers and the Shirley B. The Shirley B. became disabled when a clutch burned out while attempting to cut through the ice. The Chambers was disabled with the same problem while attempting to rescue the Shirley B. No injuries were reported.

High Court Lifts 105-Year Tax Ban On Stored Imports

By W. DALE NELSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Supreme Court decision striking down a 105-year-old restriction on taxation of imported goods in storage will be a boon to some local governments but have little impact on others.

The court ruled Wednesday that states and localities may levy personal property taxes on imports any time after the merchandise arrives at the warehouse, so long as the imported goods are not singled out for discriminatory treatment.

In doing so, the justices reversed an 1871 decision that imports were exempt from local taxation until they were broken out of the "original form or package" in which they were shipped.

The states of Georgia, Kansas and Ohio, Los Angeles County and the city of Houston, among others, had filed briefs with the court indicating the power to tax the imported merchandise would be important to them financially.

Los Angeles County said it would involve more than $15 million per year in that county alone.

James Dexter Clark, deputy Los Angeles County counsel, said the $15 million represented the amount the county has been collecting under a lower court decision which held that goods are taxable after they have been removed from containerized cargo vans. He said the county expects to collect at least another $15 million a year because of the Supreme Court ruling.

"We are really pleased and not just because of the revenue," Clark said. "The important thing is that importers will no longer get away with not paying for services which the ordinary taxpayer has to pay for."

On the other hand, Paul Sweet of the National Conference of State Legislators said many states would be reluctant to tax such goods for fear of discouraging the import business.

A spokesman for the National Association of Counties said that, at least in some areas the decision would have little or no effect. The spokesman said neither Maryland nor New York, for example, have any personal property tax. New Jersey has one, but it exempts inventories.

Speaking for the court, Justice William J. Brennan Jr., conceded the decision might increase the cost of imported goods to consumers.

Three Delinquent Fathers Jailed

Three fathers owing a total of $3,371 in back child support were sentenced to jail this week in Berrien Circuit court and given strict orders to find employment when they're released from jail.

WILL RESIGN: Roy Wilkins, the 74-year-old director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, says he will resign at the end of the year. Wilkins, who has headed the country's oldest civil rights organization for 22 years, made the announcement Monday at a board of directors meeting. (AP Wirephoto)

Edward Pastrick, special investigator for the Berrien friend of the court's office, reported:

O.C. Jackson, of 1242 Blossom lane, Benton township, was found in contempt of court by Judge Chester J. Byrns for $438 arrears for one child on ADC and sentenced to 30 days in jail. Byrns also placed Jackson on two years probation, and ordered him to find work within 60 days of his release or he'd spend 60 more days in jail. Jackson was additionally told to execute a wage assignment of $6 weekly child support and $5 weekly towards the arrearage.

Jerry Pipkins, of Coloma, received an identical sentence from Byrns for $665 arrears for two children not on ADC, and was told to sign a wage assignment of $35 weekly support and $5 weekly on the arrears.

Dan Pearce, of Lakeside, was held in contempt by Byrns for $2,268 arrears for four children on ADC, placed on two years probation, and ordered to spend 48 hours in jail. He was also told to find work on his release, and pay $36 weekly support and $5 weekly towards the arrearage.

High Court Lifts 105-Year Tax Ban On Stored Imports

By W. DALE NELSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Supreme Court decision striking down a 105-year-old restriction on taxation of imported goods in storage will be a boon to some local governments but have little impact on others.

The court ruled Wednesday that states and localities may levy personal property taxes on imports any time after the merchandise arrives at the warehouse, so long as the imported goods are not singled out for discriminatory treatment.

In doing so, the justices

reversed an 1871 decision that imports were exempt from local taxation until they were broken out of the "original form or package" in which they were shipped.

The states of Georgia, Kansas and Ohio, Los Angeles County and the city of Houston, among others, had filed briefs with the court indicating the power to tax the imported merchandise would be important to them financially.

Los Angeles County said it would involve more than $15 million per year in that county alone.

James Dexter Clark, deputy Los Angeles County counsel, said the $15 million represented the amount the county has been collecting under a lower court decision which held that goods are taxable after they have been removed from containerized cargo vans. He said the county expects to collect at least another $15 million a year because of the Supreme Court ruling.

"We are really pleased and not just because of the revenue," Clark said. "The important thing is that importers will no longer get away with not paying for services which the ordinary taxpayer has to pay for."

On the other hand, Paul Sweet of the National Conference of State Legislators said many states would be reluctant to tax such goods for fear of discouraging the import business.

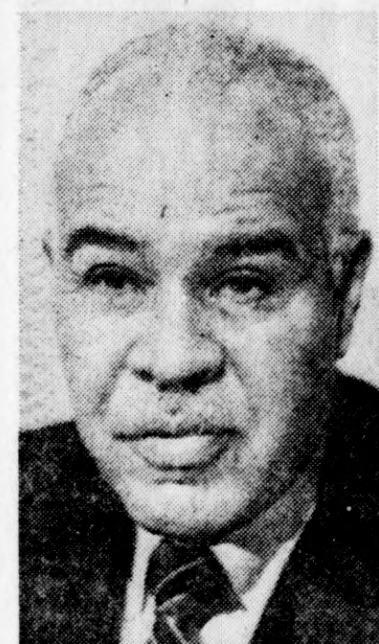

A spokesman for the National Association of Counties said that at least in some areas the decision would have little or no effect. The spokesman said neither Maryland nor New York, for example, have any personal property tax. New Jersey has one, but it exempts inventories.

Speaking for the court, Justice William J. Brennan Jr., conceded the decision might increase the cost of imported goods to consumers.

in Berrien Circuit court and given strict orders to find employment when they're released from jail.

Edward Pastrick, special investigator for the Berrien friend of the court's office, reported:

O.C. Jackson, of 1242 Blossom lane, Benton township, was found in contempt of court by Judge Chester J. Byrns for $438 arrears for one child on ADC and sentenced to 30 days in jail. Byrns also placed Jackson on two years probation, and ordered him to find work within 60 days of his release or he'd spend 60 more days in jail. Jackson was additionally told to execute a wage assignment of $6 weekly child support and $5 weekly towards the arrearage.

Jerry Pipkins, of Coloma, received an identical sentence from Byrns for $665 arrears for two children not on ADC, and was told to sign a wage assignment of $35 weekly support and $5 weekly on the arrears.

Dan Pearce, of Lakeside, was held in contempt by Byrns for $2,268 arrears for four children on ADC, placed on two years probation, and ordered to spend 48 hours in jail. He was also told to find work on his release, and pay $36 weekly support and $5 weekly towards the arrearage.

Election Commission To Probe Morton Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Election Commission will investigate the appointment of Rogers C.B. Morton as a White House adviser paid by the taxpayers but assigned by President Ford to at least some political duties.

Democratic presidential candidate Fred Harris filed a complaint letter with the commission on Wednesday night, calling for a "full investigation and full disclosure concerning the mixed White House and political duties of... Morton."

An FEC spokesman said the complaint by Harris would not be brought up during today's commission meeting, although commissioners might be advised of it during a closed executive session.

But the spokesman said the receipt of a notarized complaint letter would automatically launch a staff investigation.

Harris' letter asking for the investigation followed comments by commission chairman Thomas Curtis, who said Wednesday that he is concerned about the propriety of the appointment. Officials say they are concerned that money spent for Morton's political activity would not be counted against Ford's campaign spending limit.

State's Surpluses Are Gone

WASHINGTON (AP) — A survey of the financial health of the states indicates that most states "face an increasingly bleak fiscal future" with spending increases outpacing increases in income.

"With few exceptions, state surpluses of previous years are gone," a statement with the survey reported. "Governors and legislatures, many of whom have already taken dramatic belt-tightening measures, are faced with further tax increases or spending cuts or both to keep their budgets in balance."

The 37-state survey found that estimated revenue for fiscal 1976 will increase 8 per cent. Expenditures are expected to reach $71 billion and revenue will total only $67.7 billion.

"This appears to indicate that the effects of the recession more than offset the revenue growth attributable to inflation," the report said.

"When you don't have the money, you have to raise taxes or cut spending, just when the recession demands that you do the reverse," said James Martin, deputy director of the National Governors Conference, which sponsored the survey.

In the statement, the organization said the study also indicated:

—The fiscal picture in energy-producing and agricultural states is more favorable than in heavily industrial states, where unemployment has been high.

—Welfare and Medicaid payments, driven up by recession, brought about major spending increases in fiscal 1975.

—The rate of increase in state government expenditures has been leveled by budget-balancing efforts of governors and legislatures in the current fiscal year.

—States are spending dollars earmarked for capital expenditures on current operations.

The Commerce Department has said the 50 states had a combined $4-billion surplus in 1972, due primarily to revenue-sharing funds, but this dropped to $160 million in 1973, then to a $7.3-billion deficit in 1974. By the end of the third quarter of 1975, the deficit had plummeted to $1.5 billion.

said Curtis was not saying the Ford campaign is in violation of campaign law but "they're in dangerous waters. They're treading on thin ice."

Ford on Tuesday named Morton, who has served as his commerce secretary, to be a White House counselor on economic and domestic policy with "incidental duties of liaison with the President Ford Committee and the Republican National Committee." Morton would receive a White House salary of $44,000.

It had long been expected that Ford would name Morton to a high campaign post in which his salary would be paid by the Ford election committee. But when the announcement was made, White House spokesman Ron Nessen down-played Morton's political role.

Harris told the FEC that if Morton's "primary duties are to help President Ford's campaign" he should not be on the public payroll.

Spending limits included in new campaign laws make it "particularly objectionable for President Ford to provide a campaign aide with a White House salary as it appears he has done," Harris said.

Harris said the new campaign laws provide an opportunity for the one man-one vote concept to function. "In the past, some people have had more than one vote, because they had the money — and money translated into political power," he wrote.

"With the new campaign financing law, people had a right to believe that average citizens had a chance to cut the super-rich and the giant corporations down to size.

Elsewhere, there were these political developments Wednesday:

—Republican candidate Ronald Reagan campaigned in

Jacksonville, Fla., where he again brushed off criticism of his plan to decentralize government.

The former California governor blamed federal bureaucrats for criticism of his plan to transfer many social and welfare programs from the federal to state and local governments.

"Bureaucracy is very adept at protecting its nest," Reagan said. "It also has a built-in instinct for preservation and reproduction of its own kind. A federal program is the nearest thing to eternal life we'll ever see."

—Democratic candidate Sen. Birch Bayh said in a speech to the Washington Press Club that proposals by Ford and Reagan to cut federal spending have been misleading. Bayh said such plans smack of political gimmickry and fiscal irresponsibility.

Bayh said that instead of cutting the federal budget, more money should be pumped into the economy in an effort to end the recession.

—The citizen lobby Common Cause asked all presidential candidates to list their budget priorities for 1977. Common Cause chairman John Gardner said, "Nothing can switch the candidates from rhetoric to reality more quickly than down-to-earth talk about the budget."

An important part of the popularity of aluminum in and around the house is that it is by nature a low maintenance material. But aluminum products do become dirty and require occasional cleaning. Because harsh abrasives do more harm than good, the rule of thumb about cleaning aluminum is to use the least strong cleaner that will do the job. The No. 1 choice, therefore, is water and mild soap. # Election Commission To Probe Morton Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Election Commission will investigate the appointment of Rogers C.B. Morton as a White House adviser paid by the taxpayers but assigned by President Ford to at least some political duties.

Democratic presidential candidate Fred Harris filed a complaint letter with the commission on Wednesday night, calling for a "full investigation and full disclosure concerning the mixed White House and political duties of ... Morton."

An FEC spokesman said the complaint by Harris would not be brought up during today's commission meeting, although commissioners might be advised of it during a closed executive session.

But the spokesman said the receipt of a notarized complaint letter would automatically launch a staff investigation.

Harris' letter asking for the investigation followed comments by commission chairman Thomas Curtis, who said Wednesday that he is concerned about the propriety of the appointment. Officials say they are concerned that money spent for Morton's political activity would not be counted against Ford's campaign spending limit.

State's Surpluses Are Gone

WASHINGTON (AP) — A survey of the financial health of the states indicates that most states "face an increasingly bleak fiscal future" with spending increases outpacing increases in income.

"With few exceptions, state surpluses of previous years are gone," a statement with the survey reported. "Governors and legislatures, many of whom have already taken dramatic belt-tightening measures, are faced with further tax increases or spending cuts or both to keep their budgets in balance."

The 37-state survey found that estimated revenue for fiscal 1976 will increase 8 per cent. Expenditures are expected to reach $71 billion and revenue will total only $67.7 billion.

"This appears to indicate that the effects of the recession more than offset the revenue growth attributable to inflation," the report said.

"When you don't have the money, you have to raise taxes or cut spending, just when the recession demands that you do the reverse," said James Martin, deputy director of the National Governors' Conference, which sponsored the survey.

In the statement, the organization said the study also indicated:

—The fiscal picture in energy-producing and agricultural states is more favorable than in heavily industrial states, where unemployment has been high.

—Welfare and Medicaid payments, driven up by recession, brought about major spending increases in fiscal 1975.

—The rate of increase in state government expenditures has been leveled by budget-balancing efforts of governors and legislatures in the current fiscal year.

—States are spending dollars earmarked for capital expenditures on current operations.

"To the extent that states had surpluses in any real sense, they have virtually disappeared," the statement said.

The Commerce Department has said the 50 states had a combined $4-billion surplus in 1972, due primarily to revenue-shar- ing funds, but this dropped to $100 million in 1973, then to a $7.9-billion deficit in 1974. By the end of the third quarter of 1975, the deficit had plummeted to $11.5 billion.

said Curtis was not saying the Ford campaign is in violation of campaign law but "they're in dangerous waters. They're treading on thin ice."

Ford on Tuesday named Morton, who has served as his commerce secretary, to be a White House counselor on economic and domestic policy with "incidental duties of liaison with the President Ford Committee and the Republican National Committee." Morton would receive a White House salary of $44,600.

It had long been expected that Ford would name Morton to a high campaign post in which his salary would be paid by the Ford election committee. But when the announcement was made, White House spokesman Ron Nessen down-played Morton's political role.

Harris told the FEC that if Morton's "primary duties are to help President Ford's campaign" he should not be on the public payroll.

Spending limits included in new campaign laws make it "particularly objectionable for President Ford to provide a campaign aide with a White House salary as it appears he has done," Harris said.

Harris said the new campaign laws provide an opportunity for the one man-one vote concept to function. "In the past, some people have had more than one vote because they had the money — and money translated into political power," he wrote.

"With the new campaign financing law, people had a right to believe that average citizens had a chance to cut the super-rich and the giant corporations down to size.

Elsewhere, there were these political developments Wednesday:

—Republican candidate Ronald Reagan campaigned in

Jacksonville, Fla., where he again brushed off criticism of his plan to decentralize government.

The former California governor blamed federal bureaucrats for criticism of his plan to transfer many social and welfare programs from the federal to state and local governments.

"Bureaucracy is very adept at protecting its nest," Reagan said. "It also has a built-in instinct for preservation and reproduction of its own kind. A federal program is the nearest thing to eternal life we'll ever see."

—Democratic candidate Sen. Birch Bayh said in a speech to the Washington Press Club that proposals by Ford and Reagan to cut federal spending have been misleading. Bayh said such plans smack of political gimmickry and fiscal irresponsibility. Bayh said that instead of cutting the federal budget, more money should be pumped into the economy in an effort to end the recession.

—The citizen lobby Common Cause asked all presidential candidates to list their budget priorities for 1977. Common Cause chairman John Gardner said, "Nothing can switch the candidates from rhetoric to reality more quickly than down-to-earth talk about the budget."

An important part of the popularity of aluminum in and around the house is that it is by nature a low maintenance material. But aluminum products do become dirty and require occasional cleaning. Because harsh abrasives do more harm than good, the rule of thumb about cleaning aluminum is to use the least strong cleaner that will do the job. The No. 1 choice, therefore, is water and mild soap. Aluminum siding can be effectively cleaned with a soft brush, a mild soap solution, and a hose. Hollow-handled brushes are used for washing. Make a practice Because men fighting a drinking problem often have a hard time dealing with people who know them, who were once friends, the help of a professional counselor is often needed.

Brochure Details Minors' Job Rules

The Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) has published a new brochure, "Minors Can Be a Major Help to Employers," providing detailed information for employers on laws and regulations covering the hiring of those under 18 years of age, MESC Director S. Martin Taylor has announced.

The brochure describes who is covered by the Little Juvenile Employment Act, hours minors may work, jobs at which minors may work, hazardous occupations at which minors may not work, and how to legally employ minors.

Minors exempt from the juvenile employment act include high school graduates, certain farm employees and minors employed at such jobs as newspaper carriers, handbill deliverers and domestic workers. Also excluded from coverage are non-hazardous jobs with parentally-owned businesses and certain camp and school jobs.

The booklet points out that minors may work between 6 a.m. and 10:30 p.m. (11:30 p.m., if not in school), but not during school hours. School and work combined cannot total more than 48 hours per week, six days a week. Restrictions are more severe for females in manufacturing jobs and for 14 and 15-year-olds.

Minors may not work with explosives or dangerous chemicals, with most power-driven equipment, in meat packing, mining, demolition, logging and some manufacturing and excavating jobs. In addition, 14 and 15-year-olds may not work in garages, gas stations or theaters. Minors may not work at jobs requiring excessive lifting.

To legally employ minors, employers must obtain Occupational Approval Application forms from the Department of Labor, Bureau of Safety and Regulations, 300 East Michigan, Lansing, Mich. 48913.

Copies of "Minors Can Be a Major Help to Employers" (form MESC 2797) are available from all MESC job service offices in Michigan or from the Public Information Service Division, 7310 Woodward, Detroit 48202.

THE ANNUAL Report of the U.S. Commissioner of Pensions for 1974 notes that "With the death of Daniel T. Bakeman, of Freedom, Cattaraugus County, New York, April 5, 1889, the last of the pensioned soldiers of the Revolution passed away." The World Almanac notes that Bakeman is generally accepted as the last American veteran of the Revolutionary War.

COURSE STARTS JAN. 22

'Speechcraft' Due In SJ

An eight-week course in public speaking and conducting meetings will be presented by Mainstreet Toastmasters starting 6 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 22 at the Chicken Nook, 1111 Main street, S. Joseph.

Called "Speechcraft," the course uses experienced members of Mainstreet Toastmasters as instructors. Participants "learn by doing," said James L. Basselman, coordinator for the course.

"While no one has to speak to an audience before he or she is ready," Basselman said, "the course is designed to build up confidence while teaching basic speech preparation."

Textbooks and program outline are furnished by Toastmasters International.

Chairman for the course is Ray Leatz, one of the charter members of Mainstreet Toastmasters. He said experienced speakers including members of Whirlpool education services department and Dr. Kenneth Hance, retired Michigan State university and Olivet college speech professor, will help registrants.

Included in the eight-week course are lessons in how to organize a speech, delivery techniques and parliamentary procedure to help laymen conduct meetings.

Registration can be made by contacting Basselman or Leatz or any member of Mainstreet Toastmasters.

New Soap Opera Hypos 2 Ratings

By JAY SHABUTY
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman," Norman Lear's satirical new soap opera, may make a few viewers and critics cry. But you won't find WNEW here and KTTV in Los Angeles sobbing over its ratings.

Each began the daily series last week, putting it in the 11 to 11:30 p.m. time slot. Compared to the previous week, it tripled WNEW's meager average ratings at that time and almost did the same at KTTV, according to A.C. Nielsen audience samples.

The show appears in 90 cities, according to a Lear spokesman, but no national estimates of its popularity will be ready for several weeks because it's syndicated and its starting time varies from area to area.

But the Nielsen head-count is literally overnight in Fun City and Los Angeles, thanks to meters on the TV sets in selected homes, and the meters bring very good news to WNEW and KTTV.

In the New York area, which Nielsen estimates contains more than 6.3 million TV-equipped homes, WNEW was barely getting by in the 11-11:30 p.m. ratings with reruns of Groucho Marx' old game show.

According to data for the week prior to the start of "Hartman" in that time period, Groucho averaged a four rating, meaning 253,000 homes.

By comparison, the time period's highest-rated show — a local news program on the CBS-owned station, WCBG — had an average rating that week of 14. Which means it was seen in more than one million homes.

But WNEW's ratings soared the night it premiered "Hartman," as a one-hour special, with two 30-minute episodes run back to back. The show, aired on Tuesday, Jan. 6, drew a 14 rating — nearly 900,000 homes.

Episode Two that night even beat the first half-hour of the top-rated network show, NBC's "Tonight," which only was seen in 570,375 New York area homes from 11:30 p.m. to midnight, Nielsen figures say.

When the week's ratings smoke cleared, the previous week's champ from 11 to 11:30 p.m. — WCBG's local news show — had slipped to a ratings average of 13, or 833,876 homes. This average was tied by the Hartman show.

A similar pattern occurred in Los Angeles, which Nielsen estimates has more than 3.6 million TV-equipped homes. KTTV average a three rating — 108,180 homes — with old movies it said it ran the week before it premiered "Mary Hartman."

The 11-11:30 p.m. ratings winners in that pre-Hartman week were the local news shows of network-owned KNBC and KNXT. Nielsen estimates each had an 11 rating, or 400,254 homes per program. Network-owned KABC had a 10 rating, according to the estimates.

Mary Hartman's initial success here and in LA may be a fluke. WNEW and KTTV each heavily promoted the show and viewers obviously were sampling it. Whether they'll stay with it is another question.

It's Performance That Counts Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gone are the days when appearance was the main concern of new car buyers, says the U.S. Consumer Information Center.

Consumer emphasis today focuses on the performances of the car — essentials such as how many miles will the car take its new owner on a gallon of gasoline.

Brochure Details Minors' Job Rules

The Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) has published a new brochure, "Minors Can Be a Major Help to Employers," providing detailed information for employers on laws and regulations covering the hiring of those under 18 years of age. MESC Director S. Martin Taylor has announced.

The brochure describes who is covered by the Little Juvenile Employment Act, which minors may work, hazardous occupations at which minors may not work, and how to legally employ minors.

Minors exempt from the juvenile employment act include high school graduates, certain farm employees and minors employed at such jobs as newspaper carriers, handbill deliverers and domestic workers. Also excluded from coverage are non-hazardous jobs with parentally-owned businesses and certain camp and school jobs.

The booklet points out that minors may work between 6 a.m. and 10:30 p.m. (11:30 p.m., if not in school), but not during school hours. School and work combined cannot total more than 48 hours per week, six days a week. Restrictions are more severe for females in manufacturing jobs and for 14 and 15-year-olds.

Minors may not work with explosives or dangerous chemicals, with most power-driven equipment, in meat packing, mining, demolition, logging and some manufacturing and excavating jobs. In addition, 14 and 15-year-olds may not work in garages, gas stations or theaters. Minors may not work at jobs requiring excessive lifting.

To legally employ minors,

employers must obtain Occupational Approval Application forms from the Department of Labor, Bureau of Safety and Regulations, 300 East Michigan, Lansing, Mich. 48913.

Copies of "Minors Can Be a Major Help to Employers" (form MESC 2797) are available from all MESC job service offices in Michigan or from the Public Information Service Division, 7310 Woodward, Detroit 48202.

COURSE STARTS JAN. 22 'Speechcraft' Due In SJ

An eight-week course in public speaking and conducting meetings will be presented by Mainstreet Toastmasters starting 6 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 22 at the Chicken Nook, 1111 Main street, S. Joseph.

Called "Speechcraft," the course uses experienced members of Mainstreet Toastmasters as instructors. Participants "learn by doing," said James L. Basselman, coordinator for the course.

"While no one has to speak to an audience before he or she is ready," Basselman said, "the course is designed to build up confidence while teaching basic speech preparation."

Textbooks and program outline are furnished by Toastmasters International.

Chairman for the course is Ray Leatz, one of the charter members of Mainstreet Toast-

masters. He said experienced speakers including members of Whirlpool education services department and Dr. Kenneth Hance, retired Michigan State university and Olivet college speech professor, will help registrants.

Included in the eight-week course are lessons in how to organize a speech, delivery techniques and parliamentary procedure to help laymen conduct meetings.

Registration can be made by contacting Basselman or Leatz or any member of Mainstreet Toastmasters.

New Soap Opera Hypnos 2 Ratings

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman," Norman Lear's satirical new soap opera, may make a few viewers and critics cry. But you won't find WNEW here and KTTV in Los Angeles sobbing over its ratings.

Each began the daily series last week, putting it in the 11 to 11:30 p.m. time slot. Compared to the previous week, it tripled WNEW's meager average ratings at that time and almost did the same at KTTV, according to A.C. Nielsen audience samples.

The show appears in 90 cities, according to a Lear spokesman, but no national estimates of its popularity will be ready for several weeks because it's syndicated and its starting time varies from area to area.

But the Nielsen head-count is literally overnight in Fun City and Los Angeles, thanks to meters on the TV sets in selected homes, and the meters bring very good news to WNEW and KTTV.

In the New York area, which Nielsen estimates contains more than 6.3 million TV-equipped homes, WNEW was barely getting by in the 11-11:30 p.m. ratings with reruns of Groucho Marx' old game show.

According to data for the week prior to the start of "Hartman" in that time period, Groucho averaged a four rating, meaning 253,500 homes.

By comparison, the time

period's highest-rated show — a local news program on the CBS-owned station, WCBS — had an average rating that week of 16. Which means it was seen in more than one million homes.

But WNEW's ratings soared the night it premiered "Hartman" as a one-hour special, with two 30-minute episodes run back to back. The show, aired on Tuesday, Jan. 6, drew a 14 rating — nearly 880,000 homes.

Episode Two that night even beat the first half-hour of the top-rated network show, NBC's "Tonight," which only was seen in 570,375 New York area homes from 11:35 p.m. to midnight, Nielsen figures say.

When the week's ratings smoke cleared, the previous week's champ from 11 to 11:30 p.m. — WCBS' local news show — had slipped to a ratings average of 13, or 823,876 homes. This average was tied by the Hartman show.

A similar pattern occurred in Los Angeles, which Nielsen estimates has more than 3.6 million TV-equipped homes. KTTV average a three rating — 109,160 homes — with old movies it said it ran the week before it premiered "Mary Hartman."

The 11-11:30 p.m. ratings winners in that pre-Hartman week were the local news shows of network-owned KNBC and KNTX. Nielsen estimates each had an 11 rating, or 400,254 homes per program. Network-owned KABC had a 10 rating, according to the estimates.

Mary Hartman's initial success here and in LA may be a fluke. WNEW and KTTV each heavily promoted the show and viewers obviously were sampling it. Whether they'll stay with it is another question.

It's Performance That Counts Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gone are the days when appearance was the main concern of new car buyers, says the U.S. Consumer Information Center.

Consumer emphasis today focuses on the performances of the car — essentials such as how many miles will the car take its new owner on a gallon of gasoline.

Steam Engines Being Restored For Smithsonian

RINGGOLD, Ga. (AP) — Bob Johnson makes his living restoring steam engines and other machinery from the nation's past.

Hired by the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, he works on most of his projects at his "Whistles in the Woods" museum near here.

The Smithsonian will use several of his steam engines and steam operated machines for its exhibition, among them one believed to be the only existing orchestration, a musical apparatus resembling the old player piano but more elaborate.

The orchestration has been chosen to be on exhibit at the Smithsonian and may become a permanent fixture there. The institution has an option to buy it after two years.

The Smithsonian has also commissioned Johnson to help duplicate most of the machinery that was on display at the Philadelphia Centennial exposition in 1876. Johnson already has some of this machinery and is building replicas of many of the machines no longer in existence.

The museum also wants him to construct a 32-foot tower for the original Otis steam-operated elevator. The original Otis car will be installed and made operable by Johnson.

Johnson came to the Smithsonian's attention when it wanted to make the light mechanism and lens from an old lighthouse a part of its Bicentennial display, but couldn't find anyone willing to tackle the project.

The U.S. Coast Guard donated the mechanism and Johnson sailed eight miles into Boston harbor to dismantle and ship it to Washington.

Another project is the restoration of an 1867 rotary press.

Johnson's talents aren't limited to restoration projects. He says he plays every stringed and fretted musical instrument and has worked with singer Johnny Cash on recordings and television.

Dowagiac College Tells Honor Roll

Stevensville — Rhonda J. Avery.

Labor Leaders Blast Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union leaders say they can't trust the Ford administration any more, even if the popular W.J. Perry Jr. becomes secretary of labor. "It will be a very difficult thing for the President to recover his credibility," said a spokesman for AFL-CIO President George Meany. White House officials say Perry, Federal Mediation Service director and the administration's chief troubleshooter in labor-management disputes, is President Ford's top choice to succeed John T. Dunlop. "There's no such thing as restoring credibility," said an official of the building trades unions. "The death knell has been sounded and it's going to be a battle royale with the administration this year."

NYC Gets More U.S. Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is extending another $140 million in loans to New York City today although a new study says the city is behind in its budget-cutting efforts and may have trouble repaying federal loans without seeking new revenues. A report prepared by the Arthur Andersen & Co. accounting firm also found that New York may not be able to return to the public bond market in 1978, a key goal of the federal aid program, unless the city immediately improves its accounting procedures. "Budgeted expenditures were to be reduced by $110 million in fiscal 1976, but only about $12 million of projected savings has been achieved to date," Andersen said in its report dated Dec. 29.

Eastern Computer Firm's Workers Have Lifetime Jobs

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — The board of directors is in jail, but business for a computer service bureau here is burgeoning anyway.

The board — all seven members — is imprisoned at the Massachusetts Correctional Institution here. It has served a collective sentence of 67 years in several state jails. With one exception, there is little hope that members of the board will be released in the near future. Each one is serving a life sentence for murder.

The board members believe that business is improving because they are in jail, not in spite of it.

Their business, called Computer Systems Programming, was formed after they came to prison. The enterprise stemmed from a computer training program instituted in the state prison system eight years ago.

"We're the inmates who have decided to hold our heads up high," said Arthur M. Leate, a member of the informal board. "We've decided we don't want to let the past destroy the future."

The business grew out of data processing work the inmates were doing for the state as part of their computer training. Word about their services spread among state agencies, and a prison reform bill was passed making it possible for inmates to earn money working for outside interests.

Two years ago they formed the service bureau and, last year, Honeywell, which sponsors the training program, loaned them a computer system to handle processing at the prison. Among their clients are the city of Brockton, the town of Framingham, the state Department of Natural Resources, the Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation and the Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

Most profits have been pumped back into the business. For example, the inmates have spent some $10,000 building a modern office and data processing center. Some clients pay their bills with supplies, such as paper and computer cards. This has prompted one inmate to jokingly describe the business as an example of the "convicts being conned." Altogether, the inmates estimate they have pocketed less than $1,000 each from the profits of the business over two years.

"This business didn't begin so that we could make money," Leate said. "It would be great to build a nest egg while we're in prison, but the main reason we work at it is because it is stimulating, challenging and educational. Computers are my guarantee that once I get out I won't have to come back."

Leate, 38, is the only inmate of the group with a chance to go free in the near future. He has been imprisoned for 10 years and is awaiting the results of a recent commutation hearing held to consider his release.

The inmates admit that some potential customers back away from doing business with a company of convicts.

Nevertheless, there's enough business — mostly from referrals — to keep them going. Some clients even trust the inmates with sensitive jobs. Leate processes a weekly payroll of over $120,000 for the town of Framingham. When school department employees are added to the system, the amount will reach a quarter-million dollars.

The seven inmates are among some 1,000 prisoners who have taken computer training since the program was introduced at Massachusetts prisons.

Barred Windows Could Be Deadly

By RICHARD BENKE
Associated Press Writer

An increasing number of urban Americans are placing bars on windows and multiple bolt locks on doors to keep burglars out. Some have found out too late that the devices can create a deadly prison of flames.

Firemen across the nation tell harrowing tales of families, including scores of children, trapped in smoke-choked rooms by metal window grates and key-operated deadbolt "safety" locks.

"The real problem is that people don't realize what happens to them in smoke and fire," said C.G. Munnally, the fire chief in Birmingham, Mich. "Fire investigators in the past just attributed deaths to smoke and left it at that, rather than wonder why the victims failed to get out."

In many cases the victims got to windows but were imprisoned by their own bars. Others have been found slumped against doors locked from the inside with a key. In the rush to get out they forgot or couldn't find the key.

Fire marshals in urban areas contacted by The Associated Press in an informal survey shared the same general reaction: "We can't tell you not to bar your windows, but there are better ways to protect your home."

Several cities, such as San Francisco and New York, have codes restricting the type of grates that can be put on windows, but door locks aren't as strictly regulated.

In New York City, fire department spokesmen reported from 10 to 20 deaths a year — up to 10 per cent of all fire fatalities in the city — are caused by illegal security grates.

Eight deaths in Detroit this year and at least seven other fatalities elsewhere in Michigan since 1973 have been blamed on deadbolt key locks, said Detroit Fire Marshal Donald L. Robinson.

The most gruesome case in Michigan occurred in Avon, a suburb northwest of Detroit, in December 1974. Firemen found the bodies of a man and his three children — ages 12, 14 and 16 — six feet from a door locked with a deadbolt that was key-operated inside and out.

Such locks are designed to prevent a burglar from opening a small hole in the door, reaching in and unlocking it.

"If you have too many locks on the door, especially double-keyed locks, you may not be able to find the keyhole in an emergency fire situation," said Sgt. Lee Tracy of the Beverly Hills, Calif., police.

In Beverly Hills and Los Angeles three deaths in as many months and four in a year have been attributed to window bars. The Los Angeles City Council recently took action to curb the toll by ordering that window bars be removable from the inside without the use of any special tool or key.

Beverly Hills is famed for its wealthy residents, but in most cases neighborhoods with window bars have been low-income, high-crime areas where people fear not only burglars but rapists and other attackers more than they fear fire, the officials agreed.

Los Angeles Fire Inspector Gilbert Lindley said he can't blame people for being afraid.

"Take a case like the West-side Rapist," he said of the 33 unsolved attacks and 10 murders that still haunt elderly women in west-central Los Angeles. "They think, 'Put up bars,' but that really isn't the answer."

"I'm an elderly woman, and they (bars) make me feel secure," said one San Bernardino, Calif., resident. "I can sleep with my doors open in the summertime and feel perfectly safe."

"For one thing, you can get smoke detectors," said Lindley. He said there are sophisticated computer-telephone systems which automatically notify police or fire agencies in the event of intruders or fires.

You pay according to the sophistication of a wide range of devices that can be installed, such as electric eyes, listening devices, heat sensors and a variety of alarms, silent and noisy. Most of them currently are more expensive than simple window bars, perhaps one reason why low-income areas opt for the grates.

Of course the more complicated devices often result in an increase in false alarms and "accidental trips," said Lt. Jack Yeske of the police department in San Marino, Calif., an exclusive suburb of Los Angeles.

"There are more sophisticated methods, and they (wealthier homeowners) can afford them," Lindley said.

In Atlanta, Ga., and elsewhere, there are concerted efforts to educate the public about fire safety measures.

"We've had a campaign under way here to preplan fire escape routes and to utilize a window in the escape route," said Atlanta Fire Marshal J.B. Gossett. "Barred windows are therefore discouraged," he said.

But if one must put bars on a window, select "security gates that actually swing open," said Beverly Hills Fire Inspector James Anderson.

"We're looking at them," he said. "Companies bring them to us. The ideal would be a gate, hinged like a door, that opens out — a strap hinge with the pin protected, that is covered so burglars can't get to it."

Barred Windows Could Be Deadly

Associated Press Writer

An increasing number of urban Americans are placing bars on windows and multiple bolt locks on doors to keep burglars out. Some have found out too late that the devices can create a deadly prison of flames.

Firemen across the nation tell harrowing tales of families, including scores of children, trapped in smoke-choked rooms by metal window grates and key-operated deadbolt "safety" locks.

"The real problem is that people don't realize what happens to them in smoke and fire," said C.G. Nunnally, the fire chief in Birmingham, Mich. "Fire investigators in the past just attributed deaths to smoke and left it at that, rather than wonder why the victims failed to get out."

In many cases the victims got to windows but were imprisoned by their own bars. Others have been found slumped against doors locked from the inside with a key. In the rush to get out they forgot or couldn't find the key.

Fire marshals in urban areas contacted by The Associated Press in an informal survey shared the same general reaction: "We can't tell you not to bar your windows, but there are better ways to protect your home."

Several cities, such as San Francisco and New York, have codes restricting the type of grates that can be put on windows, but door locks aren't as strictly regulated.

In New York City, fire department spokesmen reported from 10 to 20 deaths a year — up to 10 per cent of all fire fatalities in the city — are caused by illegal security grates.

Eight deaths in Detroit this year and at least seven other

A People Trap In Case Of Fire

fatalities elsewhere in Michigan since 1973 have been blamed on deadbolt key locks, said Detroit Fire Marshal Donald L. Robinson.

The most gruesome case in Michigan occurred in Avon, a suburb northwest of Detroit, in December 1974. Firemen found the bodies of a man and his three children — ages 12, 14 and 16 — six feet from a door locked with a deadbolt that was key-operated inside and out.

Such locks are designed to prevent a burglar from opening a small hole in the door, reaching in and unlocking it.

"If you have too many locks on the door, especially double-keyed locks, you may not be able to find the keyhole in an emergency fire situation," said Sgt. Lee Tracy of the Beverly Hills, Calif., police.

In Beverly Hills and Los Angeles three deaths in as many months and four in a year have been attributed to window bars. The Los Angeles City Council recently took action to curb the toll by ordering that window bars to be removable from the inside without the use of any special tool or key.

Beverly Hills is famed for its wealthy residents, but in most cases neighborhoods with window bars have been low-income, high-crime areas where people fear not only burglars but rapists and other attackers more than they fear fire, the officials agreed.

Los Angeles Fire Inspector Gilbert Lindley said he can't blame people for being afraid.

"Take a case like the West-side Rapist," he said of the 33 unsolved attacks and 10 murders that still haunt elderly women in west-central Los Angeles. "They think, 'Put up bars,' but that really isn't the answer."

"I'm an elderly woman, and they (bars) make me feel secure," said one San Bernardino, Calif., resident. "I can sleep with my doors open in the summertime and feel perfectly safe."

"For one thing, you can get smoke detectors," said Lindley. He said there are sophisticated computer-telephone systems which automatically notify police or fire agencies in the event of intruders or fires.

You pay according to the sophistication of a wide range of devices that can be installed, such as electric eyes, listening devices, heat sensors and a variety of alarms, silent and noisy. Most of them currently are more expensive than simple window bars, perhaps one reason why low-income areas opt for the grates.

Of course the more complicated devices often result in an increase in false alarms and "accidental trips," said Lt. Jack Yeske of the police department in San Marino, Calif., an exclusive suburb of Los Angeles.

"There are more sophisticated methods, and they (wealthier homeowners) can afford them," Lindley said.

In Atlanta, Ga., and elsewhere, there are concerted efforts to educate the public about fire safety measures.

"We've had a campaign under way here to preplan fire escape routes and to utilize a window in the escape route," said Atlanta Fire Marshal J.B. Gossett. "Barred windows are therefore discouraged," he said.

But if one must put bars on a window, select "security gates that actually swing open," said Beverly Hills Fire Inspector James Anderson.

"We're looking at them," he said. "Companies bring them to us. The ideal would be a gate, hinged like a door, that opens out — a strap hinge with the pin protected, that is covered so burglars can't get to it."

He said a knob-operated latch also would be preferable, "like turning a doorknob. One turn and it opens."

FOOD SERVICE MANAGEMENT State Approves LMC Course

A course in food service management has been approved by the state board of education for Lake Michigan college, which has taken first steps to get the program in operation.

Approval by the Michigan Department of Education means the program will be eligible for reimbursement by the state.

Benjamin Standen, dean of occupational studies at LMC, said the two-year course will be offered starting next September. In four semesters students will be able to obtain an associate degree in food service management. This would equip them to go immediately into the restaurant field or prepare them for additional education like Michigan State's hotel management course.

At present 17 students have just completed a course, "Introduction to Food Service Management." Another course, "Food and Beverage Merchandising and Menu Planning" will be offered for next semester.

The cafeteria kitchen at LMC was purposely designed larger than is necessary for daily food service to accommodate the food service course laboratory, Standen said.

Ranges, broilers, ovens including a micro wave oven, and food preparation equipment are being installed in the college kitchen.

Canteen Co. of Southwestern Michigan operates the college cafeteria. When the food service program is introduced, key personnel from Canteen will serve as instructors, Standen said.

Over the two years a student would take courses covering management of a restaurant, menu planning, job and worker analysis, layout and design of kitchens and food serving facilities, equipment, cost control, food purchasing, labor cost percentages, food sanitation and communication.

A committee of restaurant operators from all parts of Berrien county the job opportunities and recommended to the LMC trustees the program be adopted. This blue ribbon committee will review the program as it unfolds, Standen said.

Payments $17 Million Short

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Due to budget cuts, next month's state school aid payment will be $17 million less than originally planned, John Porter, state superintendent of public instruction, said Wednesday. Porter said the payment will total almost $174 million. He said the state school aid appropriation has been reduced by about $55 million, due to cuts ordered by the governor and the legislature. The February payment will be made in two installments instead of one because of the state's cash flow problems, he added.

Soviet And Arab Demands Expected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A Soviet demand for speedy resumption of the Geneva peace conference and support for Arab demands was expected today in the fourth day of the Security Council debate on the Arab-Israeli deadlock. Russia wants to return the peace initiative to Geneva where, as co-chairman of the conference, it can take a leading role in the Arab-Israeli negotiations. Since the one brief Geneva session in December 1973, the United States has monopolized the peacemaking field. Ambassador Jacob Malik was also certain to support the demands made by every Arab delegate in the debate for Israeli withdrawal from all occupied Arab territories and recognition of the rights of the Palestinian people.

Malik was expected to give further support to the Palestinian cause by rejecting a U.S. suggestion that the Geneva conference be convened on an informal basis without the Palestine Liberation Organization. The American suggestion was prompted by Israel's refusal to be present if the guerrilla group is represented. PLO spokesman Shafik el-Hout told reporters Wednesday night that the Palestinians insist on a reference to their "inalienable national rights" in any council resolution produced by the debate.

U.N. sources say the United States, Israel's supporter in the debate, will not go beyond a State Department statement last November which said "the legitimate interests of the Palestinian Arabs must be taken into account in the negotiation of a Arab-Israeli peace." El-Hout said the PLO wording "differentiates rights from interests and conveys the idea that you're talking about a people." He refused to spell out the "rights," saying the PLO goal in the current council debate was limited to proving "to the people of the world that there is a Palestinian people."

General Assembly resolutions adopted last fall specified such Arab rights as return to homes and properties, self-determination, national sovereignty and independence. Speeches by France, Sweden and Japan on Wednesday indicated a growing American isolation on the issue of expanding the council's guidelines for a peace settlement to include Palestinian "rights."

All three voiced support for existing council resolutions on the Arab-Israeli conflict which speak only of the "refugee problem." But all three also, spoke of the Palestinians' rights. Sweden's Ambassador Olof Rydbeck said "the Palestinian Arabs have legitimate national interests and rights, and these must be fully taken into account in the search for a solution."

Police Edict On Crime Irks French Press

PARIS (AP) — A tough new "crime will not pay" order put in force by French police during a recent kidnap sensation has raised fears that it will precipitate bloodshed in future, not avoid it.

Reversing a policy of leniency, policemen brusquely stepped in last week to prevent payment of a $3.4 million ransom for the release of Louis Hazan, chief executive of France's largest phonograph record company.

"To stop this dangerous increase in crime, the police will henceforth oppose payment of any ransom," the interior ministry declared in a statement. A few minutes later it announced the capture of two of Hazan's kidnapers as they arrived at a rendezvous to collect the money.

But Hazan himself then was still in the hands of other members of the kidnap gang, and Hazan's family said it was not informed that the payment would be stopped. Police traced the executive and freed him unharmed 24 hours after announcing the new hard line.

The stress of most newspaper editorials, however, was not on the successful outcome of the incident but on the risk that Hazan could have been killed by the irate kidnapers.

Le Monde said that Interior Minister Michel Poniatowski "played with the life of a man the way one plays with dice 'by chance.'" Le Quotidien de Paris said some jurists would interpret the new ruling as akin "to the crime of non-assistance to a person in danger" and would make the police the accomplices of the kidnapers.

Critics said the new rule would make families of future kidnap victims not contact the police but deal with the abductors privately and directly — which could only play into their hands by increasing their chances of getting away with it.

Officials informed of the new police decision indicated it would be imposed selectively depending on the circumstances of each case. In any event, there are no specific statutes on the law books that could allow authorities to take action against persons who paid ransom money, they said.

Sources said the new ruling was aimed at preventing new kidnappings and hostage taking. The sources would not speculate on whether it might tend to encourage more ruthless acts by kidnapers intent on collecting ransom money.

Public pressure in the past two years for action against hostage-takers prompted "shoot to kill" orders for police whenever it was certain this would not endanger the hostages.

But in more than 60 such incidents in 1975, police killed only five gunmen. The fact that no hostages were seriously hurt was drowned in the public clamor for more action, itself prompted by the wide publicity given kidnappings such as the Hazan case.

In 1975 there were only three hostage incidents. By 1974 they had jumped to 56 and incomplete figures for 1975 indicate a higher total. "It is a new phenomenon here and television coverage and banner headlines arouse deep emotions," said Dr. Yves Roumajou president of the French Criminological Association.

A recent poll showed 51 per cent of those asked favored the use of force in freeing hostages, but 70 per cent favored giving in to the abductors' demands if a relative was involved.

Official sources said that what finally stiffened the government's attitude was the fear that, if left unchecked, the wave of kidnappings could reach the endemic proportions in neighboring Italy.

"Also police in Holland and Britain recently announced an uncompromising attitude, and the French felt they had to do the same," a source said.

The sources said the whopping size of recent ransom demands also prompted the crackdown on payments. Ten years ago the average ransom asked was the equivalent of $114,000.

Kidnapers of the heir to an industrial fortune last month asked for — and got — $4.5 million and made off with less only because they inadvertently left behind a sack containing $909,000.

"Most individuals can't pay this sort of money and it has to come from companies or public funds," one official said. "This means that the taxpayers are paying ransom, in effect all of society."

Official sources said that what finally stiffened the government's attitude was the fear that, if left unchecked, the wave of kidnappings could reach the endemic proportions in neighboring Italy.

"Also police in Holland and Britain recently announced an uncompromising attitude, and the French felt they had to do the same," a source said.

The sources said the whopping size of recent ransom demands also prompted the crackdown on payments. Ten years ago the average ransom asked was the equivalent of $114,000.

Kidnapers of the heir to an industrial fortune last month asked for — and got — $4.5 million and made off with less only because they inadvertently left behind a sack containing $909,000.

"Most individuals can't pay this sort of money and it has to come from companies or public funds," one official said. "This means that the taxpayers are paying ransom, in effect all of society."

DRY RUN: Concern of the long-distance runner in this case happens to be his footwear. One of 330 participants in the recent 12-mile run in the Philippine capital of Manila, he carried his shoes to the finish rather than risk them in a sudden down-pour.

BH Permits
Valued At $3,005

The Benton Harbor building inspection recently issued five permits for residential projects totaling an estimated $3,005.

Permits were issued to Trail Kleen, Inc., Benton Harbor, for general repairs to an apartment building, owned by the city public housing commission at 310 Pleasant street, for $2,530; and for repairs to a single-family dwelling at 1120 Colfax avenue, owned by Al Chase, $300.

Other permits were issued to Donald Schneider for remodeling in an apartment house he owns at 519 East Britain avenue, $100; Johnnie Lee Adams, to enclose six porch windows in a single-family house he owns at 879 Superior street, $50; and Daniel Brown, for repairs to a single-family house he owns at 445 Lincoln avenue, $25.

A wrecking permit was issued to James Wirth to demolish a 12 by 16-foot garage at 602 Niles avenue.

AL Plans Seattle Move

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The American League is ready to put an expansion team in Seattle for the 1977 season.

The next move is up to the National League — with San Francisco, Washington and Toronto waiting for some hint today of what is in their baseball future.

"It's our hope that the National League will go along and take in Washington and also agree to a modified form of interleague play," American League President Lee MacPhail said Wednesday after announcing that the league had endorsed a recommendation for expansion made by the major league owners' franchise committee.

The owners' meeting continued here today, with the National League expected to vote on the expansion proposal. Washington is considered most likely to become the 13th National League city, after twice losing American League franchises.

If Toronto should be named, it would mean rejection of the Canadian city's hopes of acquiring the San Francisco Giants.

Or the league could go on record against expanding. If that should happen, said MacPhail, "It's possible we would expand on our own."

"Seattle is our immediate concern," he added. "Although no details have been worked out, our interest is in expanding to Seattle."

A multimillion-dollar lawsuit, filed by the Pacific Northwest city which lost an AL franchise in 1970, went to court this week. It made such expansion plans expedient, the league president implied.

"If they're promised a team, they'll drop the suit. It's as simple as that," said one American League owner.

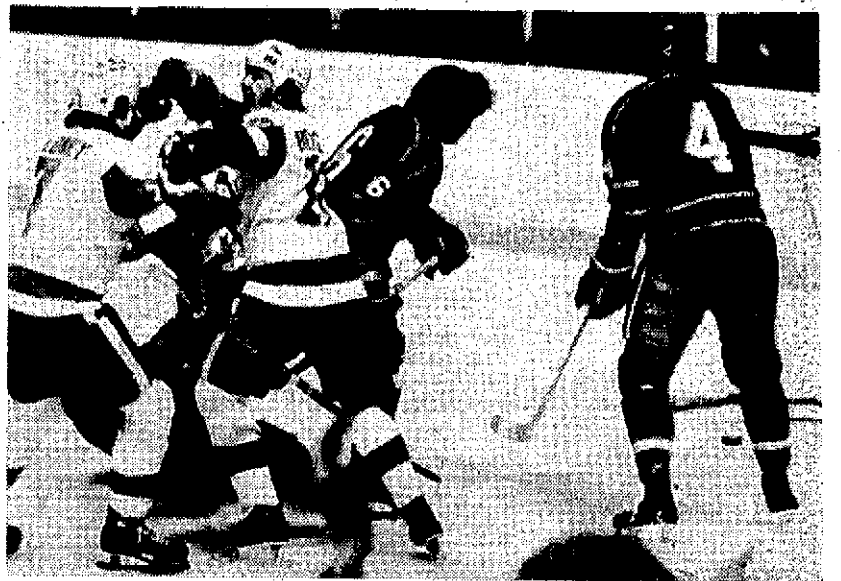

However, Seattle Mayor Wes Uhlman had a lukewarm reaction to the American League's decision, which is subject to final action expected at a Jan. 31 league meeting.

"Until a specific offer is made with specific conditions spelled out, we will not change our position," Uhlman said in regard to the lawsuit.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn indicated Wednesday that no spring training camp will open until a settlement with the Players Association is reached on a new basic agreement. An owners' committee was scheduled to meet with association Executive Director Marvin Miller and player reps, seeking changes in baseball's reserve clause, later today in nearby Scottsdale.

The National League owners heard a presentation Wednesday from the Toronto group willing to pay at least $13 million for the Giants, and the legal problems which would be involved in moving them. San Francisco Mayor George Moscone also spoke at the meeting and both sides expressed optimism.

Because of a temporary restraining order against Giants President Horace Stoneham and the league, the Giants will have no new owners until at least next week. The league voted to extend financial aid to the team until the team is sold, either to the Toronto interests or to someone who would keep the team in San Francisco.

Old Controversy Reopened

Cowboys' Staubach Wants To Call Plays

MIAMI (AP) — "Here we go again," Roger Staubach sighed — and a controversy that has dogged him every day of his pro football life was rekindled.

Virtually every time Staubach has thrown the football for the Dallas Cowboys, he has done it at the direction of Coach Tom Landry. Unlike most coaches, who tend to allow their quarterback to call their own signals, Landry shuttles his plays in, one at a time, with alternating running backs acting as messengers.

That system of long-distance calls hasn't sat too well with Staubach. Like anyone inside pro football or out of it, he has his pride. It's been dented a bit by Landry's sideline system.

Occasionally, he's permitted to allow his feelings to surface. They did once again on Wednesday as the Cowboys continued their preparations for Super Bowl on Sunday against the National Football League's defending champions, the Pittsburgh Steelers.

"I would rather call my own plays," Staubach said when the old wound was reopened. "I talked to Landry about it in the offseason. But he feels it (the sideline system) is a trend in football."

Was he convinced that Landry's way of doing things is more successful, or has he simply accepted it was a way of life? "I've accepted it," he said pointedly.

All of the Cowboys' quarterbacks have accepted it, starting with little Eddie LeBaron and Don Meredith when the franchise was born in 1960 with Landry at the helm. There were times, in fact, when Landry alternated quarterbacks on every play.

Staubach's introduction to the message system came in 1969, when he came out of the Navy. For several years, he and Craig more. We're not saying Roger's not capable of calling the plays. But now, a lot of the teams in the league call the plays for their quarterbacks. And it's a tremendous advantage to the coach.

"When a quarterback calls a play," Landry said, "we don't who has had his capabilities, his intelligence, called into question. He's been called everything from a dumb hill-billy to an educated ignoramus.

Naturally, he's bristled at those opinions. He seemingly silenced his critics a year ago when his masterful play-calling throughout the season and in Super Bowl IX against Minnesota helped lead the Steelers to the first championship in the club's history.

But when he appeared in Miami Tuesday, the Steelers' first public appearance in the massive buildup for Super Bowl X, one television sportscaster started off a question with the phrase: "Terry, about all those comments on just how smart Bradshaw winced, threw up his hands, muttered, "Oh for heaven's sake," and walked away to field more pertinent questions.

Steelers' Coach Chuck Noll isn't worried about Bradshaw's play-calling or the defense he directs. He sees to be more concerned with the Dallas defense it will face, the so-called "Flex defense" employed by Landry's troops.

"Dallas offers more problems offensively and defensively than any other team we could face," Noll said. "They do things differently from other NFL teams."

The Flex, as Landry explains it, is designed to prevent a defensive player from automatically reacting to what the offensive players do, to hold his ground.

Morton, now with the New York Giants, dined for the starting job. Staubach won it for good in 1973. He also won a shot at calling his own signals that year — but not for long.

For the first nine games that season, Staubach barked out his own commands. In the 10th one, on Thanksgiving Day, Dallas lost to Miami. "The day after we lost, Landry called me and said, 'Forget about the play-calling. I just want you to worry about studying and executing.'" Staubach's days as his own man behind the Dallas center ended with that loss — and it's been that way since then. Landry insists it's for the better.

"Calling plays has been controversial at times," he said at Wednesday's news conference. "But I don't think it's that any know what he's calling. So we can't say it was a good play for that situation or a bad one, and therefore whether it worked well or not — whether it was the play itself or the execution.

"It might take a quarterback three or four plays to detect what's wrong," Landry said of a team's failure to move the ball. "I'm not going to waste three or four plays. We can adjust quicker."

Staubach would rather do it all on his own, not just somebody else's work. "I would rather control the game ... I'd like to handle my own thing," he says. "It's something that's missing."

It's an interesting note that while Staubach calls someone else's plays, Pittsburgh quarterback Terry Bradshaw calls his own — yet it is Bradshaw

Evert Repeats As Top Female Athlete

NEW YORK (AP) — Chris Evert, who last year fit the mold of the "boring rich" by setting money-winning records with her two-fisted backhand and baseline stance, started off 1976 with a victory, a resolution to make her tennis game more exciting and yet another trophy — as The Associated Press 1975 Female Athlete of the Year.

Miss Evert, who won the AP honor in 1974, repeated after winning a record $362,227 in prize money and capturing 14 tournaments, including the U.S. Open, the French and Italian opens and the U.S. Clay Court championship.

The 21-year-old tennis star ran away with the AP title announced today, collecting 246 votes in a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Sandra Palmer, the leading money winner on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour, was runner-up with 64 votes. Anne Marie Moser-Proell, who won a record fifth consecutive World Cup in international skiing before retiring, was third with 15 votes.

Billie Jean King, a two-time AP Athlete who was Miss Evert's nemesis until she retired from singles competition following her victory at Wimbledon, was fourth with six votes, and Olympic gymnast Olga Korbut, the 1972 winner, was fifth with five votes.

During her record-setting year, Miss Evert was quoted as saying that her baseline game got so monotonous that "sometimes I even bore myself." So this year, she resolved to relieve the routine. After winning her season debut in the L'Expos World Series of Women's Tennis last Sunday in Austin, Tex., she admitted that her new style was more fun.

"I'm taking more chances," she said. "I'm rushing the net more — it's more exciting."

Tigers Counting On Quickness Against Weekend Foes

Benton Harbor coach Earl McKee has been waiting for his Tigers to utilize their quickness all season.

Now McKee is hoping Benton Harbor will get its fast break in high gear this weekend, just in time to make a run at the Lake Michigan Athletic Conference title.

The Tigers head into the home stretch of their schedule over the weekend with a pair of games. Benton Harbor hosts Muskegon Monday night at the Colfax Gym before traveling Saturday to Kalamazoo Central.

Benton Harbor has won three of its last four games to push its record to 1-2 in the LMAC and 4-4 overall. On paper, neither Mona Shores (0-3 and 2-7, respectively) nor Kalamazoo (3-0) should offer much of a challenge to the Tigers. But McKee knows otherwise.

"It's not like playing two losing teams," McKee said. "Both will be playing at their best because they're up for us. Mona Shores has in the past managed to beat us about once a year. It's going to be tough because they're going to be high for us."

McKee is counting on the Benton Harbor quickness finally coming to the surface in the two games this weekend. And to make sure it does, the Tigers battled speedily Class D power Covert in a scrimmage Wednesday.

"We have to use our quickness," he said. "We haven't really used it yet and we're quicker than most teams we play. If we go ahead and do what we're trying to do in the two games over the weekend, we'll be alright."

"We can't be concerned as much about Mona Shores and Kalamazoo as we are about making our team work together."

Mona Shores' biggest problem has been defense. The Sailors have yielded at least 61 points in all but one game this year. Muskegon's defensive average is 70.3 per game.

Mike Patton, the 6-4 Sailor center, heads Mona Shores with a 15.0 per game average. Dick VanHollander, a 6-1 forward, 5-10 Keith Brown and guards Phil McHenry and Ed Kay round out the starting five for the scrappy Sailors.

Kalamazoo's record is a bit deceiving since four of the six losses have come by seven points or less.

Guard Charles Brandon is the Maroon Giants top scorer, with 5-7 Ed Boyd and 6-5 center Tai-bert Ollie close behind. Junior Greg Parker, a 6-1 forward, has been a pleasant surprise.

The Benton Harbor lineup is unsure. Russell Steele will probably get the call at one forward and junior Steve McNitt and senior Ray Thompson are likely candidates for backcourt. Steele and Thompson head the Tigers offensive with 22.1 and 16.2 scoring averages, respectively.

Senior Bonnie Bowers, the top Tiger rebounder, was suspended (along with Thompson) and missed last Friday's game with Traverse City. Bowers has gotten himself in McKee's doghouse again this week by missing Tuesday's practice.

Randy Clark and Leon Lewis were also absent Tuesday and McKee had not decided what measures he would take.

Big Bobcat Quarter Sinks Lakeshore

Lancers Drop Seventh Straight

NILES — Poise is sometimes called a virtue.

And Wednesday night here Brandywine had the poise and Lakeshore did not. A wild third quarter proved to be the difference as the Bobcats rolled past the Lancers 64-50.

The win was the fifth in six Blossomland games for Brandywine, now 9-2 overall. Lakeshore, which has lost seven in a row, fell to 1-5 and 1-10, respectively, its worst start since the 1963-64 season.

"We were just unable to put the ball in the hole," Lancer coach Lloyd MacTavish lamented. "And our attitude played a big part in it. The game got a little loose in the third quarter. They had a much better attitude to overcome the looseness than we did."

"I have to complement the officials, however. When the game started to get out of hand they just clamped down and didn't let it get away."

Craig Shafer headed the Lancer attack with 15 points, followed by reserve Larry Toth with 14 and Tom Jager with 10. Sophomore Tony Harris was the only Brandywine player to hit for double figures with 17 points.

"Poise was the big thing,"

Brandywine coach Frank Standley said. "We didn't lose our poise. Potentially Lakeshore is one of the best teams in the conference. But their two big men got in foul trouble and they did not have them on the floor at the same time during the whole second half."

Mike Mason, a 6-7 center, and 6-5 forward Jager both eventually fouled out for Lakeshore, Mason exiting midway through the third quarter.

The game marked the return of seven Lakeshore players who were suspended for three games for violating training rules. For the first half it looked as though Lakeshore was ready to spring an upset on the Bobcats.

Brandywine scored the first seven points of the game, but the Lancers rallied to take a 14-13 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter was nip-and-tuck and the halftime score was tied 27-27.

But the Bobcats came out firing in the third quarter, lulling the first eight points of the second half. After a Lakeshore basket, Brandywine scored eight more in a row to take a commanding 43-29 edge.

The Lancers were able to close to within nine at 46-37 with just over six minutes to play. But Brandywine outscored Lakeshore 12-3 over the next three minutes to break the game open at 58-40.

Brandywine hit on 21 of 44 from the floor for 48 per cent, while Lakeshore meshed just 19 of 59 for 32 per cent.

The Lancers held a 38-30 rebounding edge according to respective charts. Keith Arend, Mason and Shafer all pulled down seven for Lakeshore. Harris came away with nine for the Bobcats.

Brandywine committed just nine turnovers, while Lakeshore turned the ball over 25 times.

Brandywine also won the junior varsity game 62-58. The Bobcats, now 9-2, were led by Tim Rzepka with 21 points. Scott Lee tossed in 17 for Lakeshore, now 8-3.

Subs Frazier, Brown Generate Buchanan

EDWARDSBURG — A strong bench can be the difference between a mediocre team and a strong one.

And it was the bench which came to Buchanan's rescue here Wednesday. In foul trouble most of the game, Buchanan rode the play of Greg Frazier and Willie Brown off the bench to a 78-57 win over Edwardsburg.

The win was the sixth straight in Blossomland play for the Bucks, who are 11-0 overall. Edwardsburg fell to 1-5 and 1-9, respectively.

"When you're looking for someone to come off the bench, you're looking for someone who doesn't lose a step," Buchanan coach Bill Wilson said. "The big thing about the play of Greg and Willie was their ability to get right into the flow."

"The more people are able to do that for us this year could be a big factor."

Frazier tossed in eight points and pulled down nine rebounds in about 16 minutes of action, while Brown scored four points and had five rebounds in about 12 minutes.

Both figured prominently in helping Buchanan stay on top in the first half. Ken Garrett, Buchanan's 6-6 forward, 6-3 center Gerald Busby and guard Kevin Vanderbush all picked up three quick fouls in the first half. But to the rescue came Frazier and Brown.

Frazier first entered the game with 3:25 left in the first quarter and Buchanan leading just 10-6. The 6-3 sophomore scored two quick baskets to help stretch the lead to 16-6.

Next it was Brown's turn. With Buchanan still holding a 10-point margin, the senior forward scored two baskets and assisted on two others as Buchanan moved the lead to 38-24 at halftime. Edwardsburg got no closer than 13 the rest of the way.

As usual Garrett and 6-5 Mike Busby led the way for the Bucks. Garrett tossed in 20 points and pulled down 17 rebounds, while Busby tallied 14 points, came away with 14 rebounds and blocked six shots. Steve Staal led the Eddie's with 13, followed by Jim Case with 12 and Steve Barrella with 10.

Buchanan held a huge 58-30 rebounding edge and Edwardsburg coach Dick Babler saw that as the difference.

"It cost them early because they ran into foul trouble," Babler said. "But they started carrying it out a little better and that was it. Eventually they were getting two or three shots every time down the floor.

"Not only that but they are excellent shooters as well. They're not just big jumpers but they all have good touches."

Buchanan hit on 36 of 89 from the floor for 40 per cent. Edwardsburg finished with 21 of 88 for 24 per cent. Free throws kept the Eddie's in the game until the third quarter. Edwardsburg hit 17 of 22 from the line to just six of 11 for Buchanan. Walt Vanderbush's streak ended at 15 straight when he missed a free throw in the second quarter.

Edwardsburg committed 30 turnovers to only 17 for the Bucks.

Buchanan also won the junior varsity game 55-43. John Donley and Larry Ott paced the winners with 10 apiece. Brett Rose tossed in the same total for the Eddie's.

LMC Defense Outstanding

Lake Michigan College's defense finally came around Wednesday night and it made a big difference.

The Indians came up with their top defensive performance in topping Chicago Loop 96-56. Loop had earlier defeated LMC by scores of 93-83 and 85-81.

Lake Michigan College had yielded an average of more than 90 points in its first 14 games and had held only one opponent to less than 80 points. But Wednesday the defense all fell into place.

"It was the best defensive effort we've had all season," LMC coach Art Crump said. "I think the kids learned something from the Jackson game. And the kids played a sound mental game, too."

Jackson had bombed LMC 120-81 Friday and the game may have indeed awakened the Indians, who are now 5-9. Loop, now 12-4, scored just 24 points in the first half to trail 35-24 and could not make up the deficit in the final 20 minutes.

Crump was especially pleased with the play of Jim Bridgman and Ed Albert.

"It was a gutsy effort by Bridgman," Crump explained. "When you consider the condition of his feet it was especially gutsy. It was probably Albert's best effort of the season."

Bridgman played in pain most of the night with fallen arches.

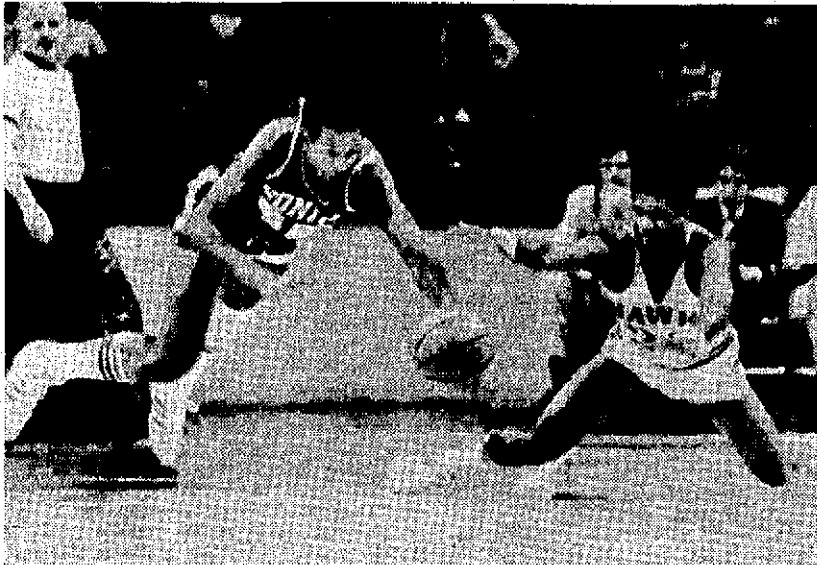

Bridgman tossed in 15 points and pulled down nine rebounds to lead the Indians offensively. Albert added 14, Vern Reynolds 12 and John Taylor 10.

Moore led all scorers with 21 for Loop.

LMC will travel Friday to Grand Rapids and return home to host Davenport Saturday.

Moeller Practice Paying Off Fennville Ace Leading Scorer In Area

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

FENNVILLE — All those hours of practice are finally paying off for Fennville's Marc Moeller.

Since the age of 12, Moeller has worked on his shooting eye with a basket in his backyard. The 6-4 senior even admits to having taken as many as 300 to 400 shots a day at home.

But the quiet Moeller has been making a lot of noise around the area cage scene this season. He presently leads the area with a 28.6 scoring average and is among the rebounding leaders with more than 17 per game. Moeller is also closing in on 1,000 points for his career, having totaled 884 in three years.

"Marc has put a lot of years into shooting baskets," Fennville coach Tom Pelon says. "He's very coachable and I think the rest of the players look to him for leadership."

Moeller is a muscular 185-pounder, up 15 pounds from last year's playing weight. The added weight has helped Moeller's inside play.

"One of the places that he's most improved at this year has been underneath the basket," Pelon says. "He has always been a good outside shooter. Now he's scoring and rebounding better underneath. That little additional weight has given Marc a little additional strength and that's made the difference."

Sometimes when one player does all the scoring on a team, it causes poor feelings among some of the other players. But according to Pelon that has not been the case with the Blackhawks. And Fennville's 6-3 record helps attest to that.

"He was voted the team captain," Pelon says. "In a sense we build our offense around Marc, but we have other good shooters on the team, too. The other players all have specific jobs to do. One player may be screening for Marc. Another is passing and maybe another plays strong defense."

"I think the rest of the players respect Marc. We try to get scoring out of the rest of the team, but Marc is obviously the team leader. We expected him to score at the start of the season, but no one can expect a young man to score 30 points a game. Marc doesn't shoot as many times a game as people may think either. He only shoots about 26 times a game and some teams have kids shooting 40 times."

Probably the thing which impresses Pelon most about Moeller is his attitude. "I have never seen Marc lose his temper on or off the floor," Pelon says. "He's willing to work at whatever I want him to. There are some things that he has to work at and he's willing to listen and work on them."

Covert continues to roll along as the area's top offensive team. The Bulldogs have tallied at least 90 points in five of their nine games and are averaging 86.3 per contest. Buchanan is second with a 74.8 mark, followed by Galien (73.5), Cassopolis (73.0) and Decatur (72.0).

South Haven's zone defense has helped the Rams reel off eight straight wins this season. M. H. White's Rams boast the area's top defense with a 53.9 per game average. Holland Christian is the only opponent to score more than 62 points against South Haven this year.

Michigan Lutheran is second with a 54.1 mark, while Decatur comes in third at 54.5 and Buchanan is fourth (55.3).

Hartford is dubious closing in on a Red Arrow record. The Indians have lost 17 straight league games, just three short of the record set by New Buffalo in the late 1960s. Oddly enough, Hartford faces New Buffalo Friday night.

ALBION, Mich. (AP) — Jim Knudson scored 17 points and Paul Cryderman added 16 to pace Albion to a 70-62 Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Conference basketball victory Wednesday night over Olivet.

Olivet was led by Kerry Collins with 22.

Following additional argument against it from large and small schools alike, the proposal was overwhelmingly defeated.

The possibility of determining an undisputed national college football champion in a bowl game has diminished further with the disclosure that the Southeastern Conference will send its champion to the Sugar Bowl for the next three years.

Byers said of his own position. "What they thought was reflected on the convention floor."

During the special session, marked by only one serious floor fight, some 700 convention delegates enacted a smattering of a dozen proposals to trim burgeoning budgets.

Travel uniforms were eliminated as of Aug. 1, but special housing for teams before games at home was not. Delegates also opted in favor of prohibiting the scouting of foes in Division I football but refused to impose further limits on preseason practices.

As proposed, restrictions on games played by teams in sports other than football and basketball also failed. And yet the delegates, when asked to authorize an extra football game, turned the proposal down.

While financial aid was at the head of today's regular convention agenda, a more heated issue still promised to be a proposed realignment of Division I football powers.

"I think that it's vitally important, not just to the Southeastern Conference but to a great many other people," said SEC commissioner Boyd McWhorter.

Opposed was Long Beach State President Stephen A. Horn, who Wednesday led an unsuccessful floor fight for further distribution of football television revenues.

Horn, during a prolonged debate, called for a division of the NCAA's $16 million football television package to include 25 per cent for Division II schools and 25 per cent for those in Division III.

"Teams that have been in the program would refuse to participate," the NCAA's television committee chairman, Seaver Peters of Dartmouth, argued, however. "It would also bring an end to the association as an effective means of administration."

Red Arrow Showdown Tops Area Schedule

Catholic, Galien Collide Friday

Lake Michigan Catholic's perfect Red Arrow record will be put to the test Friday night.

The Lakers, leading the conference with their 6-0 mark, travel to Galien to take on the ranked Gaels in a key Red Arrow clash which also rates top billing in area weekend matchups.

In other top area attractions Friday, Eau Claire meets Berrien Springs also in the Red Arrow, and Decatur plays Southwestern.

Athletic Conference co-leader Bloomingdale, Wolverine leader South Haven will be out to solidify its top spot with weekend games against Comstock and Vicksburg.

Galien, 3-1 in league games, needs a win to keep pace with the Lakers.

"I think it's too early to label this a must situation but obviously it's an important game," states Galien coach Mike Heckathorn. "They're one step ahead of us with no losses to our one. So a win for us will make the league even more even. I think maybe the league champ could end up with three losses."

Laker coach Al Nixon thinks the Gaels, rated No. 9 in Class D in the latest AP poll, will have a few plusses working for them in the even matchup.

"I think they have a few advantages we don't have. They have a little more experience, the so-called home court advantage and they're really forced into a must win situation. That all adds up to an advantage for them."

"But our kids have been coming through all year and we're hoping for another top effort. This is a game you don't have to be concerned about getting the kids mentally prepared for...they realize what's at stake."

The Gaels, 8-1 overall, have one of the most potent one-two punches in the area in forward Don Koooy and guard Dale Luther. Both are included in the top 13 in area scoring with Koooy hitting 19.6 points per game and Luther 18.9. Koooy, hitting 57 per cent from the field, is also the premier Galien rebounder with 15 caroms a game.

Galien also has a game Saturday with Michigan Lutheran. It was originally slated for Tuesday, rescheduled to Feb. 24 and then ahead to Saturday.

The Lakers, 8-3 overall, feature a balanced attack. Tom Flood heads the scorers with his 13.4 average followed by Bill Frantz's 12.1 and Don Altie's 11.9. Frantz is averaging 14 rebounds a game.

"What really appears to spark the Lakers is the addition of Altie," add Heckathorn. "He appears to be the fellow who ignites them off the bench and not necessarily in carrying the load of scoring. The Lakers are extra tough with Altie coming off the bench and when their big man Frantz gets his game together."

The Lakers, keyed by 6-6 Frantz, will have a significant height advantage up front but the Gaels have also been doing a bang up job all season on the boards.

Berrien Springs, in the thick of the Red Arrow chase with a 4-1 record, will play an Eau Claire club which has lost two straight loop games and desperately needs a win with a 3-3 Arrow record.

"It's an important game for us in the league and also important we get another win," commented Beaver coach Dave Gray. "The kids took Friday's loss to Galien hard and Saturday's loss to Bridgman even harder."

Both the Shamrocks and Beavers will pit two explosive duos. Berrien has Rick Thiele and Terry Hoshein at 13.8 and 13.2, respectively, and Eau Claire has Terry Adams and Jerry McAfee at 20.4 and 15.2.

In other league tilts, Bridgman hosts Watervliet in a clash matching 3-3 teams while Hartford (0-5) goes to New Buffalo (0-6).

Kurt Wiese of Decatur will bring his 21.6 scoring average against Bloomingdale, tied for the SAC lead with Marcellus at 4-0. Decatur is in third place at 3-1.

Wiese, third best point-maker in the area, is getting plenty of help from Jim Overley with his 12.4 scoring average and 12 rebounds a game. Juniors Steve Groendyk and Dave Mroczek have been turning in consistent work while the Raider bench has played a key role in the team's 6-2 overall record.

The two clubs played two barn-burners last year with the Cards winning one game in overtime and the Raiders the second in double-overtime.

South Haven, 6-0 in the Wolverine and 8-0 overall, on paper should have little trouble with Comstock (1-5) and Vicksburg (3-3).

The Rams, ranked fifth in the Class B poll, have the toughest defense in the area, allowing only 53.9 points a game. The offense is led by the scoring of William Gamble with his 17.4 average. Nate Goodwin is at 14.1 and Mike Grimes 13.0.

Comstock, the Rams' foe Friday at home, has lost seven straight games but most of the setbacks have been by close scores, including two double-overtime defeats.

"There's never an easy game when you're ranked," says Ram coach M.H. White. "It always seems to fire up the other team. But it's good for the community and for the kids to get a little recognition. But I've always said it's the tournaments which decide who's best."

EMU Beats Oakland U.

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Walt Jones scored 10 points to lead Eastern Michigan to a 66-54 nonconference basketball victory over Oakland University Wednesday night.

Two other EMU players scored in double figures: Bob Riddle and Dan Hoff had 14 points each.

Leading scorer for Oakland was Ferdie Smith, who also had 14.

EMU held a 26-22 halftime lead, scored three quick baskets at the opening of the second half and stayed ahead to the end.

BH Boxing Group Without Sponsor

Amateur boxing in Benton Harbor was staggered this week.

The Superior Steel Athletic Club of Benton Harbor withdrew sponsorship of the group, and training was halted after the fighters had to vacate practice facilities at the Benton Harbor YMCA.

"The Superior Steel Athletic Club is not sponsoring it and will not be responsible for any of the activities that are taking place," reports Jim Dunn of the club's board of directors.

Tentative approval for sponsorship had been given to the boxing club by the athletic club president, but without the required approval of directors. The board voted against the sponsorship at a meeting Tuesday, citing possible legal aspects as a main reason.

The Superior Steel Athletic Club sponsors such things as golf, bowling, softball and baseball leagues, plus hunting and fishing contests, but only for employees of the company.

Napoleon Lark, a trainer for the fighters, says his group hopes to continue under the name of the Benton Harbor Boxing Academy.

Lark, who was forced to stop training at the 'Y' because of a rent situation, says his group of 38 fighters is now looking for a new home.

"We would appreciate any help we can get," states Lark. "I don't know what we are going to do or where we are going to go."

Local fighters had planned to participate in the west Michigan Golden Gloves competition next month, but Lark says it now "looks doubtful."

LMC Girls Capture Win

CENTREVILLE — Lake Michigan College's girls basketball team posted its fourth win in six starts this season by downing Glen Oaks Community College 74-39 here Wednesday night.

Leading Indians' scorer was Linda Boyd with 22 points. She also pulled down 15 rebounds. Other LMC eagers in double figures included Deb Schmid and Linda Ray with 10 apiece.

For Centreville, Robin Troop had 22 points.

The girls' next contest is Saturday, Jan. 17, at home against Aquinas College starting at 5:45 p.m.

Red Arrow Showdown Tops Area Schedule Catholic, Galien Collide Friday

Lake Michigan Catholic's perfect Red Arrow record will be put to the test Friday night.

The Lakers, leading the conference with their 6-0 mark, travel to Galien to take on the ranked Gaels in a key Red Arrow clash which also rates top billing in area weekend matchups.

In other top area attractions Friday, Eau Claire meets Berrien Springs also in the Red Arrow and Decatur plays Southwestern Athletic Conference co-leader Bloomingdale. Wolverine leader South Haven will be out to solidify its top spot with weekend games against Comstock and Vicksburg.

Galien, 3-1 in league games, needs a win to keep pace with the Lakers.

"I think it's too early to label this a must situation but obviously it's an important game," states Galien coach Mike Heckathorn. "They're one step ahead of us with no losses to our one. So a win for us will make the league even more even. I think maybe the league champ could end up with three losses."

Laker coach Al Nixon thinks the Gaels, rated No. 9 in Class D in the latest AP poll, will have a few plusses working for them in the even matchup.

"I think they have a few advantages we don't have. They have a little more experience, the so-called home court advantage and they're really forced into a must win situation. That all adds up to an advantage for them.

"But our kids have been coming through all year and we're hoping for another top effort. This is a game you don't have to be concerned about getting the kids mentally prepared for...they realize what's at stake."

The Gaels, 8-1 overall, have one of the most potent one-two punches in the area in forward Don Kooy and guard Dale Luther. Both are included in the top 13 in area scoring with Kooy hitting 19.6 points per game and Luther 16.9. Kooy, hitting 57 per cent from the field, is also the premier Galien rebounder with 15 caroms a game.

Galien also has a game Saturday with Michigan Lutheran. It was originally slated for Tuesday, rescheduled to Feb. 24 and then ahead to Saturday.

The Lakers, 8-3 overall, feature a balanced attack. Tom Flood heads the scorers with his 13.4 average followed by Bill Frantz's 12.1 and Don Altie's 11.9. Frantz is averaging 14 rebounds a game.

"What really appears to spark the Lakers is the addition of Altie," add Heckathorn. "He appears to be the fellow who ignites them off the bench and not necessarily in carrying the load of scoring. The Lakers are extra tough with Altie coming off the bench and when their big man Frantz gets his game together."

The Lakers, keyed by 6-6 Frantz, will have a significant height advantage up front but the Gaels have also been doing a bang up job all season on the boards.

Berrien Springs, in the thick of the Red Arrow chase with a 4-1 record, will play an Eau Claire club which has lost two straight loop games and desperately needs a win with a 3-3 Arrow record.

"It's an important game for us in the league and also important we get another win," commented Beaver coach Dave Gray. "The kids took Friday's loss to Galien hard and Saturday's loss to Bridgman even harder."

Both the Shamrocks and Beavers will pit two explosive duos. Berrien has Rick Thiele and Terry Hoshein at 18.8 and 15.2, respectively, and Eau Claire has Terry Adams and Jerry McAfee at 20.4 and 15.2. In other league tilts, Bridgman hosts Watervliet in a clash matching 3-3 teams while Hartford (0-5) goes to New Buffalo (0-6).

Kurt Wiese of Decatur will bring his 21.6 scoring average against Bloomingdale, tied for the SAC lead with Marcellus at 40. Decatur is in third place at 3-1.

Wiese, third best point-maker in the area, is getting plenty of help from Jim Overley with his 12.4 scoring average and 12 rebounds a game. Juniors Steve Groendyk and Dave Mroczek have been turning in consistent work while the Raider bench has played a key role in the team's 6-2 overall record.

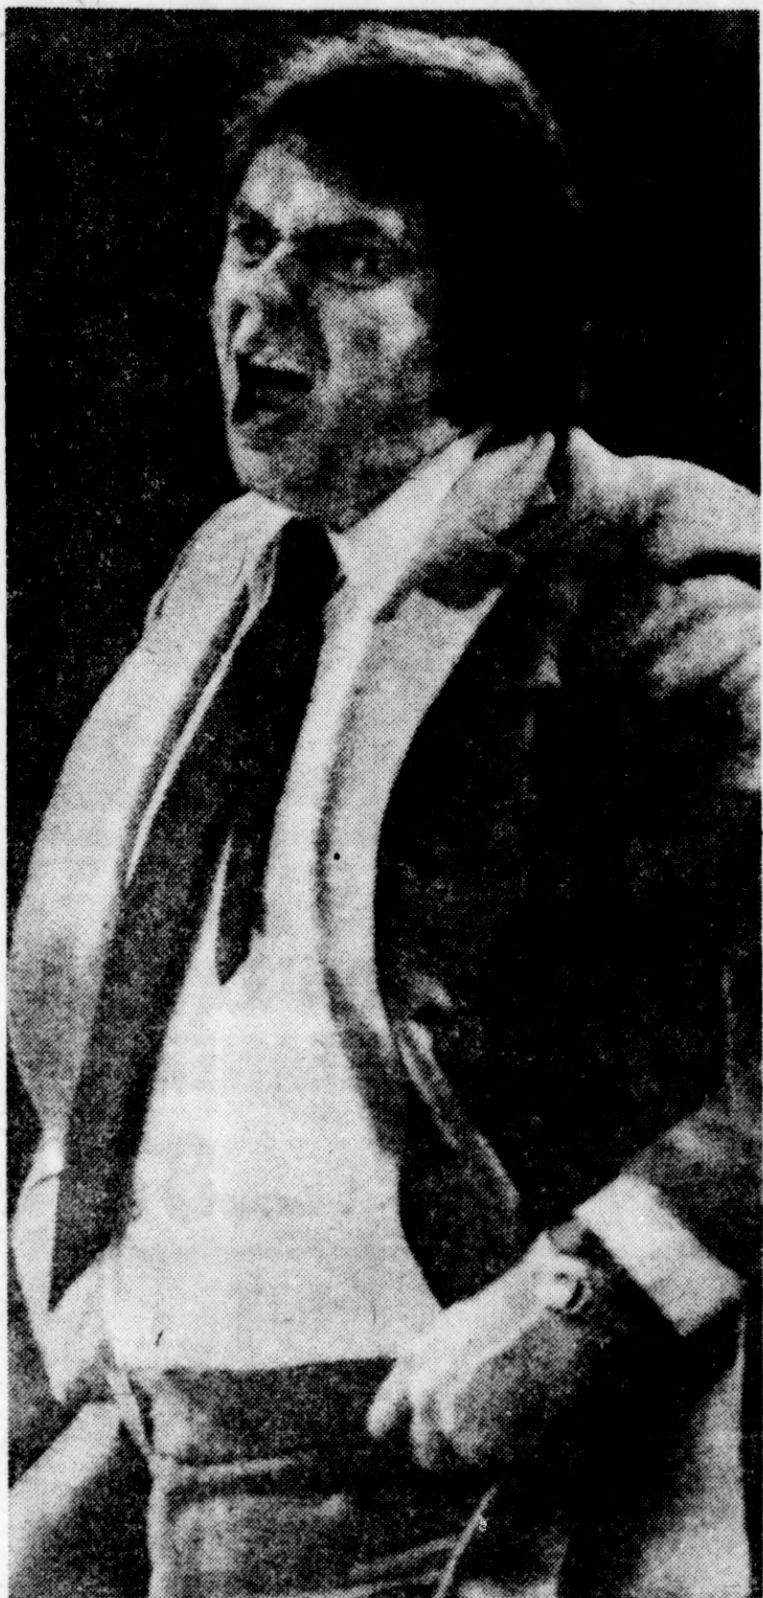

The two clubs played two barn-burners last year with the Cards winning one game in overtime and the Raiders the second in double-overtime.

South Haven, 6-0 in the Wolverine and 8-0 overall, on paper should have little trouble with Comstock (1-5) and Vicksburg (3-3).

The Rams, ranked fifth in the Class B poll, have the toughest defense in the area, allowing only 53.9 points a game. The offense is led by the scoring of William Gamble with his 17.4 average. Nate Goodwin is at 14.1 and Mike Grimes 13.0.

Comstock, the Rams' foe Friday at home, has lost seven straight games but most of the setbacks have been by close scores, including two double-overtime defeats.

"There's never an easy game when you're ranked," says Ram coach M.H. White. "It always seems to fire up the other team. But it's good for the community and for the kids to get a little recognition. But I've always said it's the tournaments which decide who's best."

BH Boxing Group Without Sponsor

Amateur boxing in Benton Harbor was staggered this week.

The Superior Steel Athletic Club of Benton Harbor withdrew sponsorship of the group, and training was halted after the fighters had to vacate practice facilities at the Benton Harbor YMCA.

"The Superior Steel Athletic Club is not sponsoring it and will not be responsible for any of the activities that are taking place," reports Jim Dunn of Benton Harbor, a member of the club's board of directors.

Tentative approval for sponsorship had been given to the boxing club by the athletic club president, but without the required approval of directors. The board voted against the sponsorship at a meeting Tuesday, citing possible legal aspects as a main reason.

The Superior Steel Athletic Club sponsors such things as golf, bowling, softball and baseball leagues, plus hunting and fishing contests, but only for employees of the company.

Napoleon Lark, a trainer for the fighters, says his group hopes to continue under the name of the Benton Harbor Boxing Academy.

Lark, who was forced to stop training at the 'Y' because of a rent situation, says his group of 38 fighters is now looking for a new home.

"We would appreciate any

LMC Girls Capture Win

CENTREVILLE — Lake Michigan College's girls basketball team posted its fourth win in six starts this season by downing Glen Oaks Community College 74-39 here Wednesday night.

Leading Indians' scorer was Linda Boyd with 22 points. She also pulled down 15 rebounds. Other LMC cagers in double figures included Deb Schmid and Linda Ray with 10 apiece.

For Centreville, Robin Troop had 22 points.

The girls next contest is Saturday, Jan. 17, at home against Aquinas College starting at 5:45 p.m.

Mustangs Romp

THREE OAKS — River Valley posted a 68-46 win over Cassopolis in a freshmen basketball game played here Wednesday night. Mark Krumrie led the winners with 17 points.

EMU Beats Oakland U.

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP). — Walt Jones scored 16 points to lead Eastern Michigan to a 66-54 nonconference basketball victory over Oakland University Wednesday night.

Two other EMU players scored in double figures. Bob Riddle and Dan Hoff had 14 points each.

Leading scorer for Oakland was Ferdie Smith, who also had 14.

EMU held a 26-22 halftime lead, scored three quick baskets at the opening of the second half and stayed ahead to the end.

North Carolina Collects Revenge

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

What a difference two weeks make. And two courts as well.

The last time North Carolina's basketball team met Wake Forest, the Tar Heels were unceremoniously beaten in the Big Four Tournament at Greensboro, N. C.

But the seventh-ranked Tar Heels got their revenge Wednesday night on their own court, cutting Wake Forest's giant-killers down to size with a 99-74 rout in emotion-charged Chapel Hill.

"The difference in this game is that it was here at Carolina," said North Carolina Coach Dean Smith, whose Tar Heels lost a 95-83 decision to the Deacons the last time they met.

"It was a great win. We are extremely pleased with our rebounding and defense in this particular game. By Wake Forest on offense in the first half, it gave us the chance to rebound. We did an excellent job going for the basketball and got more rebounds because Wake Forest was not shooting well."

Wake Forest Coach Carl Tacy, whose team had shot out of nowhere into the No. 5 position in the polls by beating Atlantic Coast Conference colleagues North Carolina, North Carolina State and Maryland, reflected on the obvious.

"We weren't quite as prepared to play as we had hoped," he said. "This is the only time this season that our players could not get going on their own. The biggest consolation is that it's over and one bad game is behind us."

Maryland, the nation's second-ranked team, whipped No. 13 North Carolina State

87-69 in another key ACC game. Elsewhere, third-ranked Marquette tripped DePaul 79-72, 10th-ranked Rutgers clobbered Columbia 94-65; 14th-ranked Cincinnati stopped Temple 79-56 and 15th-rated Notre Dame crushed Ball State 119-78.

Phil Ford's 30 points led North Carolina's avalanche, the worst Wake Forest defeat by a Tar Heel team since 1966. A wild crowd of 8,800 saw the Tar Heels dominate the rebound war 30-10 during the first half and break the game open in the early minutes of the second half when the Deacons got only three field goals during a nine-minute span.

Maurice Howard came off the bench for the first time this season and scored 25 points to spark Maryland over North Carolina State. Maryland Coach

Lefty Driesell disdained his usual three-guard offense and started sophomore Lawrence Boston in place of Howard for the first time this year.

Earl Tatum scored 21 points to lead Marquette over DePaul; Mike Dabney's 26 points powered Rutgers past Columbia; Cincinnati beat Temple as Bob Miller poured in 19 points.

All American Adrian Dantley drilled 33 points to lead Notre Dame to a 119-78 trouncing of Ball State before a capacity crowd Wednesday.

Dantley, a 6-foot-5 junior forward hit 13 of 19 from the floor and 7 of 9 free throws.

Coach Digger Phelps, substituting freely, saw all 12 of his players score at least two points.

The wild-shooting Cardinals hit but 35 of 86 field goal attempts and then were unable to grab their own rebounds as the hard-charging Irish out-rebounded them 62-36.

With the game tied at 16-16 six minutes into the first period, Dantley broke loose, hitting six of 10 straight Irish points, putting Notre Dame in front to stay.

Irish sophomore center Dave Batton contributed 17 points and shared rebound honors with Dantley with nine apiece.

Also in double figures for Notre Dame were Don Williams with 12 points and Ray Martin with 10 as the Irish hit 49 of 87 from the field. Notre Dame also scored on 21 of 25 free throws.

Missing from the Notre Dame lineup was freshman center Bill Lambbeer who earlier in the day was declared scholastically ineligible for the remainder of the season.

North Carolina Collects Revenge

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

What a difference two weeks make. And two courts as well. The last time North Carolina's basketball team met Wake Forest, the Tar Heels were unceremoniously beaten in the Big Four Tournament at Greensboro, N. C.

But the seventh-ranked Tar Heels got their revenge Wednesday night on their own court, cutting Wake Forest's giant-killers down to size with a 99-74 rout in emotion-charged Chapel Hill.

"The difference in this game is that it was here at Carolina," said North Carolina Coach Dean Smith, whose Tar Heels lost a 95-83 decision to the Deacons the last time they met.

"It was a great win. We are extremely pleased with our rebounding and defense in this particular game. By Wake Forest Coach Carl Tacy, whose team had shot out of nowhere into the No. 5 position in the polls by beating Atlantic Coast Conference colleagues North Carolina, North Carolina State and Maryland, reflected on the obvious.

"We weren't quite as prepared to play as we had hoped," he said. "This is the only time this season that our players could not get going on their own. The biggest consolation is that it's over and one bad game is behind us."

Maryland, the nation's second-ranked team, whipped No. 13 North Carolina State

87-69 in another key ACC game. Elsewhere, third-ranked Marquette tripped DePaul 79-72; 10th-ranked Rutgers clobbered Columbia 94-65; 14th-ranked Cincinnati stopped Temple 79-56 and 15th-rated Notre Dame crushed Ball State 119-78.

Phil Ford's 30 points led North Carolina's avalanche, the worst Wake Forest defeat by a Tar Heel team since 1966. A wild crowd of 8,800 saw the Tar Heels dominate the rebound war 30-10 during the first half and break the game open in the early minutes of the second half when the Deacons got only three field goals during a nine-minute span.

Maurice Howard came off the bench for the first time this season and scored 25 points to spark Maryland over North Carolina State. Maryland Coach

Lefty Driesell disdained his usual three-guard offense and started sophomore Lawrence Boston in place of Howard for the first time this year.

Earl Tatum scored 21 points to lead Marquette over DePaul; Mike Dabney's 26 points powered Rutgers past Columbia; Cincinnati beat Temple as Bob Miller poured in 19 points.

All American Adrian Dantley drilled 33 points to lead Notre Dame to a 119-78 trouncing of Ball State before a capacity crowd Wednesday.

Dantley, a 6-foot-5 junior forward hit 13 of 19 from the floor and 7 of 9 free throws.

Coach Digger Phelps, substituting freely, saw all 12 of his players score at least two points.

The wild-shooting Cardinals hit but 35 of 86 field goal attempts and then were unable to grab their own rebounds as the hard-charging Irish out-rebounded them 62-36.

With the game tied at 16-16 six minutes into the first period, Dantley broke loose, hitting six of 10 straight Irish points, putting Notre Dame in front to stay.

Irish sophomore center Dave Batton contributed 17 points and shared rebound honors with Dantley with nine apiece.

Also in double figures for Notre Dame were Don Williams with 12 points and Ray Martin with 10 as the Irish hit 49 of 87 from the field. Notre Dame also scored on 21 of 25 free throws.

Missing from the Notre Dame lineup was freshman center Bill Lambbeer who earlier in the day was declared scholastically ineligible for the remainder of the season.

Chicago Stops Penalty Shot To Gain Tie

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
The puck lay waiting at center ice, Chicago goalie Tony Esposito stood waiting in his crease and 8,076 pairs of eyes focused on a 20-year-old rookie center at the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum, waiting for what was about to happen.

Dennis Maruk, offering the helmeted youngster all the helpful hints they could about what to do with the penalty shot he just had been awarded by referee Dave Newell. Chicago defenseman Dale Tallon had pulled him down from behind during a clear breakaway.

"Everybody tried to give me some advice," the mustachioed Maruk said later. "Former Black Hawk" Jim Pappin told me to fake him (Esposito), and somebody else told me to do something else.

Gilles Gilbert in Boston on Saturday afternoon. "That probably was the play that turned it around for them," said California Coach Jack Evans after the Black Hawks rallied for a 2-2 tie Wednesday night.

In the other National Hockey League games Wednesday night, Toronto trimmed Minnesota 4-5, Detroit bombed Kansas City 8-3 and Vancouver topped the New York Rangers 5-1. In the World Hockey Association's only game, Winnipeg humbled Houston 4-1. Lanny McDonald and Ian Turnbull scored two goals apiece to lead Toronto. Jack Valkuette and Inge Hammarstrom also scored for the Leafs. Dennis Hexfall, Pierre Jarry, Bill Goldsworthy and Craig Cameron tallied for Minnesota. Goldsworthy had a pair in his return from an injury.

Bullets Top Cavs In Early 'Playoff'

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Washington Bullets and Cleveland Cavaliers are starting the National Basketball Association playoffs early ... unofficially, of course.

Basketball Association, the Indiana Pacers whipped the Virginia Squires 115-99 and the Kentucky Colonels trimmed the San Antonio Spurs 121-115.

Scot Wedman, who finished with 25 points, hit a turnaround jump shot from 15 feet with 29 seconds remaining to give Kansas City its victory over Boston.

Bill Bradley popped in a field goal with 35 seconds left in overtime to lead New York over Houston. Spencer Haywood scored 28 points and pulled down 12 rebounds for the Knicks.

Doug Collins scored 24 points and George McGinnis and Steve Mix scored 20 apiece as Philadelphia beat New Orleans. Harvey Catchings' dunk shot in the fourth quarter gave Philadelphia a lead it never lost.

The defeat was the first in 1976 for the Jazz, who had a five-game winning streak. Fred Brown hit a jump shot with 46 seconds left and Seattle withstood two last-minute surges of unsuccessful Atlanta shots to beat the Hawks. The Hawks rallied from 13 points down with five minutes left to take the lead 110-108, but baskets by Slick Watts and Brown, who had 33 points, put the Sonics back on top.

"It's just like a playoff when these two teams get together," said Cleveland Coach Bill Fitch after losing a tough 92-88 decision to the Bullets Wednesday night. "That's three games in a row that have gone down to the wire."

The victory avenged a 106-102 loss to the Cavs Sunday night. The Bullets lost that one despite having possession and a two-point lead with 11 seconds left in the game.

"Sure, I thought about last Sunday," said Dave Bing, Wednesday night's high scorer for the Bullets with 20 points. "It was only a couple of days ago and you don't forget something like that."

"But tonight was our turn. We didn't quit."

In the other NBA games, the Kansas City Kings whipped the Boston Celtics 106-101; the New York Knicks tripped the Houston Rockets 107-103 in overtime; the Philadelphia 76ers outscored the New Orleans Jazz 100-95 and the Seattle SuperSonics nipped the Atlanta Hawks 112-110. In the American Association, the Kansas City Chiefs won their seventh loss in a row. The Red Wings' Dan Maloney also scored twice — one of them shorthanded while Michel Bergeron and Bill Hogaboam also clicked for Detroit. Chuck Arneson scored twice while Wilf Paiement had the other for KC. John Gould scored two goals for Vancouver and helped the Canucks hand new Rangers Coach John Ferguson the first loss of his tenure with a 5-1 decision over New York.

Chicago Stops Penalty Shot To Gain Tie

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
The puck lay waiting at center ice, Chicago goalie Tony Esposito stood waiting in his crease and 8,076 pairs of eyes focused on a 20-year-old rookie center at the Oakland Alameda County Coliseum, waiting for what was about to happen. Teammates clustered around some advice," the mustachioed Maruk said later. "Former Black Hawk) Jim Pappin told me to deke him (Esposito), and somebody else told me to do something else. "I probably would have been better off just doing my own thing." Maruk, and the Seals, would have been better off if he had scored on the penalty shot — the club's second in two games, since right wing Wayne King missed against the Bruins' Gilles Gilbert in Boston on Saturday afternoon. "That probably was the play that turned it around for them," said California Coach Jack Evans after the Black Hawks rallied for a 2-2 tie Wednesday night. In the other National Hockey League games Wednesday night, Toronto trimmed Minnesota 6-5, Detroit bombed Kansas City 8-3 and Vancouver topped the New York Rangers 5-1. In the World Hockey Association's only game, Winnipeg humbled Houston 4-1. Lanny McDonald and Ian Turnbull scored two goals apiece to lead Toronto. Jack Valiquette and Inge Hammarstrom also scored for the Leafs. Dennis Hextall, Pierre Jarry, Bill Goldsworthy and Craig Cameron tallied for Minnesota. Goldsworthy had a pair in his return from an injury. Defenseman Rick Lapointe scored two goals and assisted on two others as Detroit handed Kansas City its seventh loss in a row. The Red Wings' Dan Maloney also scored twice — one of them short-handed while Michel Bergeron and Bill Hogaboam also clicked for Detroit. Chuck Arnason scored twice while Wilf Paiement had the other for KC. John Gould scored two goals for Vancouver and helped the Canucks hand new Rangers Coach John Ferguson the first loss of his tenure with a 5-1 decision over New York.

Bullets Top Cavs In Early 'Playoff'

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Washington Bullets and Cleveland Cavaliers are starting the National Basketball Association playoffs early ... officially, of course. "It's just like a playoff when these two teams get together," said Cleveland Coach Bill Fitch after losing a tough 92-88 decision to the Bullets Wednesday night. "That's three games in a row that have gone down to the wire."

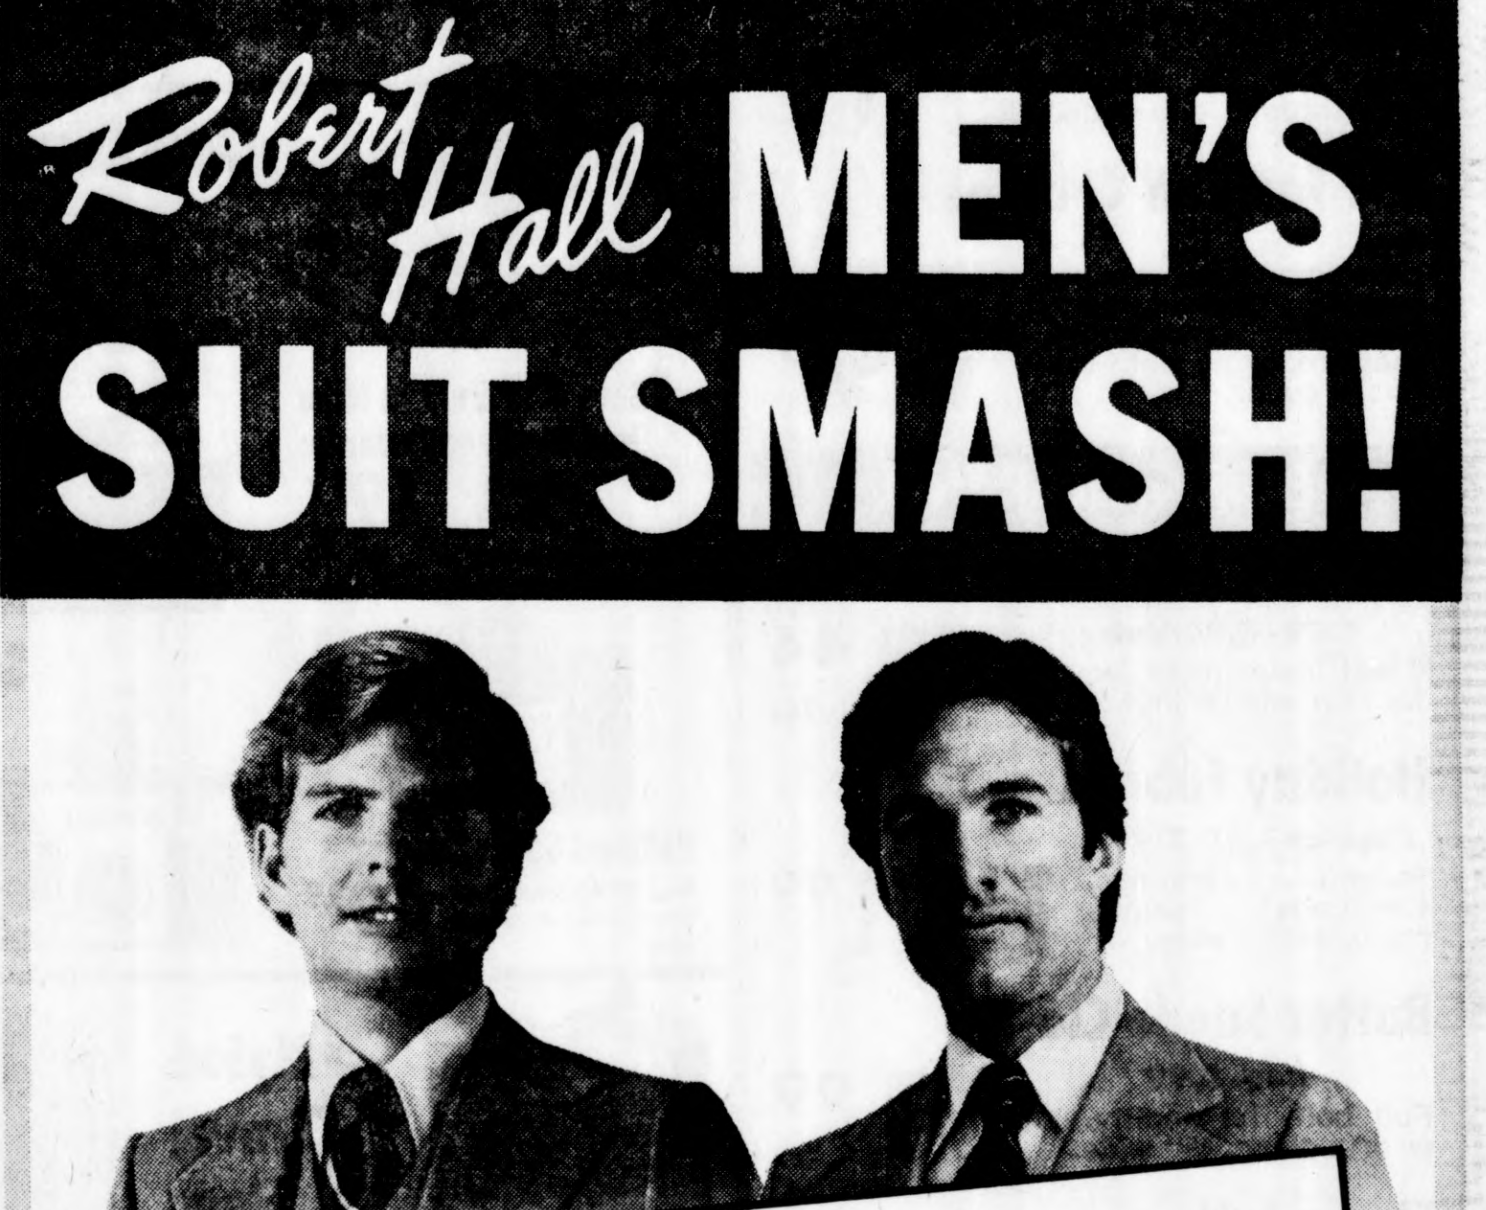

Basketball Association, the Indiana Pacers whipped the Virginia Squires 115-99 and the Kentucky Colonels trimmed the San Antonio Spurs 121-115. Scott Wedman, who finished with 25 points, hit a turnaround jump shot from 15 feet with 29 seconds remaining to give Kansas City its victory over Boston. Bill Bradley popped in a field goal with 35 seconds left in overtime to lead New York over Houston. Spencer Haywood scored 26 points and pulled down 12 rebounds for the Knicks.

Doug Collins scored 24 points and George McGinnis and Steve Mix scored 20 apiece as Philadelphia beat New Orleans. Harvey Catchings' dunk shot in the fourth quarter gave Philadelphia a lead it never lost. The defeat was the first in 1976 for the Jazz, who had a five-game winning streak. Fred Brown hit a jump shot with 46 seconds left and Seattle withstood two last-minute flurries of unsuccessful Atlanta shots to beat the Hawks. The Hawks rallied from 13 points down with five minutes left to take the lead 110-108, but baskets by Lick Watts and Brown, who had 33 points, put the Sonics back on top.

The victory avenged a 106-102 loss to the Cavs Sunday night. The Bullets lost that one despite having possession and a two-point lead with 11 seconds left in the game. "Sure, I thought about last Sunday," said Dave Bing, Wednesday night's high scorer for the Bullets with 20 points. "It was only a couple of days ago and you don't forget something like that."

In the other NBA games, the Kansas City Kings whipped the Boston Celtics 106-101; the New York Knicks tripped the Houston Rockets 107-103 in overtime; the Philadelphia 76ers outscored the New Orleans Jazz 100-95 and the Seattle SuperSonics nipped the Atlanta Hawks 112-111. In the American Football Association, the New York Jets defeated the Oakland Raiders 27-10. The Jets' Mark Rypka scored two touchdowns and kicked three field goals. The Raiders' Fred Biletnikoff scored two touchdowns and kicked two field goals. The Dallas Cowboys defeated the Minnesota Vikings 27-10. The Cowboys' Roger Staubach scored two touchdowns and kicked two field goals. The Vikings' Fran Tarkenton scored two touchdowns and kicked two field goals.

President of DeBakey

Charges Engulf Heart Center's 'Super Doc'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Dr. Edward B. "Ted" Diethrich arrived here in 1971 to open the $3 million Arizona Heart Institute with plans for 10 surgeries a day and heart transplants. Institute spokesmen called him "the heir apparent to Michael DeBakey's kingdom in Houston."

Since then, he has been sued seven times for malpractice, deposed as director of the institute and now faces state medical board action on charges ranging from performing unnecessary surgery to covering up a bungled heart-valve operation.

The board could take any action from dismissal of the charges to a reprimand to revoking his license.

Diethrich is a former resident of Hillsdale and a graduate of the University of Michigan medical school.

Proposals to bring Diethrich, a protégé of DeBakey's, to Phoenix in 1971 were opposed by Good Samaritan and St. Luke's hospitals, which already had cardiac units depending on community support. The Maricopa County Medical Society denied Diethrich membership for alleged advertising, and the state board admonished him in April for excess publicity.

Asked why all the opposition against him, Diethrich said: "You make your own impressions."

Fellow doctors criticized Diethrich in county health planning council hearings repeatedly for having full say over who practiced at the institute. Officials at St. Joseph's Hospital, which houses the institute, did not dilute Diethrich's authority until last summer when the county medical society boycotted the hospital, and the hospital's patient load dropped by 10 per cent.

Having authority over hiring and firing of staff destroys peer review, hallmark of the medical profession, fellow doctors said. A hospital staff committee investigated and recommended successfully that Diethrich be removed as director and be allowed to operate only under supervision of a surgical team.

Included in the committee report were charges that Diethrich installed an artificial heart valve upside down in a patient who died after surgery to correct the error. The mistake allegedly was covered up by billing the patient's family for two heart valves without relating the circumstances, according to the report, which was forwarded to the state medical board.

Diethrich also is accused of having an extremely high number of patients die after surgery on valves that control the blood flow to the heart's upper chambers. Of 50 consecutive patients, the staff committee said 16 died within four months, and two others died of surgery-related causes.

Therefore the mortality rate was 36 per cent for surgery for the first 50 mitral valve operations, the report said. It said the death rate is higher than the national average and accused Diethrich of deception for reporting a 16 per cent mortality rate.

Other charges include allowing surgery by physicians other than those authorized by the patient and failure to supervise his doctors and patients properly.

Diethrich, who appeared in a Life article, says the suit is without merit and denied Banta's claim that he is in worse health than before treatment. In the eight-page Life spread, Diethrich's young staff posed in lab coats emblazoned with "Ted Terrific."

The surgeon also has been photographed with notable patients such as John Scali, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and Jocko Conlan, retired major league umpire who described Diethrich as "second best as a physician to 'the good Lord.'"

Fellow doctors appear less enthusiastic for Diethrich, veteran of 1,000 cardiovascular surgeries when he arrived here. Dr. William P. Cornell, a Phoenix surgeon, allegedly told a Kiwanis group last June that the institute was a sham and unnecessary operations were performed there. The institute answered with a $10 million slander suit in Maricopa County Superior Court.

Another critic, Dr. Charles I. Fisher of Phoenix, told the Maricopa Comprehensive Health Planning Council in May that "data at this time raises questions about surgery to bypass blocked arteries which supply blood to the heart muscle, a major portion of the institute's work."

"Reports are that lives are not prolonged," said Fisher. "The situation for the coronary bypass may become comparable to heart transplants; they will no longer be done."

Diethrich contends that medical treatment has not overshadowed surgery as the predominant method of heart care.

Diethrich, who along with several of his surgeons has applied for staff privileges at other hospitals, said: "I have no immediate plans."

Oil Got In Their Way

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Striking oil is usually a cause for celebration, but to the well-digging crew at the Patio Mexican Foods plant, finding the black gold was little more than an annoyance.

In fact, the crew hit oil, albeit a poor grade, five times before they finally found the water they were drilling for 1,400 feet underground.

Today In History

By Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Jan. 15, the 15th day of 1976. There are 351 day left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1922, the Irish Free State was established.

On this date: In 1535, King Henry VIII assumed the title, "Supreme Head of the Church" in England.

In 1919, Ignace Jan Paderewski became the first premier of the newly created Republic of Poland.

In 1929, the United States ratified the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact renouncing war as a means of settling international disputes.

Also in 1929, the American civil rights leader, Martin Luther King Jr., was born in Atlanta.

In 1932, France completed pacification of French Morocco.

In 1971, the Aswan High Dam on Egypt's Nile River was dedicated.

Ten years ago: Flood refugees began returning to their hillside stilt homes in the Brazilian capital of Rio de Janeiro after the count of dead passed 400.

Five years ago: Three-fourths of New York City's police refused to man their regular beats in a wildcat job action over a pay dispute.

One year ago: President Ford declared that the state of the Union was not good and urged Congress to cut taxes and increase gasoline prices to help solve the nation's economic and energy problems.

Today's birthdays: Pianist Malcolm Frager is 41. Former child movie star Margaret O'Brien is 39.

Thought for today: Ireland is a country in which the probable never happens and the impossible always does. — John Mulaffey, Irish scholar, 1839-1919.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the Virginia Convention in Williamsburg told the people of Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties that they might face enemy attack and urged evacuation.

Protege of DeBakey

Charges Engulf Heart Center's 'Super Doc'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Dr. Edward B. "Ted" Diethrich arrived here in 1971 to open the $3 million Arizona Heart Institute with plans for 10 surgeries a day and heart transplants. Institute spokesmen called him "the heir apparent to Michael DeBakey's kingdom in Houston."

Since then, he has been sued seven times for malpractice, dethroned as director of the institute and now faces state medical board action on charges ranging from performing unnecessary surgery to covering up a bungled heart-valve operation.

The board could take any action from dismissal of the charges to a reprimand to revoking his license.

Diethrich is a former resident of Hillsdale and a graduate of the University of Michigan medical school.

Proposals to bring Diethrich, a protege of DeBakey's, to Phoenix in 1971 were opposed by Good Samaritan and St. Luke's hospitals, which already had cardiac units depending on community support. The Maricopa County Medical Society denied Diethrich membership for alleged advertising, and the state board admonished him in April for excess publicity.

Asked why all the opposition against him, Diethrich said: "You make your own impressions."

Fellow doctors criticized Diethrich in county health planning council hearings repeatedly for having full say over who practiced at the institute. Officials at St. Joseph's Hospital, which houses the institute, did not dilute Diethrich's authority until last summer when the county medical society boycotted the hospital, and the hospital's patient load dropped by 10 per cent.

Having authority over hiring and firing of staff destroys peer review, hallmark of the medical profession, fellow doctors said. A hospital staff committee investigated and recommended successfully that Diethrich be removed as director and be allowed to operate only under supervision of a surgical team.

Included in the committee report were charges that Diethrich installed an artificial heart valve upside down in a patient who died after surgery to correct the error. The mistake allegedly was covered up by billing the patient's family for two heart valves without relating the circumstances, according to the report, which was forwarded to the state medical board.

Diethrich also is accused of having an extremely high number of patients die after surgery on valves that control the blood flow to the heart's upper chambers. Of 50 consecutive patients, the staff committee said 16 died within four months, and two others died of surgery-related causes.

Therefore the mortality rate was 36 per cent for surgery for the first 50 mitral valve operations, the report said. It said the death rate is higher than the national average and accused Diethrich of deception for reporting a 16 per cent mortality ratio.

Other charges include allowing surgery by physicians other than those authorized by the patient and failure to supervise his doctors and patients properly.

Diethrich, who appeared in a Life article, says the suit is without merit and denied Banta's claim that he is in worse health than before treatment. In the eight-page Life spread, Diethrich's young staff posed in lab coats emblazoned with "Ted Terrific."

The surgeon also has been photographed with notable patients such as John Scali, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and Jocko Conlan, retired major league umpire who described Diethrich as second best as a physician to "the good Lord."

Fellow doctors appear less enthusiastic for Diethrich, veteran of 1,000 cardiovascular surgeries when he arrived here.

Dr. William P. Cornell, a Phoenix surgeon, allegedly told a Kiwanis group last June that the institute was a sham and unnecessary operations were performed there. The institute answered with a $10 million slander suit in Maricopa County Superior Court.

Another critic, Dr. Charles I. Fisher of Phoenix, told the Maricopa Comprehensive Health Planning Council in May that "data at this time raises questions about surgery to bypass blocked arteries which supply blood to the heart muscle, a major portion of the institute's work."

"Reports are that lives are not prolonged," said Fisher. "The situation for the coronary bypass may become comparable to heart transplants; they will no longer be done." Diethrich contends that medical treatment has not overshadowed surgery as the predominant method of heart care.

Diethrich, who along with several of his surgeons has applied for staff privileges at other hospitals, said: "I have no immediate plans."

Oil Got In Their Way

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Striking oil is usually a cause for celebration, but to the well-digging crew at the Patio Mexican Foods plant, finding the black gold was little more than an annoyance.

In fact, the crew hit oil, albeit a poor grade, five times before they finally found the water they were drilling for 1,400 feet underground.

Today In History

By Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Jan. 15, the 15th day of 1976. There are 351 day left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1922, the Irish Free State was established.

On this date: In 1535, King Henry VIII assumed the title, "Supreme Head of the Church" in England. In 1919, Ignace Jan Paderewski became the first premier of the newly created Republic of Poland.

In 1929, the United States ratified the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact renouncing war as a means of settling international disputes.

Also in 1929, the American civil rights leader, Martin Luther King Jr., was born in Atlanta.

In 1932, France completed pacification of French Morocco.

In 1971, the Aswan High Dam on Egypt's Nile River was dedicated.

Ten years ago: Flood refugees began returning to their hillside slum homes in the Brazilian capital of Rio de Janeiro after the count of dead passed 400.

Five years ago: Three-fourths of New York City's police refused to man their regular beats in a wildcat job action over a pay dispute.

One year ago: President Ford declared that the state of the Union was not good and urged Congress to cut taxes and increase gasoline prices to help solve the nation's economic and energy problems.

Today's birthdays: Pianist Malcolm Frager is 41. Former child movie star Margaret O'Brien is 39.

Thought for today: Ireland is a country in which the probable never happens and the impossible always does. — John Mahaffey, Irish scholar, 1839-1919.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the Virginia Convention in Williamsburg told the people of Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties that they might face enemy attack and urged evacuation.

Ask Your Dentist

By ALFRED E. SEYLER, D.D.S.

Q. My mother, who is a widow, 62 years old, continually complains of a "burning mouth." Her dentist has been patient and understanding of her complaining, but she does not respond to the treatment he has used. Have you any suggestions?

A. The treatment of a patient with "burning mouth" is not a rewarding experience for the dentist or the patient. It is time-consuming, unremunerative and usually disappointing to both the patient and the dentist.

Your letter tells me your mother has been unhappy since her widowhood and insists that her dental problem makes it difficult for her to speak, to chew and to swallow. These are symptoms and complaints of people who require more than dental care.

Any treatment for your mother must be in cooperation with her physician, an understanding member of her family, and probably a psychologist.

According to dentists who have investigated and worked with patients such as your mother, the time of treatment may extend to two years and there is no assurance of success.

I wish I could be more helpful and optimistic, but I can only advise you to recognize and accept the fact that your mother's problem is as much psychological as it is dental.

Q. I am a black man. I don't believe that the normal, healthy color of my gums is pink, as I read in many advertisements. My gums are dark, but they are healthy and they blend in with my black skin. If I ever have to have dentures, will I have to have the gums pink and therefore very noticeable, for me, that is?

A. Dr. Clifton Dunnnett, Associate dean of the School of Dentistry of the University of Southern California, himself a Negro, has developed a technique which permits a dentist to make dentures with pigments which will reproduce the normal gum tissue of Negroes or other dark skinned people.

It is possible for any dentist today, to make dentures with varying degrees of pigmentation, according to the complexion of the patient and his natural gum color.

As Dr. Dunnnett says — Black gums are beautiful, too!

"Cold sores" are an abomination for many people at one time or another. At a recent meeting of the American Dental Association, Dr. Samuel Hurwitz of Pennsylvania, described his method of managing such sores.

When the early symptoms of a cold sore appear, he moistens a Band-aid with a dye (.1 per cent proflavine), places it over the sore for 60 minutes. When he removes the Band-aid, he applies the light of an ordinary 15 watt fluorescent tube (from a student's desk lamp) for 15 minutes, at a distance of six inches.

If possible, the patient should repeat the light treatment within the next six hours, without the yellow dye.

At the .1 per cent concentration the proflavine dye is a very light yellow and is hardly noticeable after a few minutes.

Cancer Incidence Low In Mormons

BOSTON (AP) — Mormons, who generally do not smoke, are far less apt to have cancer of the lung, breast, cervix or ovary, researchers say.

The low rate of lung cancer could be attributed to the Mormon prohibition on smoking, the scientists said. But they said they could not account for the significantly lower incidence of other kinds of cancer.

HAWAII: Island State Lives By 'Aloha'

By BOB KRAUSE

HONOLULU (NEA) — Our nation's 200-year history, from Lexington and Concord to landing on the moon, shows that the contribution of the youngest state, Hawaii, has always been to the future.

The Pacific islands that were to become the future 50th state were still undiscovered by Western man when Minute Men fired the shot heard 'round the world, and would wait two more years before January, 1778 when Captain James Cook happened by accident upon this tiny world existing in a vast, watery universe.

There the brown-skinned people who abundantly fed Cook's hungry sailors lived by a code of behavior far ahead of its time.

They believe that the land and resources of their world were limited. As a result, conservation was not just a way of life but a religion. "Kapus" protected the environment long before impact statements were invented.

At a time when the population of the American colonies was doubling every 25 years the Hawaiians had anticipated population control by limiting their families on a voluntary basis to not more than two or three children and sometimes only one.

Forced to exist together on their remote islands with a population density of the United States today, these people had evolved limits to warfare a thousand years before the United Nations came into existence.

On the 20th anniversary of our nation, however, the 800,000 U.S. citizens living in Hawaii are more concerned with the cost of living than with the future. But even that may be an omen of the future.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the 11th in a series of stories about some of the colorful people, facts and history of each of America's 50 states. Today's author is a columnist for the Honolulu, Hawaii, Advertiser and author of a recent book, "We All Live On An Island."

Because of Hawaii's limited land area (6,450 square miles), the cost has skyrocketed to as high as over $100 per square foot in crowded Waikiki and has pushed the price of low cost housing to $40,000. Local real estate dealers say this is a foretaste of higher land prices all over the country as land becomes more limited.

This land squeeze forced modern Hawaiians into more future behavior. Ten years before California's shoreline protection bill became law, Hawaii's legislature in 1961 enacted a land use measure which zoned not only the shoreline but every square inch of land in the state.

Meanwhile, the population of Honolulu by 1970 had doubled over the past 20 years, the economy of the state had grown five times and tourism increased 20 times from 1950 to 1974.

Like many other Americans, residents of Hawaii have begun to vigorously question the consequences of such rapid growth which inflates land prices still more, and to ask how much it costs in terms of environmental deterioration and social upheaval.

This concern has spilled over into tourism, the state's largest industry, which drew 2.7 million visitors to Hawaii last year. Rapid development of Hawaii's scenic beaches caused the 1975 legislature to enact its own shoreline protection bill.

So the residents of our newest state are too busy solving their own problems to offer advice to sister states. One exception may be pride in a survival technique perfected by the old Hawaiians and adopted by most newcomers, who discover that the penalties for aggressive, overly competitive behavior are high on an island while friendliness and forgiveness offer much greater rewards over the long haul.

The word for this survival technique is aloha, a Hawaiian term which means warmth and love as well as hello and goodbye. Hawaii calls itself the Aloha State.

An attitude of aloha permitted Hawaiians to survive in cramped isolation for one thousand years without becoming bitter, unhappy, neurotic people. Instead, they emerged as a stereotype of the carefree human.

The same attitude makes it possible for Waikiki, with a population density nearly that of Manhattan Island, to be a place where people go to forget the hectic pace.

This aloha attitude is also the principal reason Hawaii's rate of racial intermarriage, at least one out of three, is unequalled anywhere in the United States and makes possible a climate of racial togetherness which is far from perfect but is the envy of most observers.

Aloha, as a weapon of survival, may be the greatest contribution our small, island state has to offer in the future of a tiny, crowded earth island as it whirls alone in space on the 20th anniversary of the United States.

50th STAR IN FLAG

Area: 6,450 sq. mi.; rank, 47th. Population (1974): 847,000; rank, 40th. Capital: Honolulu. Motto: The Life of the Land Is Perpetuated in Righteousness. Flower: Hibiscus. Bird: Nene (Hawaiian goose). Tree: Kukui (candlenut). Song: Hawaii Pono! Entered Union: August

21, 1959; rank, 50th. Nickname: The Aloha State.

Polynesians from islands 2,000 miles to the south settled the Hawaiian Islands, probably about 700 A.D. First European visitor was British Capt. James Cook, 1778. Missionaries arrived, 1820, taught religion, reading and writing. King Kamehameha III and his chiefs created the first Constitution and Legislature which set up a public school system. Sugar production began in 1835; it became the dominant industry. In 1893, Queen Liliuokalani was deposed, followed, 1894, by a republic headed by Sanford B. Dole. Annexation by the U.S. came in 1898. Attempts to attain statehood did not succeed until 1959.

Traffic Deaths Continue To Dip

CHICAGO (AP) — Final figures aren't in yet, but the National Safety Council says the number of traffic deaths in 1975 may be lower than in 1974, when the toll dropped to its lowest level since 1963.

Council President Vincent Tofany said Wednesday that in the first 11 months of last year, 42,030 persons died in traffic accidents, compared with 42,170 in the same period of 1974. A total of 46,200 died in all of 1974.

According to dentists who have investigated and worked with patients such as your mother, the time of treatment may extend to two years and there is no assurance of success.

I wish I could be more helpful and optimistic, but I can only advise you to recognize and accept the fact that your mother's problem is as much psychological as it is dental.

Q. I am a black man. I don't believe that the normal, healthy color of my gums is pink, as I read in many advertisements. My gums are dark, but they are healthy and they blend in with my black skin. If I ever have to have dentures, will I have to have the gums pink and therefore very noticeable, for me, that is?

A. Dr. Clifton Dummett, Associate dean of the School of Dentistry of the University of Southern California, himself a Negro, has developed a technique which permits a dentist to make dentures with pigments which will reproduce the normal gum tissue of Negroes or other dark skinned people.

It is possible for any dentist today, to make dentures with varying degrees of pigmentation, according to the complexion of the patient and his natural gum color.

As Dr. Dummett says — Black gums are beautiful, too!

"Cold sores" are an abomination for many people at one time or another. At a recent meeting of the American Dental Association, Dr. Samuel Hurwitz of Pennsylvania, described his method of managing such sores.

When the early symptoms of a cold sore appear, he moistens a Band-aid with a dye (.1 per cent proflavine), places it over the sore for 60 minutes. When he removes the Band-aid, he applies the light of an ordinary 15 watt fluorescent tube (from a student's desk lamp) for 15 minutes, at a distance of six inches.

If possible, the patient should repeat the light treatment within the next six hours, without the yellow dye.

At the .1 per cent concentration the proflavine dye is a very light yellow and is hardly noticeable after a few minutes.

Cancer Incidence Low In Mormons

BOSTON (AP) — Mormons, who generally do not smoke, are far less apt to have cancer of the lung, breast, cervix or ovary, researchers say.

The low rate of lung cancer could be attributed to the Mormon prohibition on smoking, the scientists said. But they said they could not account for the significantly lower incidence of other kinds of cancer.

HAWAII: Island State Lives By 'Aloha'

By BOB KRAUSE
HONOLULU (NEA) — Our nation's 200-year history, from Lexington and Concord to landing on the moon, shows that the contribution of the youngest state, Hawaii, has always been to the future.

The Pacific islands that were to become the future 50th state were still undiscovered by Western man when Minute Men fired the shot heard 'round the world, and would wait two more years before January, 1778 when Captain James Cook happened by accident upon this tiny world existing in a vast, watery universe.

There the brown-skinned people who abundantly fed Cook's hungry sailors lived by a code of behavior far ahead of its time.

They believe that the land and resources of their world were limited. As a result, conservation was not just a way of life but a religion. "Kapus" protected the environment long before impact statements were invented.

At a time when the population of the American colonies was doubling every 25 years the Hawaiians had anticipated population control by limiting their families on a voluntary basis to not more than two or three children and sometimes only one.

Forced to exist together on their remote islands with a population density of the United States today, these people had evolved limits to warfare a thousand years before the United Nations came into existence.

On the 20th anniversary of our nation, however, the 800,000 U.S. citizens living in Hawaii are more concerned with the cost of living than with the future. But even that may be an omen of the future.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the 11th in a series of stories about some of the colorful people, facts and history of each of America's 50 states. Today's author is a columnist for the Honolulu, Hawaii, Advertiser and author of a recent book, "We All Live On An Island."

Because of Hawaii's limited land area (6,450 square miles), the cost has skyrocketed to as high as over $100 per square foot in crowded Waikiki and has pushed the price of low cost housing to $40,000. Local real estate dealers say this is a foretaste of higher land prices all over the country as land becomes more limited.

This land squeeze forced modern Hawaiians into more future behavior. Ten years before California's shoreline protection bill became law, Hawaii's legislature in 1961 enacted a land use measure which zoned not only the shoreline but every square inch of land in the state.

Meanwhile, the population of Honolulu by 1970 had doubled over the past 20 years, the economy of the state had grown five times and tourism increased 20 times from 1950 to 1974.

Like many other Americans, residents of Hawaii have begun to vigorously question the consequences of such rapid growth which inflates land prices still more, and to ask how much it costs in terms of environmental deterioration and social upheaval.

This concern has spilled over into tourism, the state's largest industry, which drew 2.7 million visitors to Hawaii last year. Rapid development of Hawaii's scenic beaches caused the 1975 legislature to enact its own shoreline protection bill.

So the residents of our newest state are too busy solving their own problems to offer advice to sister states. One exception may be pride in a survival technique perfected by the old Hawaiians and adopted by most newcomers, who discover that the penalties for aggressive, overly competitive behavior are high on an island while friendliness and forgiveness offer much greater rewards over the long haul.

The word for this survival technique is aloha, a Hawaiian term which means warmth and love as well as hello and goodbye. Hawaii calls itself the Aloha State.

An attitude of aloha permitted Hawaiians to survive in cramped isolation for one thousand years without becoming bitter, unhappy, neurotic people. Instead, they emerged as a stereotype of the carefree human.

The same attitude makes it possible for Waikiki, with a population density nearly that of Manhattan Island, to be a place where people go to forget the hectic pace.

This aloha attitude is also the principal reason Hawaii's rate of racial intermarriage, at least one out of three, is unequalled anywhere in the United States and makes possible a climate of racial togetherness which is far from perfect but is the envy of most observers.

Aloha, as a weapon of sur-

50th STAR IN FLAG

Area: 6,450 sq. mi.; rank, 47th. Population (1974): 847,000; rank, 40th. Capital: Honolulu. Motto: The Life of the Land Is Perpetuated in Righteousness. Flower: Hibiscus. Bird: Nene (Hawaiian goose). Tree: Kukui (candlenut). Song: Hawaii Pono. Entered Union: August

21, 1959; rank, 50th. Nickname: The Aloha State.

Polynesians from islands 2,000 miles to the south settled the Hawaiian Islands, probably about 700 A.D. First European visitor was British Capt. James Cook, 1778. Missionaries arrived, 1820, taught religion, reading and writing. King Kamehameha III and his chiefs created the first Constitution and Legislature which set up a public school system. Sugar production began in 1835; it became the dominant industry. In 1893, Queen Liliuokalani was deposed, followed, 1894, by a republic headed by Sanford B. Dole. Annexation by the U.S. came in 1898. Attempts to attain statehood did not succeed until 1959.

Traffic Deaths Continue To Dip

CHICAGO (AP) — Final figures aren't in yet, but the National Safety Council says the number of traffic deaths in 1975 may be lower than in 1974, when the toll dropped to its lowest level since 1963.

Council President Vincent Tofani said Wednesday that in the first 11 months of last year, 42,030 persons died in traffic accidents, compared with 42,170 in the same period of 1974. A total of 46,200 died in all of 1974.

Democratic Leaders Differ On How To Revitalize Michigan

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — As the doors swung open Wednesday on the 1976 session of Michigan's Democratic-controlled legislature, leaders urged quick action to stimulate the state's economy and hasten recovery from the recession.

But House Speaker Bobby Crim of Davison and Senate Majority Leader William Fitzgerald of Detroit took different tacks toward revitalizing the economy and providing more jobs.

They also thought Gov. William Milliken should not have slammed the door on the possibility of raising taxes on things like cigarettes and liquor.

Crim called for "fundamental tax reform," including the possibility of a graduated income tax. He said the state should join other states with high unemployment in seeking higher unemployment benefits, welfare payments and other federal aid from Washington.

Fitzgerald, on the other hand, urged more economic development and incentives for business and industry, cautioning that all programs should be studied for their effects on business and jobs.

Both made their comments to opening-day sessions of the legislature, as lawmakers returned from a month's holiday. They preceded by one day Milliken's State of the State message.

Crim has said he may renew his push to eliminate the constitutional ban against a graduated income tax — a proposal rejected twice before by state voters.

"Further increases in our flat rate income tax will seriously damage the ability of low and middle income people to cope with the ravages of inflation," he said.

Crim and Fitzgerald have agreed with Milliken that an income tax increase can be averted this year. "I cannot see at this time any need for an increase and would not recommend the Senate even entertain the idea unless the governor demands it," Fitzgerald said.

But unlike the governor, who ruled almost all new levies out, Fitzgerald said he hasn't closed the door on raising "nuisance taxes" on cigarettes and alcohol.

"I think the state will need additional revenue to balance the budget," he said. "If we're not going to raise the income tax we might have to discuss raising some nuisance taxes."

Fitzgerald said it "isn't prudent" to close the door on such tax increases as Milliken has done. He also said he might consider a special Southeast Michigan tax the governor has mentioned to fund transportation systems "if fairly assessed on all communities." But he said an increase in Detroit's city income tax has little chance in the legislature.

Crim said Milliken "has pretty much cut off his options" by ruling out nuisance taxes. "You always keep your options open before you know what kind of problems we are going to have," Crim said.

In his message to the Senate, Fitzgerald said the focus for generating revenue "must come through a plan of economic development that includes job preservation."

The economic impact of all legislation and its effect on jobs is the foundation for all of Fitzgerald's priorities for the year.

"We must not lose sight of the fact that clean air and water, modern transportation and benefits for the employed and unemployed do not mean a thing unless we have enough jobs," he said. "If nothing else, 1976 must inspire us to strengthen cooperation between business and labor — to recognize that the interests of business and working people are mutual and not antagonistic."

Fitzgerald stressed unemployment benefits "are ineffective in the long run if we don't keep workers on the job." He called for more business expansion through use of the Michigan Economic Action Council and its planning and recommendation powers.

In other areas, Fitzgerald and Crim called for legislation to combat the mounting crime problem, to improve worker's compensation benefits, and a new approach to school financing.

Fitzgerald said environmental protection measures should be "viewed economically." And both he and Crim suggested revisions in state local revenue sharing to help Detroit meet its crushing problems as a major urban area.

Crim also called for welfare reform, while Fitzgerald urged a crackdown on those who abuse social benefit programs at the expense of the needy.

Crim also called for quick approval of a deceptive trade practices bill, a state health care policy for the elderly, an open meetings bill and a state land use policy.

Crim said state spending in the next budget will probably be around $3.07 billion, up about four to five per cent over the current $3.04 billion budget.

He said he based his figures on a conversation with Gerald Miller, director of the Department of Management and Budget.

The new budget however will be inflated by another $150 million in money that will have to be given to school districts and local governments, Crim said.

This money, which would bring the budget up to around $3.2 billion, would normally have been collected by individual local governments through the inventory tax, which has been abolished. Now, under the state's new single business tax, that money is collected directly by the state and then redistributed.

TANK CAR BURNS: Railroad tank car burns violently in Grand Rapids Wednesday night for more than two hours. Car erupted into flames when officials attempted to move car that was leaking propane gas to safer place. Residents in two blocks of city's northeast side were evacuated when leak was detected. Fifty firefighters quelled flames after two hour battle, during which explosion was constant threat. Structural failure in car's undercarriage allowed tank to rub against wheels, wearing hole in tank. Train was headed for Petoskey from Cities Service distribution center in Lowell. (AP Wirephoto)

Question Saginaw Busing

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — A proposed school integration plan for Saginaw may not meet federal requirements, school Supt. Jack P. Taylor has warned.

And, preliminary estimates on the plan indicate taxes would have to be raised some 3.5 mills to furnish $2 million that would be needed.

The so-called alternative school integration plan was developed by school district administrators from a proposal submitted earlier by Louis Oates, a Delta Community College administrator.

Taylor told board members it is similar to other integration plans already submitted to and rejected by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. HEW has demanded the district come up with an integration plan or face the loss of $5 million in federal funds. The department has charged the district is guilty of de facto segregation.

City schools are not now integrated although there is an open enrollment plan which allows some students to attend schools not in their neighborhood.

The proposed plan calls for a revised magnet school concept at all levels. Students would attend nearby schools on a half-day basis, moving to other schools for special programs for the remainder of the day's session.

A meeting on the proposal is planned next week.

Hartford Twp. To Hold Line On Officials' Pay

HARTFORD — The Hartford township board last night agreed that it will not raise salaries for elected township officials in 1976.

The board voted to continue salaries for all members at the 1975 level. Annual salaries will remain as follows: clerk, $2,910; treasurer, $2,780; supervisor, $5,080; and trustees, $22.50 per meeting. There are normally 13 scheduled meetings a year.

In other areas, the board voted to waive the three per cent penalty fee charged township residents paying property taxes after Feb. 15.

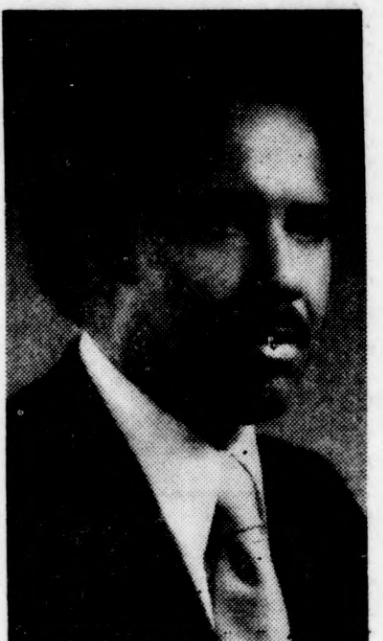

With the waiver, the deadline for paying property taxes has been extended to Feb. 28. After that date township tax collections will be turned over to the county and late payments with a penalty fee must be made to the county treasurer.

It was also noted that township residents who have a change in their tax assessment this year will receive notification of the change by mail from Mantron, the Kalamazoo firm compiling township assessments.

Board members said they hope to have an estimate for the cost of building a new township hall by the next meeting. The new hall is to be built on CR-681 south of the city of Hartford.

It was announced that Hartford is hosting a meeting of the Michigan Township association tonight at 8 p.m. at the First Savings and Loan association on North Center street for all townships in Van Buren county. Officers will be elected and installed.

REAPPOINTED: S. Martin Taylor has been reappointed director of Michigan Employment Security Commission. His new two year term will extend through Dec. 31, 1977, and is Taylor's third term as MESC director. He is a graduate of Western Michigan university and received a Juris Doctor degree from Detroit College of Law.

Woman To Face Trial

SOUTH HAVEN — Demetre Ann Hudson, 30, of Covert has been bound over to Van Buren circuit court following a preliminary examination in Seventh District court here on an open charge of murder.

Mrs. Hudson is accused of the Dec. 5 shooting death of her husband at their home.

Mrs. Hudson had been admitted to Kalamazoo State hospital following the slaying for treatment of emotional stress, but was recently deemed fit to have the district court examination. She appeared in court Tuesday. She remains lodged in the Van Buren county jail without bail.

STATE BOARD

Smietanka Picked To Fill Vacancy

Berrien Prosecutor John A. Smietanka has been elected to the board of directors of the Prosecuting Attorneys Association of Michigan, the official organization of the state's 83 prosecuting attorneys.

Smietanka will fill an unexpired term on the 12-member board until the group's annual meeting in August. The appointment came after one of the board's directors resigned.

PAAM serves as a lobbying arm for prosecutors in Michigan, and additionally takes positions on pending legislation, seeks to improve prosecution standards, and operates a prosecuting attorneys appellate service. Smietanka had served on PAAM's prosecution standards committee prior to his appointment to the board of directors.

Smietanka, 34, was appointed Berrien prosecutor in February, 1974, and elected in November, 1974, to fill the remaining term of former Prosecutor Ronald J. Taylor, now a district court judge, which expires this year. Smietanka said he is still undecided whether he will seek another term in office.

BANGOR TOWNSHIP

Grant Is Legal Without Zoning

BANGOR — Bangor township will not have to have a zoning ordinance to qualify for federal grant monies for a sewer system study, the township board reported last night.

Township officials said that according to their engineering firm, Wightman & Associates, St. Joseph, there has been a change in federal regulations that formerly required a zoning ordinance as a prerequisite for receiving federal grants.

The township has been studying an ordinance for several years but has not adopted one yet.

Bangor township is one of five mid-Van Buren county governments studying a possible common sewer system.

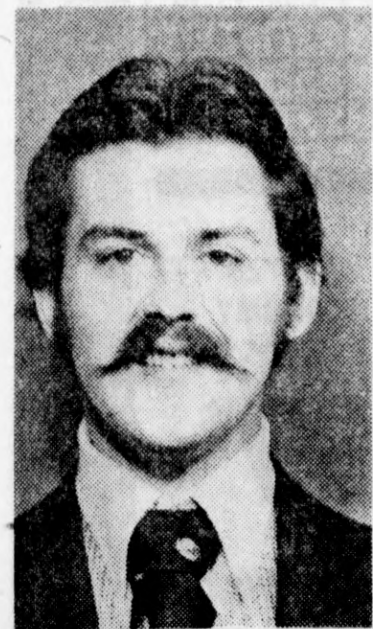

Prorated cost of the feasibility study to Bangor township is $5,000, with the federal share being 75 per cent of that figure.

In other business, the township board appointed Graf-in Young as the township's representative to the Van Buren county Commission on Aging.

Harriet Clemens Will Serve On Van Buren Panel

DECATUR — It was incorrectly reported in yesterday's Herald-Palladium that Mrs. Harriet Miller was appointed as Decatur township's representative on the Van Buren County Commission on Aging.

The township board has appointed Mrs. Harriet Clemens to the commission.

HEALTH DIRECTOR: James Michael, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Devon Michael, 545 Chapin lane, Berrien Springs, has been named director of environmental health for the city-county health department in Jamestown, N.D. A 1962 graduate of Berrien Springs high school, Michael received his bachelor of science degree from Ferris State college, Big Rapids. He and his wife, Sandra, and daughter reside in Jamestown.

Sewer Bid Date Changed

NEW BUFFALO — The date for opening construction bids on the proposed $20 million Galien river sanitary sewer system has been changed from Feb. 17 to March 2, the sewer board learned last night.

Robert Barnes, director of the Berrien county Department of Public Works, said bids will be opened at 2 p.m., at the Berrien county courthouse, by the county board of public works.

He said a pre-bidding meeting has been rescheduled for Feb. 17 at the New Buffalo township hall.

The county BPW will act on the bids at a March 10 meeting, Barnes said.

The project will serve Chikaming and New Buffalo townships and New Buffalo city.

In related business, the project engineer for New Buffalo and Chikaming townships said it will submit new plans and specifications for the sewer line along Community Hall road in New Buffalo township.

The state's Department of Natural Resources had previously said that because of the current planned land use of the area, and the few homes located along the road, grant funds for sewer line construction in that area would not be available.

If new plans to be submitted are not approved, the township would have to pay for sewer line construction in the area with all local funds.

Officers Reelected

The Berrien county board of public works in a routine meeting yesterday re-elected the current slate of officers to serve in 1976.

Re-elected were Chairman Robert Feather, Clifford Emblong, vice chairman, and Lamont Tufts, secretary. Other members of the BPW include Fred Munchow, Jr., John Gillette, and Lester Krumrie.

After 5 Tries, J. Paul Getty Resists Marriage

Q. Has J. Paul Getty moved to this country? — T.C., Canaan, Conn.

A. Getty, 82, has built a fabulous museum and home in California but continues to stay on in England most of the time. He is closely attended there, incidentally, by one Mrs. Rosabella Burch, 42, a very attractive woman who lived in California until her husband died five years back. Although Mrs. Burch reportedly says that she has thought of marrying Mr. Getty and believes he too has considered it, she does not expect it to happen. After five tries at marriage Getty does not think highly of the institution.

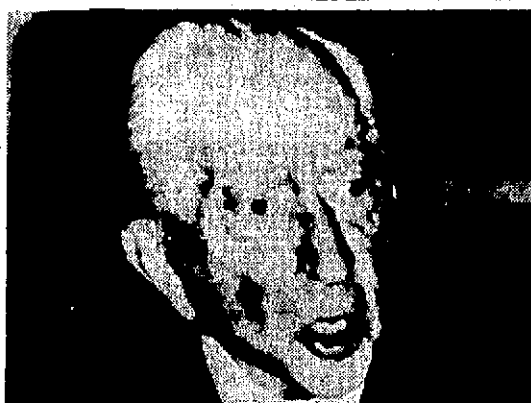

Q. Why doesn't my idol Bob Dylan make a movie now? — B.R., Des Moines, Iowa

A. Dylan's narrative poem "Lily Rosemary and the Jack of Hearts" will be a feature-length movie with the maestro himself playing a minor part, we hear.

Q. Did that British M.P. whose house Caroline Kennedy was staying in when it was bombed ever get his wife back? — D.P., Bayhills, Calif.

A. Afraid not. It looks like the M.P., Hugh Fraser, has lost his beautiful wife, Lady Antonia, for good. Friends report that questions from readers. While Sloan cannot provide individual answers, questions of general interest will be used in the column. Write to Robin Adams Sloan, care of this newspaper.

GETTY: Marriage not very likely.

DYLAN: Film role next.

FRASER: Lost: Lady Antonia.

PEOPLE

By Robin Adams Sloan

Lady Antonia, mother of six, has ordered new stationery which bears the address of playwright Harold Pinter into whose home she moved after splitting from Hugh. This appears to be a permanent change of address.

Q. How did rumors get started that President Ford drinks too much? — H.E., Bensenville, N.J.

A. The President has never denied that he likes a social drink or two. The rumors you speak of snowballed after President Ford made a "brief" address in New Hampshire after a few martinis. He talked for 45 minutes. Then he referred, at a state dinner, to the "great people of Israel" when he meant "Egypt"; and at another dinner he stumbled over the name of the president of Colombia. But Mr. Ford's frequent mis-speaks don't necessarily mean he imbibes too much.

Q. How has the "dream" merger of Christina Onassis' fortune with that of Alexander Onassis worked out? — U.G., Kansas City, Mo.

A. We have heard nothing to indicate that the romantic relations between the newlyweds are in trouble but the financial outlook appears decidedly cloudy. The Onassis money was heavily into tankers which are now a glut on the market. The Andreadis dough was in banking and the Greek government has just taken over three of their banks and is calling for further investigations. Well, true love never runs smoothly.

Q. Is the drug scene still big among the Hollywood stars? — D.J., Greenville, Miss.

A. The puncture drugs, like needling with heroin, have never been too big with the movie establishment. Interest in LSD has waned though uppers and downers are still popular as is that all-time favorite, marijuana. But the drug of choice these days is cocaine and everybody but everybody is sniffing it. You just wouldn't believe the middle-aged highly respectable names that are into the stuff.

After 5 Tries, J. Paul Getty Resists Marriage

Q. Has J. Paul Getty moved to this country? — T.C., Canaan, Conn.

A: Getty, 82, has built a fabulous museum and home in California but continues to stay on in England most of the time. He is closely attended there, incidentally, by one Mrs. Rosabella Burch, 42, a very attractive woman who lived in California until her husband died five years back. Although Mrs. Burch reportedly says that she has thought of marrying Mr. Getty and believes he too has considered it, she does not expect it to happen. After five tries at marriage Getty does not think highly of the institution.

Q. Why doesn't my idol Bob Dylan make a movie now? — B.R., Des Moines, Iowa

A: Dylan's narrative poem "Lilly Rosemary and the Jack of Hearts" will be a feature-length movie with the maestro himself playing a minor part, we hear.

Q. Did that British M.P. whose house Caroline Kennedy was staying in when it was bombed ever get his wife back? — D.P., Blythe, Calif.

A: Afraid not. It looks like the M.P., Hugh Fraser, has lost his beautiful wife, Lady Antonia, for good. Friends report that questions from readers. While Sloan cannot provide individual answers, questions of general interest will be used in the column. Write to Robin Adams Sloan, care of this newspaper.

GETTY: Marriage not very likely.

DYLAN: Film role next.

FRASER: Lost: Lady Antonia.

PEOPLE

By Robin
Adams Sloan

Lady Antonia, mother of six, has ordered new stationery which bears the address of playwright Harold Pinter into whose home she moved after splitting from Hugh. This appears to be a permanent change of address.

Q: How did rumors get started that President Ford drinks too much? — H.E., Bensenville, N.J.

A: The President has never denied that he likes a social drink or two. The rumors you speak of snowballed after President Ford made a "brief" address in New Hampshire after a few martinis. He talked for 45 minutes. Then he referred, at a state dinner, to the "great people of Israel" when he meant "Egypt"; and at another dinner he stumbled over the name of the president of Colombia. But Mr. Ford's frequent mis-speaks don't necessarily mean he imbibes too much.

Q: How has the "dream" merger of Christina Onassis' fortune with that of Alexander Andreadis worked out? — U.G., Kansas City, Mo.

A: We have heard nothing to indicate that the romantic relations between the newlyweds are in trouble but the financial outlook appears decidedly cloudy. The Onassis money was heavily into tankers which are now a glut on the market. The Andreadis dough was in banking and the Greek government has just taken over three of their banks and is calling for further investigations. Well, true love never runs smoothly.

Q: Is the drug scene still big among the Hollywood stars? — D.J., Greenville, Miss.

A: The puncture drugs, like needing with heroin, have never been too big with the movie establishment. Interest in LSD has waned though uppers and downers are still popular as is that all-time favorite, marijuana. But the drug of choice these days is cocaine and everybody but everybody is sniffing it. You just wouldn't believe the middle-aged highly respectable names that are into the stuff.

Urges New Blood Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's inflation monitoring council is urging more commercialism in the collection and distribution of human blood, thus challenging the current federal policy of seeking an all-volunteer blood system. "The council offers an opinion that our public policies toward blood would be improved substantially if it were recognized that blood is a product that is not very different from other consumer goods," the Council on Wage and Price Stability said Wednesday.

They'll Do It Every Time

LA Hospital Is Near Capacity

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The public health system in Los Angeles County may be forced soon to use reserve hospital space as doctors continue a slowdown protesting increased malpractice insurance rates, officials say.

All but 55 of the 3,751 readily available beds at eight county-operated hospitals were occupied Wednesday, said Liston Witherrill, director of the county Department of Health Services.

Kissinger Has Hopes For Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is going to Moscow next week to work on a new nuclear weapons treaty, which he says "is a matter that is of profound concern for the long-term future."

Kissinger, at a news conference Wednesday, said he undertakes his mission on the strength of "a clear promise" that the Soviets would make a significant modification of their position on the agreement.

Kissinger is set to leave Washington for the Soviet capital Tuesday.

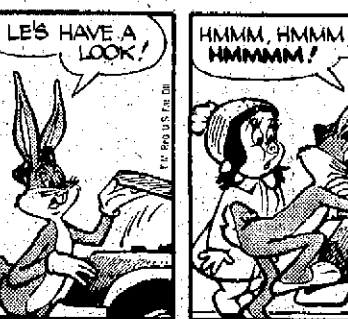

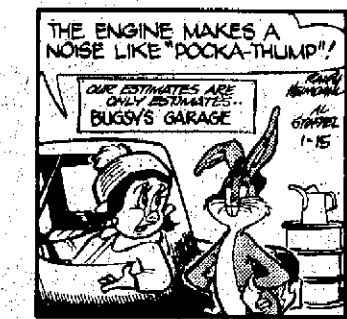

While apparently optimistic about the negotiations, Kissinger insisted that the two principal sticking points, the Russian Backfire bomber and the American cruise missile, remain unsettled.

Urges New Blood Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's inflation monitoring council is urging more commercialism in the collection and distribution of human blood, thus challenging the current federal policy of seeking an all-volunteer blood system. "The council offers an opinion that our public policies toward blood would be improved substantially if it were recognized that blood is a product that is not very different from other consumer goods," the Council on Wage and Price Stability said Wednesday.

Kissinger Has Hopes For Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is going to Moscow next week to work on a new nuclear weapons treaty, which he says "is a matter that is of profound concern for the long-term future."

Kissinger, at a news conference Wednesday, said he undertakes his mission on the strength of "a clear promise" that the Soviets would make a significant modification of their position on the agreement.

Kissinger is set to leave Washington for the Soviet capital Tuesday.

While apparently optimistic about the negotiations, Kissinger insisted that the two principal sticking points, the Russian Backfire bomber and the American cruise missile, remain unsettled.

LA Hospital Is Near Capacity

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The public health system in Los Angeles County may be forced soon to use reserve hospital space as doctors continue a slowdown protesting increased malpractice insurance rates, officials say.

All but 55 of the 3,751 readily available beds at eight county-operated hospitals were occupied Wednesday, said Liston Witherill, director of the county Department of Health Services.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Adding To Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved ahead again today, adding to Wednesday's strong gains.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up about 1 1/2 points in the early going, and gainers took a 5-2 lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the market's showing Wednesday, when it overrode profit taking pressures and took off on a new surge, seemed to have attracted additional buying.

Today's early prices included International Telephone & Telegraph, up 1/4 at 24 1/2; Castle & Cooke, ahead 1/2 at 15 1/2; J. Ray McDermott, up 1/2 at 42, and Federal National Mortgage, unchanged at 16.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average climbed 16.89 to 929.63, a new 26-month high.

That widened the average's gain since the start of the new year to 77.22 points.

Advancing issues outpaced declines by more than a 4-1 margin on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index was up .83 at 91.44.

Big Board volume remained heavy at 30.34 million shares.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up 1.23 at 91.22.

Three Appointed To Zoning Board

SOUTH HAVEN — Three people were appointed to four-year terms on the South Haven township zoning board by the township board last night.

The appointees, all new members, are Mrs. Mildred Jensen, Stephen Howe and Lawrence Swetley.

In other areas, the board approved the purchase of 1,000 pine trees from the state at a cost of $30. The trees will be planted along the road to the township's sanitary landfill.

Officials noted there was a possibility the township will be able to hire another attendant for the ambulance service through the federal CETA program.

Supervisor James Schuake reported three building permits for projects valued at $19,550 were issued in December.

Permits were issued to Lowell Tippman, 8th avenue, new home, $15,000; Meyer Warshawsky, 8th avenue, addition, $850; and Leonard Kuczmarski, 73rd street, trailer, $4,000.

The board received a letter from Henry Compton thanking the township for allowing him to manage the sanitary landfill in previous years. Compton was not the low bidder when the new contract was recently negotiated and did not receive the work.

Old Capitol Elevator Doors Center Of Dispute

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Three sets of old bronze state Capitol elevator doors are under lock and key while a dispute over who keeps them festers.

The 48-year-old paneled doors are being replaced with modern steel and enamel doors in a $58,841 renovation of the Capitol's main elevators.

Contractor Donald Rush of Otis Elevator is doing the job, and said he thought the doors were his as salvage.

But the state Historical Commission, which is supposed to get first crack at artifacts from the century-old building, says it wants them.

Rush said he has the doors locked away for safe keeping pending the final outcome. He said nothing in his contract says he can't have the doors. He'd like to use one set to decorate a family room.

Miss Shepard is a freshman at Whitworth college.

Portage Man Is Arrested

GOBLES — State police at Paw Paw reported they arrested a Portage man last night in connection with the alleged theft of three pairs of skis and poles from the Timber Ridge ski lodge near here.

Lodged in Van Buren county jail on a charge of larceny of goods valued at over $100 was a man identified as Larry A. Pierce, 18.

Police said they received a complaint about 7:15 p.m. from Roger Rantz, owner of the lodge, who said he had apprehended a man attempting to take skis from the lodge.

Two other pairs of skis belonging to lodge guests were found in the man's car, police said.

Police said the equipment was valued at a total of $545.

Two Ask Hearings In Van Buren Court

SOUTH HAVEN — A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for Jan. 20 in Seventh district court here for a man charged with third degree criminal sexual assault.

Howard Jones, 62, of 555 School street, was arrested on the charge after a 15-year-old girl told police she had been assaulted Jan. 8. Jones was placed under $10,000, upon appearing in court here Monday for arraignment. The examination date was scheduled during the hearing.

In other district court cases this week, Margie Lee Bridges, 44, 313 Cable street, South Haven, demanded a preliminary examination when arraigned on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder.

South Haven police arrested her in connection with a Jan. 9 incident in which William Wade of South Haven, alleges he was attacked by a woman with a knife. Police said Wade suffered cuts to the arms and thigh during an argument. Margie Bridges was ordered held in lieu of $5,000 bond pending a Jan. 20 preliminary examination.

Gray Lawrence, 21, 501 Green street, South Haven, was bound over to circuit court following his preliminary examination on a charge of felonious assault.

Lawrence was arrested by South Haven police in connection with a Jan. 8 incident in which a man was disarmed after allegedly pointing a sawed-off shotgun at residents of an apartment building and city police officers who had been summoned to investigate a disorderly person complaint. Lawrence remains in custody in lieu of $10,000 bond.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Adding To Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved ahead again today, adding to Wednesday's strong gains.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up about 1 1/2 points in the early going, and gainers took a 5-2 lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the market's showing Wednesday, when it overrode profit taking pressures and took off on a new upsurge, seemed to have attracted additional buying.

Today's early prices included International Telephone & Telegraph, up 1/4 at 24 1/2; Castle & Cooke, ahead 1/2 at 15 1/2; J. Ray McDermott, up 1/2 at 42; and Federal National Mortgage, unchanged at 16.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average climbed 16.69 to 929.63, a new 26-month high.

That widened the average's gain since the start of the new year to 77.22 points.

Advancing issues outpaced declines by more than a 4-1 margin on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index was up .83 at 51.44.

Big Board volume remained heavy at 30.34 million shares.

SOUTH HAVEN TWP.

Three Appointed To Zoning Board

SOUTH HAVEN — Three people were appointed to four-year terms on the South Haven township zoning board last night.

The appointees, all new members, are Mrs. Mildred Jensen, Stephen Howe and Lawrence Swetey.

In other areas, the board approved the purchase of 1,000 pine trees from the state at a cost of $30. The trees will be planted along the road to the township's sanitary landfill.

Officials noted there was a possibility the township will be able to hire another attendant for the ambulance service through the federal CETA program.

Supervisor James Schnake reported three building permits for projects valued at $19,850 were issued in December.

Permits were issued to Lowell Tippman, 8th avenue, new home, $15,000; Meyer Warshawsky, 6th avenue, addition, $850; and Leonard Kaczmarek, 73rd street, trailer, $4,000.

The board received a letter from Henry Compton thanking the township for allowing him to manage the sanitary landfill in previous years. Compton was not the low bidder when the new contract was recently negotiated and did not receive the work.

Old Capitol Elevator Doors Center Of Dispute

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Three sets of old bronze state Capitol elevator doors are under lock and key while a dispute over who keeps them festers.

The 46-year-old paneled doors are being replaced with modern steel and enamel doors in a $38,841 renovation of the Capitol's main elevators.

Contractor Donald Rush of Otis Elevator is doing the job and said he thought the doors were his as salvage.

But the state Historical Commission, which is supposed to get first crack at artifacts from the century-old building, says it wants them.

Rush said he has the doors locked away for safe keeping pending the final outcome. He said nothing in his contract says he can't have the doors. He'd like to use one set to decorate a family room.

Scouts To Hold Paper Drive

Benton Harbor Boy Scout Troop 604 and Cub Scout Pack 604 will hold a paper drive from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Saturday, according to Scoutmaster William Marquart. People can drop off newspapers at Sorter or Pearl elementary schools at that time, according to Marquart. The Boy Scouts will continue the paper collection the third Saturday of every month, he said. Boy Scout Troop 604 and Cub Scout Pack 604 are sponsored by the Sorter Parent Teacher Organization (PTO).

Lifesaving Classes Offered

The Berrien county chapter of the American National Red Cross is offering junior and senior lifesaving swimming classes at the St. Joseph YWCA, according to Bill Womer, chapter water safety chairman. The senior lifesaving course began last night and the junior course will begin Saturday at 1:30 p.m. The instruction is free, according to Womer, but there will be a fee for use of the pool.

Portage Man Is Arrested

GOBLES — State police at Paw Paw reported they arrested a Portage man last night in connection with the alleged theft of three pairs of skis and poles from the Timber Ridge ski lodge near here.

Lodged in Van Buren county jail on a charge of larceny of goods valued at over $100 was a man identified as Larry A. Pierce, 19.

Police said they received a complaint about 7:15 p.m. from Roger Rantz, owner of the lodge, who said he had apprehended a man attempting to take skis from the lodge.

Two other pairs of skis belonging to lodge guests were found in the man's car, police said.

Police said the equipment was valued at a total of $545.

Two Ask Hearings In Van Buren Court

SOUTH HAVEN — A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for Jan. 20 in Seventh district court here for a man charged with third degree criminal sexual assault.

Howard Jones, 62, of 555 School street, was arrested on the charge after a 15-year-old girl told police she had been assaulted Jan. 8. Jones was placed under $10,000, upon appearing in court here Monday for arraignment. The examination date was scheduled during the hearing.

In other district court cases this week, Margie Lee Bridges, 44, 313 Cable street, South Haven, demanded a preliminary examination when arraigned on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder.

South Haven police arrested her in connection with a Jan. 9 incident in which William Wade of South Haven, alleges he was attacked by a woman with a knife. Police said Wade suffered cuts to the arms and thigh during an argument. Margie Bridges was ordered held in lieu of $5,000 bond pending a Jan. 20 preliminary examination.

Gary Lawrence, 21, 501 Green street, South Haven, was bound over to circuit court following his preliminary examination on a charge of felonious assault.

Lawrence was arrested by South Haven police in connection with a Jan. 8, incident in which a man was disarmed after allegedly pointing a sawed-off shotgun at residents of an apartment building and city police officers who had been summoned to investigate a disorderly person complaint. Lawrence remains in custody in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Hagar Man Handed Additional Sentence

A Hagar township man sentenced to 1 to 5 years in prison on Monday in Berrien Circuit court got another 1 to 2-year prison sentence Tuesday.

Sentenced to 1 to 2 years for two probation violations by Circuit Judge Julian E. Hughes was Terry Taylor, 24, of 3312 Eaman road. Taylor on Monday received a 1 to 5 year sentence from Judge Chester J. Byrns for attempted breaking and entering. The sentences are to run concurrently, according to Hughes.

Taylor in May was placed on two years probation by Hughes and assessed $200 fine and costs for attempted larceny in a building Feb. 18 at St. Joseph Office Supply Co. in St. Joseph.

He was found guilty of violating probation by failing to pay fine and costs and being convicted of another felony — the attempted breaking and entering, which occurred Nov. 3 at the Establishment bar in Benton Harbor.

In an arraignment yesterday before Hughes, Laura Mae Montgomery, 25, of 390 Ohio street, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty to a charge of preparation to burn real property Aug. 21 at 515 Heck court, Benton Harbor.

Following arraignment, she was continued free on personal recognizance bond to await sentencing of up to four years in prison. She was accused of setting fire to a couch at the Heck court address, which caused fire damage to the interior of the house.

Asst. Prosecutor Patrick Murphy said another charge of arson against the woman stemming from a different incident is to be dismissed.

South Haven Hospital

Three Suspects Waive Hearings

People charged with delivery of heroin, armed robbery and burglary waived examinations in Berrien Fifth District court and were bound over to Circuit court Tuesday and Wednesday.

Also in court Tuesday and Wednesday, four people demanded examinations, nine were sentenced and charges against four others were dismissed.

Bound over to Circuit court were:

John Paul Yakel, 19, of 1111 McIntosh, Benton Heights, accused of armed robbery of Ricky A. Rhodes Jan. 1 in Benton township. He remained jailed under $10,000 bond.

James Blue, Jr., 17, of 870 Bishop, Benton Harbor, on a charge of breaking and entering a Benton township house Dec. 30. He was jailed in lieu of $500 bail.

Demanding examinations were:

Henry Warren (also known as Charles Dorset), Charles Byrd, Arthur Roseburgh, 21, of 600 Riverside road, Benton township, accused of swearing falsely while applying for a duplicate drivers' license at the St. Joseph Secretary of State's branch office Jan. 13. He did not post $5,000 bail.

Richard J. Ruff, 23, of California road, Bridgman, on a charge of larceny of currency over $100 from Schneider Vending Machine company Jan. 12 at Bridgman Die Cast. He failed to post $10,000 bond.

William L. Parker, 36, of Muskegon Heights, charged with writing an insufficient funds check for $90 Aug. 23 in Lincoln township. He was released on bail.

Charles E. Krause, 25, of Elgin, Ill., on charges of carrying a concealed weapon — a straight razor — and possession of marijuana Jan. 11 in Chikaming township. He was held under $7,000 bond.

Sentenced were:

William J. Brown, 22, of 231 Lawrence, Benton Heights, one year in jail for conspiracy to enter the garage of James Friday without permission Nov. 10 in Coloma.

Martha A. Wigfall, 20, of 1850 Highland, Benton Harbor, nine months in jail for conspiracy to commit petty larceny from Ruby Ray Dec. 26 in Benton Harbor. The charge was reduced from larceny over $100.

Donald E. Tennison, 18, of Sodus, fine and costs of $100 for illegal entry, without breaking, at a Sodus township home Dec. 1.

James L. Barnes, 29, of 710 Wells, Benton Harbor, $50 for use of marijuana Jan. 10 in Benton township.

Theon Quinlan, 24, of Michigan City, Ind., 30 days in jail for assault and battery against Berrien Sheriff's Deputy Michael Renkawitz Jan. 1 in New Buffalo township.

Sentenced for petty larceny were: Gloria Weekly, 18, of St. Louis, Mo., and Jackie R. Cooper, 17, of 1182 Bishop, Benton Harbor, each $121 or 30 days in jail; Willie D. Foster (also known as Hendrix), 50, of 1018 Blossom lane, Benton township, $120 or 30 days in jail; Charles H. Caulton, 20, of 620 Thresher, Benton Harbor, $120.

Dismissals granted included:

Charges of possession of amphetamines formerly filed against John D. Mathison, 24, of 115 Quince, Benton township, and Danny E. Sledge, 22, of Kalamazoo. They have been accepted for Berrien's deferred prosecution program.

POLICE ROUNDUP Bridgman Man Larceny Suspect

A Bridgman man was arrested Wednesday by Berrien sheriff's deputies on a warrant charging larceny of $550 from a dollar bill changer at a Bridgman manufacturing plant Monday.

Booked at the Berrien county jail was Richard James Ruff, 23, route 1, box 153A, California road. Deputies said the money was taken from the changer at Bridgman Castings company, Matthieu street. Deputies said they expect to recover a portion of the money.

three of a group of youths while walking through Hall park about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Treated for facial bruises and a broken rib and released from Mercy hospital was Floyd Pullins, 31, of 345 Summit street.

He said the group first called him names, then three attacked him, beating and kicking him. He said they fled when he pretended to be unconscious.

Four thefts were investigated Wednesday by Twin Cities area police in which goods valued at more than $700 were reported stolen.

Benton Harbor police said batteries valued at $200, were reported stolen from five 1976 pickup trucks on the lot of General Auto Sales, 350 East Main street.

Thefts reported to Benton township police were:

A citizens' band radio, valued at $189, from the car of Lee Knitter, 4198 Elizabeth drive, Stevensville, parked in a lot at Lake Michigan College, 2755 East Napier avenue.

Power tools, valued at $145, from the pickup of Luther Stone, 211 Crawford drive, Benton Heights.

Werner Noll, 3182 Grand View avenue, told St. Joseph township police a pair of snow skis and ski boots, valued at $175, was stolen from his garage.

A Benton township woman suffered several apparent stab wounds Wednesday, but township police said the woman declined to give information about the incident.

Betty Williams, 33, of 509 Margaret avenue, was treated for numerous wounds to her back, chest and shoulder, police said, but declined admittance to Mercy hospital. Police said they were called to 509 Margaret about 6:30 p.m. No weapon was found, police indicated.

A Benton Harbor man told city police he was beaten by

Berrien Marriages

The following marriage licenses have been issued by Berrien County Clerk Forrest H. Kesterke:

William A. Fulton, 50, Huntington Woods, Mich., and Doris Mae Moran, 38, Coloma.

Lester William Hombaker, 43, Buchanan, and Margret Ann Kuntz, 28, Galien.

Kurt Rolia Keigley, 21, and Linda Marjorie Turloff, 20, both of Coloma.

General Philmore Thomas, 24, and Yolanda Dru Williams, 21, both of Benton Harbor.

Richard Theodore Rickers, 18, and Karen Ann Rody, 17, both of St. Joseph.

Hearing Demanded By Paw Paw Man

PAW PAW — Gregory Buskirk, 20, Paw Paw, demanded preliminary examination on charges of auto theft and breaking and entering when arraigned yesterday in Van Buren Seventh district court.

He was ordered held on bond totaling $4,000 pending a Jan. 22 hearing on both charges.

Buskirk was arrested in connection with the theft Tuesday of a car belonging to Nancy Hazen of Mattawan in Paw Paw, according to Paw Paw police.

The other charge, according to a court spokesman, grew out of a November 16, 1973 break-in at a Lawrence home for which a warrant for Buskirk's arrest had been issued but not previously executed.

In another case, Thomas D. Gates, 18, 58th street, Paw Paw, was bound over to Van Buren circuit court after waiving preliminary examination on a charge of larceny in a building.

Conviction Of Berrien Man Upheld

The Michigan Court of Appeals has upheld the conviction of a former Berrien Springs man who was sentenced to 4 to 10 years in prison for breaking and entering.

Affirmed was the conviction of Arthur Thomas Caddy, 28, who received the prison term in October, 1974, from Berrien Circuit Judge Julian E. Hughes. Caddy was sentenced for breaking into the Comet True-Value hardware store, at 1220 M-138, Benton township, on Aug. 17, 1974.

The appeals court said it was unable to find "any error" in Caddy's case.

PUBLIC NOTICE

STATE OF MICHIGAN
BEFORE THE MICHIGAN
COMMISSION

Case No. U-4885

In the matter of the proceedings on the Commission's own motion to inquire into the regulations and procedures of gas and electric utilities pertaining to centrally metered customers, including reselling customers, and to provide for appropriate standards and rates for centrally metered gas and electric utility service.

The Michigan Public Service Commission has initiated a general inquiry into centrally metered utility services and the resale of such utility services.

Among the issues to be investigated by the Commission are:

1. The appropriate rate under which service should be rendered to centrally metered customers where the ultimate consumption is for residential use.
2. Problems related to requirements that reselling customers sell utility service to ultimate consumers at the same rate applicable to customers of the same class who are direct customers of utilities.
3. The revenue impacts on utilities of any revision of current rate patterns for centrally metered or resale service.
4. Problems related to enforcement by utilities of standards of service requirements on reselling customers which are conditions of service to such customers.
5. Means of providing for continuity of service to tenants of reselling customers where a reselling customer may be in violation of Commission rule, Commission-approved utility rule of the Michigan Gas Safety Code.
6. Tenant service continuity problems and possible financial consequences to utilities in case of abandonment of utility service distribution systems by centrally metered or reselling customers.
7. Rights and obligations of reselling customers and their tenants and extent of Commission jurisdiction, if any related thereto.

The Commission plans to hold public hearings for the purpose of receiving evidence relevant to achieving the objectives of equitable rate structures, rate classifications and fair service standards for centrally metered utility services. Such public hearings will be conducted in three phases as follows:

PHASE I — Public hearings to receive submissions and comments from interested individuals, associations or others to be held in Flint, Grand Rapids, Farmington Hills and Lansing.

PHASE II — Public hearings in Lansing to receive and to provide opportunity for cross-examination of evidence and testimony from utilities, parties who formally intervene under Rule 11 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Commission and the Staff.

PHASE III — Evidentiary or administrative type hearings as may be necessary in the Commission's judgment concerning the rate schedules or service rules of particular utilities or possible revisions thereof. Such hearings would be separately noticed.

Public hearings in Phase I of this inquiry to receive comments and submissions of interested centrally metered customers, reselling customers, landlords, ultimate consumers, tenants, mobile home associations, condominium associations, state or local governmental agencies or others interested in the issues set forth herein will be held at the following locations, dates and times:

- (1) On the Orchard Ridge Campus, Oakland County Community College, "J" Building, Room 283, 27055 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington Hills on January 22, 1978 commencing at 1:30 P.M. and 7:30 P.M.
- (2) In the 1st floor auditorium of the Law Building at 525 W. Ottawa in Lansing on January 26, 1978 commencing at 1:30 P.M. and 7:30 P.M.
- (3) In the City Council Chambers, City Hall, 1101 South Saginaw, Flint on January 27, 1978 commencing at 1:30 P.M. and 7:30 P.M.
- (4) In the City Commission Chambers, 9th Floor, City Hall, 300 Monroe Street, N.W., Grand Rapids on January 28, 1978 commencing at 1:30 P.M. and 7:30 P.M.

Public hearings in Phase II of this inquiry to receive and provide for cross-examination of evidence and testimony from responding utilities, parties authorized to intervene under Rule 11 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Commission and the Staff be held in the Commission offices of the Law Building at 525 W. Ottawa in Lansing commencing at 9:30 A.M. on February 1, 1978 and continuing thereafter as necessary in accordance with schedules to be established by the presiding Administrative

Three Suspects Waive Hearings

People charged with delivery of heroin, armed robbery and burglary waived examinations in Berrien Fifth District court and were bound over to Circuit court Tuesday and Wednesday.

Also in court Tuesday and Wednesday four people demanded examinations, nine were sentenced and charges against four others were dismissed.

Bound over to Circuit court were:

David R. Snapp, 21, of Joliet, Ill., on charges of delivery of heroin and carrying a concealed pistol Dec. 22 in Benton township. He posted $15,000 bail and was freed.

John Paul Yakel, 19, of 1111 McIntosh, Benton Heights, accused of armed robbery of Ricky A. Rhodes Jan. 1 in Benton township. He remained jailed under $10,000 bond.

James Blue, Jr., 17, of 970 Bishop, Benton Harbor, on a charge of breaking and entering a Benton township house Dec. 30. He was jailed in lieu of $500 bail.

Demanding examinations were:

Henry Warren (also known as Charles Dorsett, Charles Byrd, Arthur Roseburgh), 21, of 600 Riverside road, Benton township, accused of swearing falsely while applying for a duplicate drivers' license at the St. Joseph Secretary of State's branch office Jan. 13. He did not post $5,000 bail.

Richard J. Ruff, 23, of California road, Bridgman, on a charge of larceny of currency over $100 from Schneider Vending Machine company Jan. 12 at Bridgman Die Cast. He failed to put up $10,000 bond.

William L. Parker, 36, of Muskegon Heights, charged with writing an insufficient funds check for $90 Aug. 23 in Lincoln township. He was released on bail.

Charles E. Krause, 25, of Elgin, Ill., on charges of carrying a concealed weapon — a straight razor — and possession of marijuana Jan. 11 in Chikaming township. He was held under $7,000 bond.

Sentenced were: William J. Brown, 22, of 231 Lawrence, Benton Heights, one year in jail for conspiracy to enter the garage of James Friday without permission Nov. 10 in Coloma.

Martha A. Wigfall, 20, of 1850 Highland, Benton Harbor, nine months in jail for conspiracy to commit petty larceny from Ruby Ray Dec. 26 in Benton Harbor. The charge was reduced from larceny over $100.

Donald E. Tension, 18, of Sodus, fine and costs of $105 for illegal entry, without breaking, at a Sodus township home Dec. 1.

James L. Barnes, 29, of 710 Wells, Benton Harbor, $50 for use of marijuana Jan. 10 in Benton township.

Theon Quarles, 24, of Michigan City, Ind., 30 days in jail for assault and battery against Berrien Sheriff's Deputy Michael Renkawitz Jan. 1 in New Buffalo township.

Sentenced for petty larceny were: Gloria Weekly, 18, of St. Louis, Mo., and Jackie R. Cooper, 17, of 1182 Bishop, Benton Harbor, each $121 or 30 days in jail; Willie D. Foster (also known as Hendrix), 50, of 1018 Blossom lane, Benton township, $120 or 30 days in jail; Charles H. Caulton, 20, of 620 Thresher, Benton Harbor, $120.

Dismissals granted included: Charges of possession of amphetamines formerly filed against John D. Mathison, 24, of 115 Quince, Benton township, and Danny E. Sledge, 22, of Kalamazoo. They have been accepted for Berrien's deferred prosecution program.

A charge of larceny over $100, which was brought against Raymond A. Svorac, 18, of 289 Madeline, Benton township. A receiving and concealing stolen property charge against Terry R. Henagan, 22, of 2817 Glenford road, Stevensville.

Police Capt. Mortimer McInerney, in charge of investigating the blast, said the explosives were planted in a false ceiling in a restroom between the Iranian consulate and Stauffer's computer office.

McInerney said he didn't know what type of explosive was used.

About 30 minutes before the explosion, a woman who said she was a member of the Red Guerrilla Family telephoned the San Francisco Chronicle warning that the blast was set for 10 p.m. Security personnel in the building notified tenants.

ARRIVES IN TIMOR
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — United Nations special envoy Vittorio Guicciardi arrived today to begin a study of the East Timor situation.

General Philmore Thomas, 24, and Yolanda Dru Williams, 21, both of Benton Harbor.

Richard Theodore Rickers, 18, and Karen Ann Rody, 17, both of St. Joseph.

Lester William Hornbaker, 43, Buchanan, and Margaret Ann Kuch, 28, Galien.

Kurt Rolia Keigley, 21, and Linda Marjorie Turloff, 20, both of Coloma.

General Philmore Thomas, 24, and Yolanda Dru Williams, 21, both of Benton Harbor.

Richard Theodore Rickers, 18, and Karen Ann Rody, 17, both of St. Joseph.

Lester William Hornbaker, 43, Buchanan, and Margaret Ann Kuch, 28, Galien.

PUBLIC NOTICE

STATE OF MICHIGAN BEFORE THE MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

Case No. U-4985
In the matter of the proceedings on the Commission's own motion to inquire into the regulations and procedures of gas and electric utilities pertaining to centrally metered customers, including reselling customers, and to provide for appropriate standards and rates for centrally metered gas and electric utility service.

The Michigan Public Service Commission has initiated a general inquiry into centrally metered utility services and the resale of such utility services.

Among the issues to be investigated by the Commission are:

1. The appropriate rate under which service should be rendered to centrally metered customers where the ultimate consumption is for residential use.

2. Problems related to requirements that reselling customers sell utility service to ultimate consumers at the same rate applicable to customers of the same class who are direct customers of utilities.

3. The revenue impacts on utilities of any revision of current rate patterns for centrally metered or resale service.

4. Problems related to enforcement by utilities of standards of service requirements on reselling customers which are conditions of service to such customers.

5. Means of providing for continuity of service to tenants of reselling customers where a reselling customer may be in violation of Commission rule, Commission-approved utility rule or the Michigan Gas Safety Code.

6. Tenant service continuity problems and possible financial consequences to utilities in case of abandonment of utility service distribution systems by centrally metered or reselling customers.

7. Rights and obligations of reselling customers and their tenants and extent of Commission jurisdiction, if any related thereto.

The Commission plans to hold public hearings for the purpose of receiving evidence relevant to achieving the objectives of equitable rate structures, rate classifications and fair service standards for centrally metered utility services. Such public hearings will be conducted in three phases as follows:

PHASE I — Public hearings to receive submissions and comments from interested individuals, associations or others to be held in Flint, Grand Rapids, Farmington Hills and Lansing.

PHASE II — Public hearings in Lansing to receive and to provide opportunity for cross-examination of evidence and testimony from utilities, parties who formally intervene under Rule 11 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Commission and the Staff.

PHASE III — Evidentiary or administrative type hearings as may be necessary in the Commission's judgment concerning the rate schedules or service rules of particular utilities or possible revisions thereof. Such hearings would be separately noticed.

Public hearings in Phase I of this inquiry to receive comments and submissions of interested centrally metered customers, reselling customers, landlords, ultimate consumers, tenants, mobile home associations, condominium associations, state or local governmental agencies or others interested in the issues set forth herein will be held at the following locations, dates and times:

(1) On the Orchard Ridge Campus, Oakland County Community College, "J" Building, Room 293, 27055 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington Hills on January 22, 1976 commencing at 1:30 P.M. and 7:30 P.M.

(2) In the first floor auditorium of the Law Building at 525 W. Ottawa in Lansing on January 26, 1976 commencing at 1:30 P.M. and 7:30 P.M.

(3) In the City Council Chambers, City Hall, 1101 South Saginaw, Flint on January 27, 1976 commencing at 1:30 P.M. and 7:30 P.M.

(4) In the City Commission Chambers, 9th Floor, City Hall, 300 Monroe Street, N.W., Grand Rapids on January 28, 1976 commencing at 1:30 P.M. and 7:30 P.M.

Public hearings in Phase II of this inquiry to receive and provide for cross-examination of evidence and testimony from responding utilities, parties authorized to intervene under Rule 11 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Commission and the Staff be held in the Commission offices of the Law Building at 525 W. Ottawa in Lansing commencing at 9:30 A.M. on February, 1976 and continuing thereafter as necessary in accordance with schedules to be established by the presiding Administrative
